

February Session Held by Orions

A miniature doll depicting George Washington with his little axe and cherry tree were attractive decorations at the regular meeting of Orions at the First Methodist church parlor, Tuesday evening, February 17.

At the business meeting, which opened after Mrs. Howard Holt led devotions, plans were made for a St. Patrick's Day party for husbands to be held at the next regular meeting, March 16.

Mrs. William Stolk, on behalf of the group, presented a gift to Mrs. Paul Lee, past president. Mrs. Lee in turn presented small gifts to her past cabinet and committee chairmen.

The showing of colored slides of Oregon scenes by Mrs. Chester Newton was the highlight of the evening.

Hostesses were Mrs. William Stolk, Mrs. Wendell Smith, Mrs. Richard Teater and Mrs. Charles Newton.

Members and guests present were Mrs. Paul Alexander, Mrs. Gilbert Walters, Mrs. Ray Buell, Mrs. W. L. Terwilliger, Mrs. William Reifuss, Mrs. Cy Baker, Mrs. S. F. Grubb, Mrs. Howard Holt, Mrs. E. L. Putnam, Mrs. F. L. O'Connell, Mrs. Arthur Wiggins, Mrs. Ray Ward, Mrs. Elfred Putnam, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Gerald Bevans, Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Gustave Hagglund, Mrs. H. E. Seideman, Mrs. C. L. Bauer, Mrs. Myron Murray, Mrs. Kenneth Lowell, Mrs. Ken Ulrich.

Mrs. Jerry Musselman, Mrs. C. G. Paddock, Mrs. Chester Newton, Mrs. Wendell B. Smith, Mrs. Richard Teater, Mrs. L. E. Juniper, Mrs. Cleo Dunlap, Mrs. Charles A. Finch, Mrs. John W. Weber, Mrs. William L. Wales Jr., Mrs. Warren D. Bennett, Mrs. Cecil L. Kollenborn, Mrs. Stanley Bechtel, Mrs. Paul A. Lee, Mrs. K. H. Samson, Mrs. Dale Throckmorton, Mrs. Jerry Thomas, Mrs. James N. Crane, Mrs. David L. Snyder, Mrs. Charles N. Thornton, Mrs. George E. Condry, Mrs. Fred Biehn, Mrs. C. Cummings, Mrs. Frank McCormack, Mrs. William Stolk and Mrs. John Perdell.

On Thursday afternoon, February 12 the circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met for dessert at 1:30. Mrs. E. L. Putnam of 1856 Huron was hostess to Ruth circle with 18 attending. Mrs. D. R. Stebbins conducted the business meeting. Mrs. A. W. Cowman had charge of the devotions and Mrs. George Casper and Mrs. John Yadon spoke on Lincoln and his life-work. Mrs. William Stolk, a visitor, joined the circle at this time. During the business session plans were made for a luncheon which the circle will serve at the next general meeting.

Mrs. Bruce Binkley of 1918 Huron entertained Esther circle. She was assisted by Mrs. Loy Barker. Mrs. Norman Saunders conducted the devotional service and Mrs. Dexter Elliott, chairman, presided over the business session. In accord with the day, poems and readings about Lincoln were given as part of the afternoon's program. Twenty members attended.

Mrs. Fred Bechtel and Mrs. Robert Emerson were hostesses in March. Mary circle met in the church parlors with Mrs. S. W. Moss and Mrs. M. Layman the hostesses. Mrs. Walter Herridon was in charge of the devotional service, and Mrs. Moss, chairman, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Victor Phillips was program chairman. Sixteen members attended. Mrs. Herndon and Mrs. M. G. Leslie will entertain the circle in March.

Mrs. J. C. Hunt was hostess to Martha circle and Mrs. Wallace Uerlings was the assisting hostess. There were 18 members present. Mrs. Hunt had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. John Riach, the devotions. For the next meeting of the circle, hostesses will be Mrs. Fred Cofer, assisted by Mrs. O'Connor.

The regular monthly meeting of Eulalona Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock, March 1, at the home of Mrs. Roland E. Wright, junior past regent, 635 Alameda street. Mrs. Robert Odell will be in charge of the program hour. She will tell about "The Life of a Klamath Pioneer Woman."

Mrs. Hugh T. Mitchelmore, chapter regent, reminds all committee chairmen that all yearly reports must be in on or before this date, as state chairman must file their reports to the state conference from the chapter reports, and the state conference of Oregon Daughters is scheduled for March 11 to 13, to be held in Salem.

Faculty Wives

OVS—Mrs. Francis McIntosh was elected president of the newly-organized Faculty Wives club at Oregon Vocational school. Serving with her will be Mrs. Steve Tyler, vice president, and Mrs. William Lieske, secretary-treasurer.

Twenty wives of faculty members attended the organization meeting. Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. John Dunn were elected to the welcoming committee.

Refreshments were served after the business meeting by Mrs. Winston D. Purvine, Mrs. Herbert Madole and Mrs. Art Chase.

Meetings are tentatively planned for the first Tuesday of each month at 7:30 in the evening in the guest house.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Harold Rotrock and Mrs. Ben Thomas.

