Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the American Medical Association's Council on Physical Therapy. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it to yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. Cascade

CASCADE SUMMIT, Feb. 12—Gilbert Burgess has just arrived from the Aleutians to visit his old friends, Manager and Mrs. O. O. Bowers at Odell Summit lodge, and then will be on his way to Laredo, Tex., where his mother and brother run an upholstery business. It took exactly one week to the day for Burgess to fly from the Aleutians to Seattle and thence by train to Cascade Summit. When he leaves for Laredo, Burgess expects to make a loop through Mexico to arrive at his destination. Local residents stared with wide-eyed amazement when a stranger detrained with bag and baggage from No. 19 and stood in the knee-deep snow nonchalantly dressed in light tweeds and street shoes, while they were dressed and bundled up in heavy snow clothes. Didn't blink their eyes any more when they learned it was Gilbert Burgess just back from a six months stay in the Aleutians.

The Southern Pacific's snow spreader was working in Cascade Summit yard, February 19, pushing snow back from the track when suddenly the snow proved a bulwark of strength and resisted the spreader arm causing one car to derail. This incident occurred near the mouth of the tunnel which gained prominence a few years back when Ripley's Believe It or Not column described it as the only tunnel in the world having but one entrance and exit yet has a double track and is a dead end. An engine can go in the entrance on one track and come out the same entrance on another track going in an opposite direction. It didn't take very long for the derailment to be cleared up as soon as the track was located and the wheels put back in place.

Manager O. O. Bowers of Odell Summit lodge entertained a few friends and some customers with slides and color films taken on his many travels.

Jack Fread's pneumonia haircut has caused quite a furor among the male contingent at the summit. Seems the wide open area from his collar up to his ears caused two other fellows to look in their own mirrors and immediately plan to entrain as quickly as possible for Klamath Falls, Oakridge or Eugene.
