

Kramer Finds Pro Tennis Tough Grind

Jack'll Probably Make $100,000 In Bout With Riggs

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (NEA)—After the soft amateur life, Jack Kramer finds professional tennis a tough grind—a sort of bustling nightmare featuring hasty meals, dashing for trains and smoke-fogged lights.

"And you might add I've discovered the toughest competition of my life in Bobby Riggs," he added. "At times when I'm dead tired I wonder whether it is worth it."

"But one day's rest and a moment's reflection on the old bank account quickly banish all doubt."

That bank account, according to promoter Jack Harris, will pass the guaranteed $50,000 by the end of March. It probably will go above $100,000 before the year is out.

It is extremely simple, admits Kramer, to remain enthusiastic when contemplating such gorgeous figures.

Kramer and Riggs returned to the New York metropolitan area for appearances at White Plains and Jamaica even at six matches apiece. Riggs had taken the last two in Boston and New Haven after Kramer held a 6-4 lead.

LIGHTS BOTHER KRAMER
Kramer snorts at any suggestion that the boys like to remain in a neck-and-neck struggle.

"Riggs would beat me seven nights a week if he could, and I'd love to hand him the same treatment," asserted the recent amateur king. "We can't stop people from thinking otherwise, but such thoughts are insane. You might recall Riggs led Judge 12 matches to 1 when they first went on tour. That should be answer enough."

After three weeks on the road, Kramer looked great. He still weighs around 167, and he hasn't developed a single blister such as once cost him the Wimbledon singles. He had a bad cold, but beat it.

"I find I have to eat a lot more than I did as an amateur," he explained. "It's mostly between-meal stuff and egg nog before going to bed."

"That doesn't bother me, but sometimes the lights do."

"That's where Riggs has an advantage."

"Being new to this indoor game, I frequently find it hard to follow the ball."

"Nothing bothers Bobby."

"He practically can see in the dark."

WEARY BUT WON
Kramer said he was pretty weary when he had to play Riggs six times in six days. But weary or otherwise, he won five of the six.

Heading south in an automobile, he looked forward to an easier future.

In his first 32 appearances the show cracked as many cash records as established new attendance marks in every city except Boston.

Informed that Bill Tilden rapped him in his new book for talking about players he never saw play, Kramer professed pleasure.

"Bill is wrong, but it's a good break for me. If he puts you on the back it's your downfall."

Further informed that Riggs said he was too smart for Kramer because the latter couldn't handle a change of pace, the young Californian became somewhat annoyed.

"Riggs is full of hot air," he snorted. "I've just had a little trouble with passing shots and the lights."

"Riggs thinks he has a corner on the country's best tennis brains, a theory I shall do my best to remedy."

"Honestly, I wouldn't carry him one match for my full guarantee doubled."

Reservation Split
SPRAGUE RIVER, Jan. 23—Reservation teams got an even break here last night in Klamath Basin Basketball league games. Klamath Agency edging Keno in a thriller, 42-41, and Sprague River losing to Dorris, 46-34.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

LOCKE, HOGAN FAVORED OVER PHOENIX COURSE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23 (AP)—Almost a dozen visitors from foreign countries were on hand here today as the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament started over the flat, tree-lined Phoenix Country club course.

Canada had the largest delegation among the 150 golfers who teed off in the first round of the three-day, 72-hole grind over the 6578-yard layout with four players.

But South Africa's Bobby Locke was the best known of the visitors, sharing favorites' honors with Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the winner of the last two tournaments here.

The Canadians were Stan Leonard and Ben Cok of Vancouver and Doug McKeller and Bob Gray of Toronto. Along with Locke, South Africa was represented by Amateur Reg Taylor.

These, along with Hogan, Locke, National Open Champion, Lew Worsham and Professional Golfers association titleholder, Jim Ferrier, and many others, were overhauled in yesterday's pro-amateur warmup by Dale Anderson of Glenview, Ill., who turned in a neat 34-36-64 to tie the competitive record for the course and snatch low pro honors for the day. He registered five birdies on the back nine in recording the seven-under-par figures.

Anti-Tank Mine Dump Blows Up
SAVANNA, Ill., Jan. 23 (AP)—A violent explosion of 150 tons of anti-tank mines in an underground ammunition dump at the army's big ordnance depot near here Wednesday night shook a wide section of three states and shattered windows in several communities, some 50 miles away. There were no casualties.

Tremors were felt in a 100-mile wide radius of Northwestern Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Eastern Iowa following the blast about 9 p. m. which made a hole 100 feet wide and 50 feet deep.

California GOP's Push Eisenhower
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23 (AP)—A group of California Republicans seek to place Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name on the state's June primary ballot against Gov. Earl Warren.

