The World Today

MOSCOW seems to have soft-pedaled temporarily the violent red tactics aimed at establishment of communist governments in Italy and France.

France Quiet FOR some weeks things have been relatively quiet in France after a long period of violence and disorganization due to bolshevik strong-arm methods.

No Armed Force THEN there's another point to which I called attention in yesterday's column. Bolshevist tactics which were possible in countries of Eastern Europe, under Russian military occupation, can't be used in Western Europe where the reds have no armed forces.

These Days BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY ARNOLD TOYNBEE, in his masterly study of civilization, places the United States in the western society, which is a civilization mainly of Roman Catholic and Protestant Christians living in the area that was once the Roman Empire in Europe.

Holiday Set George Washington's birthday, February 22, falling on a Sunday, will be observed as a holiday on Monday by various business houses and office buildings in Klamath Falls.

Money Asked For Vanport School WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—An appropriation of not more than $130,000 to rebuild the high school building in Vanport, Ore., which was damaged by fire last month, is provided in a bill introduced by Rep. Angel (R-Ore.).

Money Asked For Vanport School (continued) Several old papers, recording the death of George Washington, have been reported to the Herald and News. One is owned by Roy K. La Prairie of the Merrill highway, another by Harold Clinton of Tulelake.

Money Asked For Vanport School (continued) What probably happened is that these societies reached a state where they had nothing to live for. They had lost their ideals. They had forgotten their goals. They had left themselves without beliefs, faiths or hopes. And so they died. It is something to think about in this extraordinarily vulgar and confused era.

ern peoples tend toward an acceptance of democracy, which Toynbee, in his "A Study of History," describes "as a short title for responsible parliamentary representative government in a sovereign independent national state." Despotism does not long thrive among these peoples, although occasionally they recede into that condition.

Primary Concern PERSONAL liberty thus became the primary concern of the early American. He was forced by circumstances of a pioneer existence, and later as an isolated farmer or woodsman or hunter or rancher in sparsely populated areas.

Primary Concern (continued) This passion for individual liberty is the distinctive characteristic of American civilization, where a classless society recognized the rights neither of majorities nor minorities, of political parties nor of aristocracies of birth or wealth or intelligence but only the rights of one individual, who stood before God and the law, alone responsible for his conduct.

Primary Concern (continued) Up to 1833, no one seriously questioned this doctrine of the rights of the individual. Since then, we have been discussing group rights, majority and minority rights. Such a phrase has crept into our language as "human rights," by which is meant something nebulous different from the rights of the individual.

Primary Concern (continued) These departures of the American concept of the place of the individual in American life became associated with an emphasis on the Marxian class struggle ("one-third of the nation") and with class hatred ("princes of plenty"). It was exploited politically to produce and prolong war.

Primary Concern (continued) To return to Toynbee, he calls attention to the existence, in 6,000 years of history, of 21 civilizations of which seven remain today in competition for survival.

Primary Concern (continued) However, strikes and political strife and politico-economic sabotage will continue as a prelude to the ultimate all-out effort to establish Soviet regimes.

Primary Concern (continued) Of this we may be sure: the communists will go all-out to prevent the Marshall plan from working. If they can't do this through control of the French and Italian governments, then most assuredly strong-arm methods will be employed.

Primary Concern (continued) Arnold Toynbee, in his masterly study of civilization, places the United States in the western society, which is a civilization mainly of Roman Catholic and Protestant Christians living in the area that was once the Roman Empire in Europe.

Primary Concern (continued) Both the courthouse and city hall will be closed, the city council which usually meets on Monday nights, will have a regular meeting on Tuesday night; the employment office, navy office but not the army, will close.

Primary Concern (continued) Several old papers, recording the death of George Washington, have been reported to the Herald and News. One is owned by Roy K. La Prairie of the Merrill highway, another by Harold Clinton of Tulelake.

don't forget to listen to Theatre Guild's "The Far-Off Hills," starring a bunch of people I never heard of before.

This program seems to be one of the most popular air dramatizations (with the King in my immediate vicinity anyway) and I'm partial to the crime-don't-pay kind with lots of blood 'n' thunder, guns, clues and criminal psychology.

LW tries to please its listeners, so what kind of programs do you like? We'll never know unless you tell us.