Bridge Tea
Parent-Teacher groups need money all the time for one thing or another and especially important to the Fremont PTA is the need for money to continue their lunch program. This program is designed especially to aid undernourished children who are given a warm, hearty lunch at noon at school. Records and past experience show that these same children are considerably "fattened-up" as well as improving their studies under this program and inasmuch as lunches cost money, the PTA is having a benefit bridge tea.

The hour is 1:30 o'clock, the day Saturday, the date, March 13, and the place, the Fremont school auditorium. Mrs. Glen Inman is general chairman and is also in charge of prizes which promise to be very nice. Mrs. W. D. Miller is tea chairman and Mrs. A. A. Montgomery who doubles as the PTA president, is doing the selling. Bridge and other games will be played with tea following.

School Play Casts Feted Thursday

TULELAKE—There was food and fun aplenty for members of three casts and business managers of high school plays when they were entertained Thursday night at dinner by a committee of the PTA. Honored were members of the Thespian play, "Nine Girls," presented recently; the senior play, "The Admiral Crichton," to be given April 16 and the junior play, "The Little Minister," to be given at a date yet to be announced.

Skits, originating from the plays, were put on by the groups, and a boy's quartet including Charles Esner, Charles K. Wiese Jr., Hugh Wilson and Will Jones, sang.

Places were marked for Lola Crowther, Rosalie Wilkinson, Alice Stonecypher, Shirley McFall, Pat Terry, Phyllis Rowan, Pat McFall, Ardice Long, Mary Reed of "Nine Girls," and the stage assistants, Bert Simpson, Bill Stinson, Martin Dingler and the prompter, Gay Bergman.

Billy Daniels, Ellen Goff, Malcolm Crawford, Bob Laird, Ray Laird, Jerry Taylor, Sharon Stacy, Ann Reed, Marvin Thomas Jr., and Jean Martin of the Junior class.

Coaches, Mrs. Harvey Reed, sponsor of the junior class and Mrs. Josephine Converse, advisor of the senior class, were also present.

Fathers' Night

TULELAKE—Fathers took the limelight last evening at St. Valentine's Day when members of the Tulelake assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, entertained at an annual dinner in their honor. Places were marked for 70 daughters and fathers at tables prettily centered with arrangements of Valentines and red tapers.

The welcoming address was given by Shirley Heck, worthy advisor, and the response was given by George Fischer, Rev. Hugh Bronson spoke briefly on the work of Rainbow.

Several Rainbow girls gave a skit, "Civilization." Rosalie Wilkinson was musician. Janice Taylor sang, "The Stars Will Remember" and the girls sang "Rainbow Dreams."

Among adult guests were T. G. Hogerty, pastor of St. Valentine's, and members of the Tulelake advisory board of Rainbow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Malin, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Laird, Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Bronson and Mrs. W. R. Moore.

The "Fleur Marie"

collection at LAPOINTE'S will fulfill your desire for a new blouse that's really pretty, yet priced within the budget. . . but when you learn that they're designed by Paul duMont, remembered for his "Old French Court Embroidery" blouses, you aren't too surprised at the merits of this latest creation.

Inspiration for the "Fleur Marie" came from the tiny handkerchiefs carried by titled ladies of the French court during the Renaissance. Artistically embroidered with antique-toned threads, they were called "fleur de Marie" in honor of Marie Antoinette. It's this antique embroidery that Designer duMont has so skillfully duplicated and magnified for the off-white collar, yoke and cuff designs of these lovely crepe blouses.

LAPOINTE'S . . . at 507 Main has lots and lots of other gorgeous numbers to glamorize your suits . . . or wear with long, flaring skirts . . . and this season their detailing is exceptionally tantalizing. Lacy trims, like that used on a dusty pink crepe, are dyed to match blouse hues. . . floral appliques are many and varied. . . in fact, all sorts of whimsies have been thought up to make them more alluringly feminine. The wide assortment includes two vivid patterns in pure silk prints, moderately priced . . . and sizes run from 36 clear up to 44 . . . at LaPointe's.

Tiny booklets of lipstick tissues can be tucked into a purse or pocket to blot lipstick and save linens from messy smears.

forms an eye-catching display in the gift department of MILLER'S downstairs store . . . and you'll find the latest designs in this fine pottery are terribly tempting. The two-tone Dragon Vases are simply large for a flowering plant . . . and the graceful, all-white Swan Vases are ideal for arrangements of long-stemmed posies.

Single flower designs are used for the unusually attractive bookends . . . and several interpretations of modernistic candleholders are adaptable to the oriental flower or mist gray or ebony. Prices start at $3.50.

Many other new arrivals in gift items have also been received. A hand-painted Italian tea set of fine china . . . imported Malajolica pitchers . . . English Toby Jugs of Dickens characters . . . fresh chintz patterns in English china cups and saucers . . . colorful, five-piece Condiment Sets for the dining nook . . . matching candle and placecard sets in pewter for the party table, priced at $2.75 a set.

