KU Election Change Slated

High school voting and elections will follow regular city procedure from now on, starting with the 31 issues to be voted on Friday, according to Bill Southwell, student body president.

Southwell and Lou Ann Case, student body secretary, consulted with faculty advisors, Mrs. Exene Humble and Wendell Smith and with Charles DeLap and Sheriff Lloyd Low on correct procedure in following Oregon election laws as closely as possible.

Voting will be held Friday during study hall periods.

The school will be divided into four precincts, one for each class. Each precinct will be handled by a board of five members and a counting board.

The purpose of this procedure is three-fold, says Southwell. It puts the voting entirely in the hands of students and trains them in correct balloting procedure and how to handle election boxes.

Booths and ballot boxes have been loaned by the county through the generosity of DeLap and Sheriff Low, Southwell said.

Scout To Get Eagle Award

Bill Brandsness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmar C. Brandsness of 845 California, will receive the Eagle rank, highest award in Boy Scouting, at a court of honor scheduled for Wednesday, January 21.

Dr. Richard Curtin, advancement chairman of Boy Scouts, will preside over the session. He said today that the court of honor will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Fremont school auditorium.

Other Boy Scouts will receive awards and ranks in addition to young Brandsness, who is a member of Scout troop 16, sponsored by Sacred Heart Catholic church. Bill Ely is the troop leader.

A brief special program is being planned in addition to the award ceremonies.

Auto Wreck Fine Given

James R. Davis, 30, of the S. 6th auto courts, was fined $30 and sentenced to 10 days in the city jail this morning as a result of an automobile accident late yesterday at East Main and Radcliffe. He was charged with reckless driving and having no operator's license.

The jail stay was ordered suspended on provision that Davis pay the damage to the other car involved, owned by Joe Matlick, 921 East Main.

Also arrested at the same time was William Childers, 62, of 1235 Adams, charged with allowing an unlicensed person to operate his car. He was owner of the car Davis was driving. Childers pleaded guilty and paid a $5 fine.

First '48 Ascent Of Mt. Hood Made

PORTLAND, Jan. 14 (AP)—The first 1948 ascent of Mount Hood was made Tuesday and forest service officials said today they felt relief—since climbers seeking "first" honors sometimes are caught in one of the frequent winter storms.

Those making the ascent were Jim Ralph and Ole Lien of the forest service and Barbara Quimby, Portland. When they left Timberline lodge the temperature was 16 degrees. At the summit it was 42. They made the trip in 12 hours, from 3 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Navy Flight Group Taking Training

SEATTLE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Seventy navy warplanes from air carrier group No. 5, San Diego, began a two-month Pacific Northwest training tour today, 13th naval district officials announced.

The group, which arrived at Sand Point naval air station yesterday, includes fighters, dive-bombers and torpedo-bombers.

They will train at Sand Point, Whidby Island and Tillamook, Ore., before returning to duty with the Pacific fleet.

Jury To Hear Real Estate Case

The regular jury trial panel is called to be in circuit court tomorrow at 10 a. m. to begin trial of a lawsuit brought by J. W. Sanders, local real estate agent, against J. E. Whitlatch.

The suit involves a commission of $1075 allegedly due Sanders on the sale of a $21,500 ranch owned by Whitlatch in 1946 and listed for sale by Sanders.

This trial will be the first before a jury on the new circuit court docket. The county grand jury is called for session Monday morning, January 19.

Bang's Disease Program Outlined

ASTORIA, Jan. 14 (AP)—Oregon dairymen considered a specific program for eradicating brucellosis (Bang's disease) today as the 54th annual meeting of the association continued.

The program was suggested yesterday by W. O. Christensen of North Powder, association president, in his annual address.

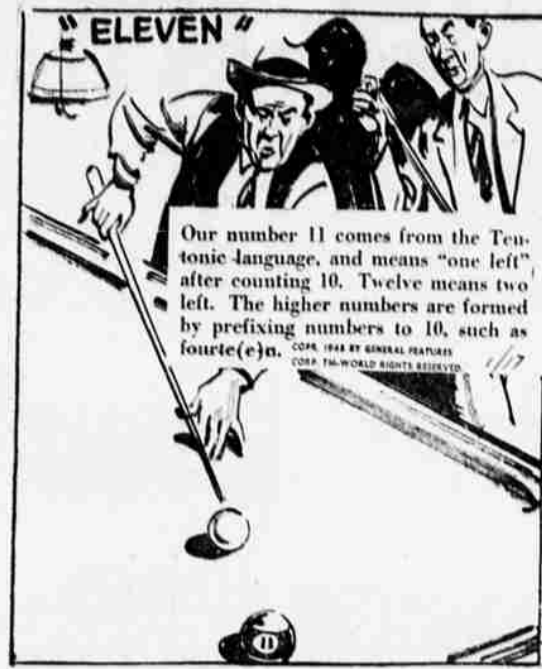

Other matters on the program were sales promotion and public relations.

