

Bradley Formally Nominated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—President Truman today formally nominated Gen. Omar Bradley as army chief of staff to succeed Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

He sent the nomination to the senate which must approve it before Bradley can take the army's top post.

The White House did not specify the date on which Bradley will take over the duties. The nomination was made effective simply on the date of his being sworn in.

There have been reports that Eisenhower wanted to leave about February 15.

To Columbia
Eisenhower, who withdrew last week from a possible presidential race, is to take over the presidency of Columbia university after a rest.

Mr. Truman had made known months ago that Bradley was his choice to succeed Eisenhower.

Now 51, Bradley has been chief of the veterans administration but left that post two months ago. During the war, he commanded the 12th army group in Europe.

Bradley has been a long-time advocate of universal military training and one of his jobs as chief of staff is expected to be that of selling this idea to congress. It is among the legislation President Truman asked in his state-of-the-union message.

Oregon Student Dies In Crash

POND DU LAC, Wis., Jan. 26 (AP)—William Humphreys, 19, a University of Wisconsin student from Eugene, Ore., and his fiancée, Katherine Gronauski, 19, Milwaukee, were killed today when their car hit a culvert on a highway 11 miles north of here.

The impact pushed the automobile's motor into the front seat and the car caught fire.

Miss Gronauski, a student at Mount Mary college here, and Humphreys were en route to Two Rivers, Wis. Her father, John, is a teacher there.

Humphreys and Miss Gronauski were to be married soon.

Rail Officials Probe Crash

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26 (AP)—Officials of the Santa Fe railroad began an investigation today to determine what caused a 600,000-pound diesel locomotive to overshoot the station yard at Union terminal yesterday, break through a concrete wall and narrowly miss plunging 20 feet to a street below.

Engineer F. A. Hurst said the powerful, streamlined locomotive had just brought the El Capitan passenger train in from Chicago and was heading for the roundhouse. "It just didn't stop," he said.

The engine rolled across a 12-foot roadway and tore through a foot-wide concrete parapet before coming to rest with a third of its leading power unit hanging out over Aliso street 20 feet below. It was moving at an estimated speed of two to three miles an hour at the time of the mishap.

Ranch Style Home Shows Trend Of Modern Building

By JOY BIGGS

A new feature of The Herald and News, starting today, is a series of modern homes now under construction or recently completed in Klamath Falls and vicinity, showing the trend of present day architecture.

The style for residential buildings changes with the times as do the styles for women's clothes. As homes become more comfortable and convenient, however, they maintain more variety of design, following the whim of the owner or architect.

While the "new look" in homes seems to stress the long, one-story, streamlined affairs they are by no means exclusive. On a picture taking tour of homes Wes Guderian, H & N photographer, snapped some of Cape Cod architecture, the hugle-ground type and one of unique, ultra-modern design.

Vernon Moore and his family—wife, son and daughter, own the rambling ranch style home completed January 3, on the Merrill highway, which is featured today.

This 108-foot long building is one story high and one room wide and has no basement. The double garage and workshop occupy one end of the shallow L-shaped building.

Dolly Varden clear pendants sliding, sawed rough-side out, cedar-stained, is used for the exterior. A "hip" roof with a 56-inch overhang covers the building. Thermo-pana glass which admits the violet rays of the sun is used for the windows of the living-dining room which is 17 by 28 feet. These windows are directly opposite each other so that one can look right through the living room from outside and the room has plenty of light and view. These windows will not steam up. A huge fireplace with a 30 by 48-inch fire box covers one end of the room. This and one of the bedrooms has a wall finish of Mexican mahogany paneling.

There are three bedrooms and bath on the north side, the kitchen is extra large with all modern conveniences and there is a roomy utility space and a cooler.

Sheldon Brumbaugh, architect, drew the plans for this home.

Goodyear Builds Test Mattresses

AKRON, O., Jan. 26 (AP)—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber company reported today that it was producing 200 specially constructed mattresses to be used in the army's survival test operation in Alaska this winter.

Similar to the conventional air mattress in some respects, they will be made of special rubber compounds that remain resilient at 70 below zero temperatures, the company said.