The Eisenhower supporters announced yesterday filing of articles of incorporation under the name of "Man of the Hour, Inc."

The leaders include Assemblyman G. Delbert Morris and former democratic assemblyman, Maurice Atkinson, now a registered republican. Atkinson said the organization is "not anti-Warren."

Supreme Court "Not Honest"
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) said Wednesday he believes a majority of the present supreme court "is not judicially honest."

"I don't have any confidence in the supreme court, and I don't think the bar of this country has," Eastland said.

He commented during a senate judiciary subcommittee hearing on the constitutionality of federal anti-lynching legislation. Eastland contended there is no need for such legislation, saying:

"I think time has cured it, we don't have any lynchings now."

Quimet Asks PGA Return To Golf Code

USGA Rules Being Ignored In Favor Of Sharper Game

NEW YORK, (NEA)—Francis Quimet, retiring as one of the nation's leading golf officials, demands that the Professional Golfers association quit tampering with the rules, and adopt the United States Golf association code for the good of the game.

Quimet stresses the fact that golf can't stand two masters.

Members of the British Ryder Cup team, on their trip to Portland, Ore., in November, couldn't believe that the PGA made exceptions to the USGA code, such as permitting 16 instead of 14 clubs, allowing the use of chipping irons that had been tempered with, etc.

The English pros wouldn't think of violating the royal and ancient rules.

The stay of the pros on the California money circuit was brief, with the Richmond Open the last of three, the other two being the Los Angeles Open and Bing Crosby's $10,000 party at Pebble Beach. After Phoenix and Tucson, there will be two tournaments in Texas—at San Antonio and Harlingen—then New Orleans and Florida, where the money men start with the St. Petersburg Open in mid-February.

OPPOSE CALCUTTA POOLS
Palm Beach Seminole's membership event this year pays $10,000 in cash prizes and undisclosed sums to the winning pros from the men who own them in the big Calcutta pool.

Under its new president, Shep Barnes, New York's Metropolitan Golf association is going to campaign actively against large Calcutta pools, by the way.

Hoping to revive its long-defunct Met Open, the Metropolitan association contrived to raise $10,000, but was perfunctorily told by the PGA to get up $15,000.

So it was abandoned, but for good, by the New York golfing fathers.

The Goodall Round-Robin, which is going to be held in New York exclusively this year, has been allotted May 2-6 by the PGA, and that isn't a particularly good time to be holding four-day tournaments in the Metropolitan area. Half of the Goodall event was held in Boston last year, over Labor Day, and members do not want to give up their courses at that time.

TURNESA TO FLORIDA
Willie Turnesa, British amateur championship winner over Dick Chapman last summer, has entered the St. Augustine championship of golf club champions, February 16-21.

The college-bred star of the famous Turnesa brothers qualities as a former titleholder at Knollwood of White Plains, N. Y.

He hasn't competed in the membership title event for several years. Too good.

1948 Chevrolet Announced

This picture of the 1948 Chevrolet Fleetmaster model shows the over-all simplicity and massiveness of the new cars, due to be shown here soon.

'48 Chevrolet Due Soon

DETROIT, Jan. 23.—The new 1948 Chevrolet models, incorporating design changes dictated by a minimum change-over period in order to insure high production flow, were announced here today and will be on display at most Chevrolet dealers throughout the country during the next few days.

The 11 models in three series all feature a re-designed radiator grille, pleasing new color harmonies in interior upholstery, and engine changes providing a more rigid crankshaft and more durable bearings.

The three series of the new models are the superlatively styled Fleetline, in two body types featuring low, sweeping contours; the de luxe Fleetmaster, with five body styles including a cabriolet and a station wagon; and the Stylemaster, offering unusual refinements in the economy price range. All models feature bodies by Fisher, exclusive in the low-price class.

The re-designed front-end grille has been changed by the addition of a modernistic T-shaped chrome center bar which extends upward to the base of the Chevrolet name plate on the top horizontal grille bar.

The smooth, over-all contours of the front end and sides of the car, achieved through omission of horizontal moldings on the hood and side of the body, are retained in the 1948 models. Fenders, hood, body and door panels all blend in form and color, presenting an overall appearance of simplicity and massiveness in the entire car.

In the early days of the Oregon territory, covered wagon trains took as much as six months to come from the head of the Old Oregon Trail at Independence, Missouri, to the Willamette valley where Oregon's first settlements began. In part the trail followed U. S. Highway 30 across Oregon. Oregon's territorial centennial this year emphasizes the progress of a century. A fast airplane can fly to Independence in less than six hours.
