luncheon, then the tea in the afternoon where she met several hundred Klamath county women, then to the dinner that night and catching the train for home. We are sure Mrs. Hall made many friends while she was here. She is young, attractive, meets people easily and in all the hub-bub and a sea of new faces was gracious and serene. We hope she comes back.

The neat little log cabin, which centered the speaker's table at the Lincoln Day dinner Thursday night, was made entirely by hand and was the clever work of Mrs. W. D. Miller's fingers.

There was plenty of "new look" at the tea given for Mrs. Hall, too. Lots of spring prints and two with pretty dresses were Dorothy Shaw and Eleanor Ehlers. Eleanor was busy passing the guest book which was later presented with all signatures of tea and banquet guests to the Halls.

The Klamath Falls contingent, sunning themselves in Hawaii, are due back—most of them—in late February. They plan to sail the 16th from Honolulu and with them will come Mrs. Prentice Yeomans who has been in the Islands since last August. A card from Mrs. William Yates tells of a "luau" or Hawaiian feast, with all the other Klamath folks who seemed to be having a whirl, including some deep sea fishing and sailing.

Visiting here this week-end, Mrs. Scott Milligan of Longview, Wash. She's the former Elizabeth Graham of our town and is here with her sister and brothers, Mrs. Harvey Borgman, Howard and Herbert Graham, before going on to Grants Pass to visit her mother, Mrs. Earl Barron.

The John Shaws left all in a flutter and a snow storm last Wednesday for their new home at Redding. While Carol was up to her eyebrows in packing and doing all the last minute things attendant to a house-moving job, John was recovering from a bad case of flu, there were farewells for Betty and a cake to be presented to Susie's kindergarten class at the last minute.

News from other Shaws. It's a son, Scott Douglas, for Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Shaw (Patricia Gallagher), at Keizer hospital in North Bend. This is their second child, the Shaws having a very fine little daughter, Stephanie. Scott made his appearance on February 10, just one day ahead of Mama's birthday. The Shaws are living on Myrtle Crest Lane in Coos Bay. Mrs. Francis R. Olds, Pat's mother, plans to go over for the first look at a later date. The Shaws moved to Coos Bay from Portland several months ago when Bob took a job with the First National bank there.

Mrs. William Sweetman and young son Eric have probably arrived in Norway by this time as they sailed from New York on January 20 to join Dr. Sweetman who is studying there for the coming year. Mrs. Sweetman is the former Maxine Peterson, daughter of the Fred Petersons.

Two fathers who will spend this week-end on the University of Oregon campus with their daughters in observance of Dad's Day are Dr. James M. Hilton and Dr. Dean H. Osborn. Dr. Hilton has been in Portland and will swing back by way of Eugene to be with Jean, and Jr. Osborn leaves by train this week-end to be met by Barbara.

Meeting Day

Cascade Wonderland division 258, Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, opened its meeting day February 4 with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Robert Ford, 2145 Reclamation, for officers and a guest, Mrs. Dagmar Cardwell of Oakland, Calif., grand division vice president. Assisting Mrs. Ford were Mrs. B. E. Miller and Mrs. Arthur Kelley. Other officers who attended were Mrs. Jack Dunne, Mrs. Robert Grey, Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. L. E. Hubbard and Mrs. A. A. Myers. Mrs. Cardwell was presented with a picture of Crater lake as a memento of her visit to the Klamath country. At 6:30 that evening a banquet was held at the Winema hotel, and the regular business meeting, held in the KC hall, was opened at 8:30 by the vice president, Mrs. Arthur Kelley, in the absence of Mrs. W. C. Milkey, president. Four members were initiated at this time, Mrs. M. R. Messer, Mrs. O. C. Balentine, Mrs. J. O. Soder and Mrs. J. W. Ward, the last named receiving the special award given at each meeting.

The charter is now closed, with a membership of 30. Following the business session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Arthur Kelley, Mrs. Robert Ford and Mrs. John Turner to the 19 members and one guest present. The Valentine motif was used for the tables and individual Valentine cakes marked places.

OBSERVING their golden wedding anniversary February 1 were Mr. and Mrs. John Marin of 2242 Home. They celebrated the occasion with open house for their family and friends at their home.

Anniversary

On Sunday, February 1, Mr. and Mrs. John Marin of 2242 Home, celebrated their golden wedding with open house at their home for their friends and four of their seven children. Married in Park Rapids, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Marin came to Oregon 21 years ago and have lived in the Klamath region for a number of years. Of their children, Neil lives in Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. A. W. Edstrom in Two Harbors, Minn., and Mrs. A. C. McComber in Phoenix, Ariz. Here for the golden anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Don

Church Nuptials Read On Saturday

Peace Memorial Presbyterian church was the scene of a wedding on Saturday evening, when Mrs. Blanche Dickson of Klamath Falls exchanged vows with Ernest Lynn Hill of Centralia, Wash.

The service was read by Rev. Hugh T. Mitchellmore before close friends and relatives of the couple.

Mrs. Mitchellmore played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. D. W. Pease and Barbara Dickson, who sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. W. E. Buck was matron of honor. Jimmie and Ronald Pease were ushers, and David Pease and Robert Tillman lighted candles before the ceremony. Best man was Fred Soules.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of navy with a corsage of pink carnations and navy accessories.

A reception was held at the bride's home, 1821 Dayton. Mrs. E. H. Tillman and Mrs. A. R. Dickson were hostesses. Eva Dickson was in charge of the guest book, and assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Fred Soules and Mrs. Floyd Breckenridge. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will remain in

Social Club

A Valentine meeting and party were held by members of the Eastern Star Social club February 6 at the Masonic temple.

Attending for the first time were Mrs. Hugh Swaney, Mrs. Alfred T. Huntington, Mrs. Linn Miles and Jane Howell.

The tea table carried out a Val-