A complete selection of new metal, fibre or plastic-covered wastebaskets is awaiting you in the downstairs store of MILLER'S, 512 Main . . . and they sell from $1.49 to $3.49 apiece.

Stubbish jar tops and screw-on bottle caps can be found in a jiffy, say technicians of a match company, by running a lighted match around the edge of the top or cap.

home from spring market and a vacation jaunt . . . was busily unpacking a magnificent assortment of new earrings when Martha stopped to shop at JEWEL AND GIFT SHOP, There are all sorts of fanciful designs, including those smart silver or gold ear ornaments that look well with simple tailored Bowknots and sprays glitter with rhinestones . . . and there are more creations in the spring-back earrings that proved so popular when first introduced during the holiday season. Prices start at a moderate $1.50.

To keep in mind as remembrances for mother are the inexpensive gold metal pill boxes for her dressing table or handbag . . . and the showy costume pins of stones cut in round or baguette shapes.

"Toast Glasses" . . . used in fashionable hotels and famous restaurants . . . are a new arrival at JEWEL AND GIFT SHOP . . . 519 Main. Filled with colored liqueur or wine, they take the place of candles on the birthday cake.

can be used as placecards, filled with creme de menthe or cordial . . . with marshmallow juice for a grapefruit center . . . with sweet toppings for a children's party.

"New Look" in jewelry follows the trend of fashion with designs inspired by turn-of-the-century brooches, clips, earrings and necklaces. Modernized versions of antiques are often worked in palladium, which lends itself to elaborate and intricately wrought pieces that are light in weight.

Lactopine . . .

the original Pine Bath Oil . . . is now obtainable for the first time as CURRIN'S . . . and with it comes a host of other refreshing pine-scented items. . . Bath Concentrate, Bubble Concentrate, boxed soap, men's toiletries . . . and Pine Air Spray with an atomizer, a dainty deodorizer for the home to eliminate cooking or other disagreeable odors.

Lactopine (Swiss Pine Bath Oil) is a true pine needle preparation that's recognized by the medical profession for its soothing, relaxing properties . . . and is often prescribed for nervous disorders, insomnia, mental or physical over-exertion. In fact, Lactopine was first introduced into the United States in 1927, at the request of and for the medical profession.

It is an economical toilet preparation of incomparable luxury, and using the entire family will enjoy using . . . but it shouldn't be confused with the synthetic pine-scented water softeners which have no therapeutic value.

Something different for an inexpensive gift or party prize are the small, introductory sets in this assortment of pine toiletries at CURRIN'S . . . the friendly drug store at Ninth and Main. Each contains five flacons of Bath Concentrate and Cologne, attractively boxed.

The darker stocking shades now in vogue minimize leg size and make the ankles look trimmer, more shapely. This is also increased by having the heel reinforcements in a still darker tone, and closed high-heeled shoes are much more leg-slimming than the cut-out, lower-heeled types.

Formerly concealed corsetries have come into the open as wide, glamorous belts of capeskin, suede or other leathers that nip in the waist.

Most appealing to Martha are the lovely batiste prints . . . styled in a low neckline that sets off the puffed sleeves. A wide, eyeletted ruffle encircles the hemline, then extends up the back of the skirt. Black ribbon bows complete the effect.

Nice and neat and youthful is a starched corded cotton of gray pin stripe with a full gathered skirt, white rick-rack trim and short, ruffled sleeves. A stem of red cherries at the shoulder adds a note of color. But the horizontal striped gingham has been getting more attention because of its so vivacious. These come in blue and black or blue and brown combinations with demure pilgrim collars of white pique.

Seersuckers are represented in the exclusive Lady Alice group by two extremely different styles. Very fetching is a striped canary yellow with an apron front . . . and peaking, petticoat-like, from the ruffled, cap sleeves is a dainty edge of eyelet. The dollar-dot prints are sparsely gay. Ribbon belts tie at the waist and a snug-fitting bodice enhances the bouffant skirt.

Among latest arrivals from Lady Alice . . . at WHYTALE in the Medical-Dental building, Main at Ninth . . . are attractive two-piece cotton frocks in several unusual color combinations . . . that look as though they'd launder wonderfully.

When our-husbands' sun glasses, try out the tint for eye comfort. Green, Nature's color, is the shade recommended by many oculists as being easiest on the eyes. But gray is good, too, or a warm shade of brown.

have sent out a request for letters from grade school girls in the Klamath area . . . asking them to tell in their own words what they consider "The Advantages of a Modern Youngstown Kitchen," and the prizes awarded for the best letters will be miniature kitchens, doll-size.

You mothers probably know more about the beauty and convenience of the Youngstown metal kitchen furnishings . . . cupboards, work tables, etcetera . . . than daughter does, so you might give her a few hints on what you consider their advantages . . . or, better yet, take her on an expedition to the downstairs store of RICHESY JEWELERS, 709 Main . . . where many of these items are on display.

Letters will be judged on the best ideas expressed . . . not on appearance. The miniature scale kitchens to be awarded are from the Youngstown planning kits and include everything from refrigerator to stove.