NEW BOAT WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The coast guard said today it has a new 200-foot ice-breaker that plowed through fields of solid ice 36 inches deep, and windrows of broken ice 25 feet deep in tests on the Great Lakes. It has propellers at both ends.

Boyle's Column Robert Young (The Actor) Is On His Way Up, Too NEW YORK (AP)—At last I have found out the difference between Robert Young, the movie actor, and Robert R. Young, the railroad man and financier.

Robert R. Young (in a navel) bought control of the Allegheny Corp., a holding company, the difference between him and Robert Young (actor) was 240 corporations.

Meanwhile Robert Young (actor) has organized his own film producing company—Cavalier Productions, leaving him now only 79 corporations behind Robert R. Young (financier).

I had lunch the other day with Robert Young (actor), Mrs. Young, and Eugene Rodney, co-producer with the film star in their independent company.

They have just completed their initial picture, "Relentless," a horse opera in technicolor starring Young, a colt and a lady. This is about the 80th picture in which Young has played but it is the first under his own aegis.

Editor's Note: Boyle is wool gathering again today. Nobody in Hollywood ever had an Aegis. It's an ancient Greek shield, shaggy and adorned with golden tassels.

"I have played in a couple of westerns before," Bob said. "But this is the first time I have been so close to the horse." The Youngs are a pleasant couple, happily married for many years, and have co-starred in four productions of their own—all daughters.

Mrs. Young is red-haired, cheerful and has been trying for some time to read "Peace of Mind." She misses the children and has a wan expression.

Pump Plants To Be Under Way Soon

Construction of six pumping plants by George R. Stacy of Tulelake for the bureau of reclamation in the Copeck bay area will begin in a little over a month, as soon as the probability of severe winter weather is past.

The six pumping plants are an essential part of the irrigation development of the Copeck bay area for homesteading, according to USBR engineers. They will raise water from the present ditches up to higher laterals which will in turn irrigate the land beyond the reach of the present ditches.

The pumping plants will be of concrete construction with from one to three pumping units per plant. The construction of the inlets and outlet transitions will also be included in the contract. Two of the plants will have the motors and control equipment fully housed, while the remaining will be of open weatherproof construction.

Stacy has been operating in the Klamath Falls area for the past three years. This is his fourth construction contract with the bureau of reclamation on the Klamath project.

The Gallup Poll Sex Behavior Report Gets Much Praise

By GEORGE GALLUP Director, American Institute of Public Opinion PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 20—Dr. A. C. Kinsey's much-talked-about report on human sex behavior has won widespread approval from the American people. By a ratio of 3-to-1, those with opinions vote that it is a good thing, rather than a bad thing, to have this information on sex available.

Dr. Kinsey, a professor of Indiana university, and his associates have spent nearly ten years gathering data on the sex habits of the population. The first of a series of reports was issued recently in the form of a book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male."

To test the reaction of the country toward this sort of study the institute polled a cross-section from coast to coast on two questions. The first was designed to find out how many had heard or read about Dr. Kinsey's book. Results showed that 20 per cent, or one person in every five, has heard about the book, which was published less than two months ago.

All persons in the poll, whether they had heard about the Kinsey report or not, were then asked this question: "Dr. A. C. Kinsey has completed a nine-year study on the sex behavior of males in this country. Do you think it is a good thing or a bad thing to have this information on sex available?"

The vote: Good thing 57%, Bad thing 11%, Qualified 32%. No opinion 8%.

The principal qualifications expressed by the 4 per cent were "good, but not for children to read," and "good if properly presented."

The survey found that both protestants and Catholics in the population express approval of the Kinsey study, although protestants are more in favor than Catholics are.

ST. HELENS, Ore., Feb. 21 (AP)—Police said today that Charles Noble Camp, 26, had confessed the slaying of Mrs. Zoe Carlson, 34, at Everett, Wash.

District Attorney W. W. Dillard said Camp signed a detailed statement on the strangulation of the woman, then was taken by Washington police to Everett.

The body of the widow, married five times, was found in an Everett hotel Wednesday.

Dillard said Camp admitted he picked up the woman in a tavern Tuesday and registered with her as a married couple at the hotel. Camp confessed strangling her after she protested his advances in the room. Dillard said.

With the statement, "I think I killed a woman in Washington," Camp gave himself up to a Scaupoose, Ore., minister Thursday. He then was brought to the county jail here where Dillard said he made the confession.
