

Primary To Require Big Printing Job

The county is going to have a sizeable printing job on its hands for the May 21 primary and special elections. Possibly 90,000 pieces of paper will be used in the job.

The expectation is for five separate ballots for voters living inside the city limits, 33 precincts, and four for those residing in the 42 county precincts.

Principal ones, of course, are the republican and democratic primary tickets, and the long list of offices to be filled and candidates entered is going to stretch them out.

Then there is the state non-partisan ballot, reserved this year for candidates for justices of the state supreme court.

The city of Klamath Falls will have its money-raising measures—recreation and cemetery—on a separate sheet for presentation to voters in the 33 city precincts.

That makes four. The fifth may come out as a May 21 issue or may be postponed a while for a special election. That is a proposal by the county court to levy a $400,000 special road-construction measure.

It would have to be printed on a separate ballot and passed upon by both city and county voters.

Complicated is an inadequate word to describe the forthcoming election.

Another wrinkle the printer will have to iron out is the matter of impartiality. Since there are 10 republican candidates for sheriff (now), each man will have to have his name at the top of the list of some ballots. In other words, the list of names will have to be rotated 10 times.

The democratic list of five aspirants for sheriff will have to be rotated five times. The same procedure will have to be followed for every other nomination where there is a surplus of candidates.

The May 21 primary probably will cost the county $15,000 of the taxpayers' money.

Putting An Alcoholic Kick In Your Car Motor May Lead To More Power

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
OMAHA, March 5 (AP)—Putting an alcoholic kick into auto engines may bring a day of:

High-power performance on low-grade gasoline.
Trucks and autos climbing hills in high instead of creeping up in low.
Economical driving on the flat, with a ready surge of power when needed.

Part of your power comes from corn cobs or grains.

These possibilities from use of alcohol as liquid fuel were described today by Dr. G. E. Hilbert, director of the northern regional research laboratory, U. S. department of agriculture, at Peoria, Ill., to the national farm chemurgic council conference. There are some "ifs and buts."

A gallon of alcohol can be blended with nine gallons of low-grade gasoline to make 10 gallons of premium anti-knock fuel, he said. The blends wouldn't require any changes in engine design or readjustment.

Something different, for the extra burst of power, are gadgets already available which can inject mixtures of alcohol and water. This was done with airplanes during the war. The alcohol injections would take trucks uphill in high.

Such power is needed only occasionally. The rest of the time engines could operate on cheaper, lower octane gasoline. This would save oil reserves, for it takes more crude oil to produce high-octane gasoline.

The biggest "if" is the present price of alcohol. Dr. Hilbert said. Even if corn cost a dollar a bushel, alcohol would cost 50 cents a gallon under present recovery practices. But this may not mean so much within a few years.

Easter Seal Sale Funds Go To Many Units

Funds derived from the current Easter seal sales campaign will be used for a variety of projects in nearly every county in Oregon during the coming year. Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, Klamath county chairman, said today.

Expansion of the hospital school for crippled children at Eugene and the establishment of similar facilities in other strategic locations throughout Oregon is only a part of the projected program.

During the past year, Mrs. Thompson said, funds derived from the 1947 Easter seal sale were used to assist in establishing the Eugene center, to provide wheel chairs for needy handicapped, braces and artificial limbs, and surgery and medical care for others.

She emphasized that all types of crippled persons, youngsters and adults included, are eligible for assistance, regardless of what type of disease or accident is responsible for their condition.

The campaign sponsored by the Oregon chapter, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, will continue through Easter Sunday with $100,000 as its goal.