Yesterday afternoon delegates divided into groups for various cattle club sessions.

There is no official listing of discussion of the Oregon milk control board, but reports were current that it might be injected into the meeting under the convention's close.

Opossums, skunks, cats, dogs, hogs and even rats will eat snakes.

New Members Of Tribal Business Group Show Up But Swearing-In Stalled

KLAMATH AGENCY, Jan. 14 (AP)—All four new members of the Klamath Indian tribal business committee were present at Klamath Agency Tuesday to be sworn into office, but the swearing-in ceremony was not held.

The new members, elected in December, are Joseph Ball, Wade Crawford, Ida Crawford and June Poltras.

Mrs. Crawford said that "J. S. Monks, acting superintendent of the reservation, but 'not in charge,' advised us that Superintendent B. G. Courtright, on leave but 'still in charge,' had instructed him not to swear in any members of the business committee."

He said that "only the officers needed to be sworn in." Mrs. Crawford said, and refused to perform the ceremony for the four new members, who are not officers. No officers of the tribal business committee have been chosen.

Mrs. Crawford quoted Monks as saying, "I discussed this with Mr. Courtright early this morning and was advised the officers were to be elected first and then sworn in before the business committee could function."

Monks said he would swear in only the officers. Mrs. Crawford said, and also told the newly-elected committee members that all members of the committee must be present before it could function.

"That is absolutely contrary to the by-laws of the business committee," Mrs. Crawford declared, "which provide that five of the eight members form a quorum."

Two old members of the committee, Wade Crawford and Jesse Lee Kirk, are also tribal delegates to congress and are in Washington, D. C., now, while the other two, Dice Crane and James Johnson are still in the county. They were not at Klamath Agency this morning.

Rationing Demand Seen By Anderson

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—U. S. Agriculture Secretary Anderson forecasts a reinstatement of rationing by popular demand by April or May of this year.

"I predict that the people will demand rationing, at least by meat by April, or certainly by May," Anderson told a reporter at a meeting of Pennsylvania farmers last night where he was a guest speaker.

Anderson, earlier yesterday, asked congress for power to clamp wholesale price ceilings on meat.

The secretary told the farmers that demands on American agriculture under the Marshall plan will continue "at very high levels," and called for "top production to meet these demands."

Uranium Discovered In Eastern Burma

RANGOON, Burma, Jan. 14 (AP)—Dr. Oo Hia, secretary of the government-sponsored Council of Burma Industries, said today large quantities of thorium and uranium had been discovered in Central and Eastern Burma. The elements are used in making atom bombs.

Oo Hia said the minerals were present in large quantities in the Myingyan district adjoining the Central Burmese oil fields, in Karenni state and in the Thaton district near the Siamese border.

Americans Rush To Put In Their Pet Hates, Too

By HAL BOYLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The only guy I know of in America who boasts nothing ever annoys him is Herman the Hermit.

Recently I wrote a list of pet peeves—minor vexations that put friction in daily living—and invited readers to send in theirs.

Well, it turned out practically everybody had some small dislike to toss into the scrap pile of things we can do without and never miss.

All except Herman. I don't know anything about Herman except that he lives at Los Gatos, Calif.

"I don't have any irritations, you see, because I am Herman the Hermit," he wrote blithely.

But this landmark in human contentment, this happy apostle of the frown-free life, stands out like a cheerful canary in a flock of somber crackles.

All the others clipped in with their favorite blood pressure raisers, and the census showed:

(1) What annoys men most is women.

(2) What annoys women is men—and other women, too.

A gentleman in Tucson, Ariz., and a lady in Seattle both wrote that they couldn't tolerate women who use toothpicks in public. "B" movies and radio crime programs.

A cross-section of the letters revealed that the favorite pet hate from coast-to-coast, the one most agree is the biggest pest in American life, is none other than our old friend—
