Service Club Programs
Junior chamber of commerce, Monday, 7:30 p. m., chamber of commerce.
Lions club, Tuesday noon, Willard hotel.
20-30 club, Tuesday, 7 p. m., Willard hotel.
Soroptimist club, Thursday noon, Pelican cafe.
Kiwanis club, Thursday noon, Willard hotel.
Rotary club, Friday noon, Willard hotel.

O. K. Puckett, Klamath Rotarian, promises a challenging discussion of United Nations as this week's Rotary club speaker. The program will be presented under the Rotary's objective of international service.

State superintendent of elementary education, Florence Beardsley, will address the Soroptimists at the Thursday luncheon meeting, with Isabelle Brixner as chairman for the day.

Juvenile delinquency will be the subject of Judge David R. Vandenberg, speaking before the Kiwanis club this week. Rev. David F. Barnett Jr., will be chairman.

20-30's will honor all past active members of the club at this week's meeting at the Willard. Pete Green, president, will be in charge of the meeting. All past members are cordially urged to attend as guests of the club.

Jaycees are meeting at the chamber of commerce for a business session and Lions did not announce their program for this week.

Landlord Lauded By 300 Tenants

NORTH TARYTOWN, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Stephen Chambers, manager of a 254-family apartment development, was honored by his tenants yesterday as the "ideal landlord."

He and his wife were honor guests at a reception and tea in the apartment auditorium, attended by 300 residents. Chambers was hailed as a landlord who overcame wartime shortages and postwar difficulties to provide courteous service, efficient maintenance, plenty of heat, bus service to trains, free golf and tennis facilities and many other advantages. Chambers is manager for his father, Clark T. Chambers, the owner.

First Aid—The standard first aid course, sponsored by the American Red Cross, will be held at room 218, KUHHS, starting tonight, Monday, at 7:30 p. m. Charles Sullaway is the instructor. The last week of March an instructor's first aid course will be given by Richard Evans, field representative in first aid from the Pacific area office, San Francisco. Further details will be announced.

Expected Here—Mrs. John Malin of Tulalake, who has been in San Francisco for medical care, is expected here early Tuesday morning by train and will be moved to Hillside hospital by the Professional Ambulance Service for further treatment.

Home From Alaska—M. D. "Chick" Hutchens, son of Mrs. Lula B. Hutchens of the post office staff, arrived back in Klamath Falls last week after spending the past several years in Anchorage, Alaska as a civilian employe of the army. This is his first visit home in three years.

Laddie Caught In Trap

CASCADE SUMMIT, March 8—Laddie, mischievous and likeable pet of Jack Meissner, was making his morning rounds as usual, stopping to say hello to the night telegrapher at the Summit depot then meandering down to the 24-hour diner and begging a handout from the chef and then proceeding around all the houses and seeing what the other neighborhood pets had on their dinner plates.

But this a. m. he decided to vary his routine and wandered off down the forbidden territory of the railroad tracks to the wye turnaround when all of a sudden, clung went a coyote trap catching Laddie's front paw. There he stayed until Grant F. Erickson and A. R. Kreuger of the S. P. signal department came by and released him. Now Laddie is recuperating at home and reflecting on his "ad experience but philosophically figures it is just one more to add to the list he had with a porcupine in 1945 (in which he came out on the worst end) and the close shave in 1946 when a hunter thought he was a red fox and nearly took his pelt from him.

PORTLAND, March 8 (AP)—Rabbit breeders want their animals counted in the 1950 census. The American Rabbit & Cavy Breeders association asked local raisers to urge congress to have the bunnies included in the farm cen-

Coast Guard Saves Crew Of Wreck

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., March 8 (AP)—Coast guardsmen today pulled 21 crewmen along a breeches buoy to safety from the stranded motorship Norfolk.

The red-eyed seamen had spent a sleepless night aboard the stricken vessel. All rescued men were reported in good condition. Seas were still heavy near buoy No. 6, a mile and a half from near-by Beaufort inlet, where the Norfolk was aground and leaking.

One crewman had been rescued late yesterday.

Lifeboats from the Fort Macon and Cape Lookout coast guard stations brought the men to Fort Macon.

Crewman Hurt

Rescue efforts were abandoned because of darkness and heavy seas after the ship's electrician, who volunteered to be first, was swept from a rescue line and dashed under the keel of a coast guard boat. He was pulled aboard the boat and hospitalized with head injuries.

Two coast guardsmen also were injured in the rescue operations in the 18-foot waves.

Bulgarian Minister Quits

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—Bulgaria's minister to Britain has quit his job, in order, he says, "to work for the restoration of liberty and democracy in my country."

The minister, Nikola Dolapchiev, thus joined Vassil Youroukoff, Bulgarian minister to Belgium, who announced last Friday that he had resigned. The Bulgarian government said the next day Youroukoff had been dismissed. In Sofia, Bulgarian newspapers announced today that Dolapchiev had been dismissed because of "his treacherous attitude toward Bulgaria."

Brace Up Men---Your Mink Overcoat Is In Sight Now

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 (AP)—The time is not far off, a noted fur designer said Saturday, when no male with the slightest pretense of being well-dressed will try to get by without at least one garment in his wardrobe fashioned from the pelt of some inoffensive quadruped.

And if you ask "What fur?" Designer Al Teitelbaum's answer would be mink, calfskin, Persian lamb, broadtail, seal and "most anything else the girls have been sporting for so long these many years."

Teitelbaum, widely known for designing those fur creations for the movie lovelies, climbed right out on the end of a branch and said that tailored mink coats for men are not more than five years away—and indicated it will be a lot less if he has anything to say about it.

Teitelbaum disclosed that he already is turning out men's sports jackets in calfskin and smoking jackets in Persian lamb and seal, and he is confident he'll find some buyers for them.

"In older days," he said, "a fur coat was the badge of a man of distinction. We propose to bring those days back."

Felony Count Dropped Today

A felony indictment against Joseph H. Dirschl, charging him with larceny, was dismissed in circuit court this morning when a key prosecution witness failed to appear for the trial.

Dirschl was accused of stealing a tank from a Southern Pacific railroad car several months ago. The tank was owned by the Dealers' Tank company of California and a representative of the firm was to be here for the trial to identify the allegedly stolen property.

District Attorney Clarence A. Humble said that the Southern Pacific company was to arrange with the tank company to have the witness here but that he learned Saturday afternoon a company representative would not be present this morning. No subpoena had been issued.

The district attorney moved for continuance of the case but the continuance was objected to by

Oleo Tax May Be Repealed

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—The treasury recommended today repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine.

Undersecretary A. Lee Wiggins told the house committee on agriculture that the present oleo taxes:

1. "Distort the competitive position of two domestic industries, penalizing oleomargarine to aid butter."
2. Interfere with best use of national resources.
3. "Unnecessarily burden consumers far in excess of the amount paid in taxes."

Wiggins said the taxes are unimportant from a federal revenue standpoint. Collections for this and next fiscal year are estimated at about $7,000,000, he said.

But he said, "The burden of these taxes on consumers is not adequately measured by the treasury's tax collections."

"The taxes increase the cost of the product; they interfere with the consumer's freedom of choice in satisfying personal wants; and they increase his living cost by interfering with the consumption of less expensive foods."
