

Three-Way Battle Looms Over Disposal Of Hampton Building In Proposed Park

Members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Klamath Historical society and the Klamath Art association locked horns in the matter of disposal of the old Hampton building on Main street, the oldest business building in the city, at the meeting of the city council last night.

Some time ago, the DAR and Historical society requested permission to use the stone building as a meeting place. Mrs. Robert Odell, representing the DAR, told councilmen that her group also hoped to put on display a group of belongings of

KLAMATH HISTORY

Beneath western skies, on a high plateau lies Klamath country in all its glory. In this land of ours, 'mid lakes and wild flowers, still lives the old Klamath story.

And now overhead, on high sky-wings led, smooth and swift glide great silver wings.

Where long ago the Indian's bow sent arrows straight from his strings.

But just the same, the caravans came.

Weaving silver white threads through the green.

Here arrows flew, and shots were heard.

And some travelers were never more seen.

The white man's laws, with its many flaws.

Had come to rule this western land.

Why they could not roam, their Lost River home.

The Modocs could not understand.

Fury flared high, 'neath Klamath's blue sky.

The blood of Indian and White Man was shed.

War continued to rage, over valley and sage.

And many were the wounded and dead.

But the advancing age, sets the show on each stage.

Without fail in all life's walks.

And on the shores of time, in this western clime.

Was written the end of the Modocs.

But now many rains have washed away stains.

Of war left by the Indian and White Man.

And the birds build in peace, in the tall, swaying trees.

In the home of the proud peccan.

There were brave hearts and true, in this tribe, too.

Who of their courage and loyalty gave.

One was Winema, near Mount Moyena.

Who worked hard her people to save.

And now as one treads, the lava rock beds.

There's a sign by a path that reads "Captain Jack's Stronghold," and a winding old trail, worn deep with time, that upward leads.

To the top of a hill, where stands the stronghold still.

The same as in long years ago.

Here in lava rock caves, lived the Indian Braves.

Till the time came they knew they must go.

But we recall history, and in fancy we see.

Kientipoo, chief of the Modocs.

In brave outline stand, giving his last command.

By his fortress of black lava rocks.

USGA Will Lower Par On Courses

SEATTLE, March 9 (AP)—The U.S. Golf association's new handicapping system will lower par on most Washington and Oregon courses, a member of the Pacific Northwest Golf association's handicapping committee said today.

W. H. M. (Bill) Haldane, PNGA president, appointed Corydon Wagner, Tacoma, chairman of the committee. The Northwest links group has approved the nation's new system. Other committee members are Bill Blakely, Portland; Mahlon Rucker, Spokane; Wally Bowden, Victoria; and Forrest Watson, Seattle.

Twins Seem To Run In Family

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Mrs. Irene Robitaille, 28, gave birth last night to twins, a boy and a girl—just a year and two days after her twin daughters, Verone and Catherine, were born.

The father, Roderick Robitaille, 32, immediately telephoned his sister, Mrs. Randall Callahan, in Greenville, Me., to tell her the news. "That's funny," said Mrs. Callahan, "I had a boy and a girl born March 5."

The Art association, meanwhile, was notified that the park board would give it permission to use the structure as an art gallery and headquarters. Vern Swansen spoke for the art group.

No Action Yet

Actually, the sector where the Hampton property is located and which has been set aside for use as Veterans Memorial park, has not yet been turned over to the park board by the city. Title for the property was ready Monday night, but was not read and will be held over until next Monday.

The three groups were asked to talk over their differences at a meeting of the park board today, Tuesday.

A delegation of Upham street property owners was on hand with another request to pave their street. Councilman Wendell Smith, speaking on their behalf, said that everything has been taken care of regarding payment for cost of the project except for getting the city's consent to put up its share for city-owned lots in the area.

Councilmen, reacting favorably to the proposal, asked property owners to meet with the street committee, city engineer and the city attorney at 10 a. m., Thursday, to further consider the plan.

Trailer Okay

The Marine Corps lease was given council permission to sponsor a trailer of war souvenirs to be set out on 7th street off Main, this Thursday and Friday.

A communication was received from the Klamath Falls Garden club, going on record favoring the levy providing for care of Livestock cemetery to come up in the May election.

Power Break Dims Lights

Dinners were eaten and a lot of dish washing done by candle light in much of Klamath's suburban area last night when a fuse went out at the California Oregon Power company's sub-station at Texum near the Great Northern roundhouse.

The failure blacked out homes in the S. 6th street district, Merrill road area and affected most facilities in the vicinity of Pine Grove. The fuse blew at approximately 7:05 p. m. but most service was restored by Copco crews shortly after 8 o'clock. Some areas remained dark until after 9 p. m. before the crews could finish their job.

The California Oregon Power company said it was flooded with calls from the suburban area. One call came in to The Herald and News when a hungry gentleman said he had just sat down to a fried chicken dinner when the lights went out. His principal complaint was that there wasn't a candle in the house.

Reynolds Rites Set Wednesday

Funeral services will be held in Lakeview Wednesday for Fred Reynolds, 60, former Lake county judge, banker and merchant.

A native of Little Rock, Ark., Mr. Reynolds came to Lakeview as a boy. His first business venture was a partnership with Burt K. Snider in a Lakeview drugstore. Later he served from 1922 as vice president of the Bank of Lakeview, until it was sold to the First National of Portland in 1937. He was county judge for a term ending in 1936.

The Reynolds family still owns the Lakeview Mercantile store which he purchased after leaving the bank.

Youth Jailed For Drunk Driving

Alfred A. Anderson, 20, 1718 Wall, was jailed by city police early this morning on charges of drunk driving and failure to stop at the scene of an accident. He pleaded guilty in city court this morning.

Anderson was fined $100 with the option of 50 days in jail on the first count and $25 plus 10 days in jail on the second.

Police said he sideswiped a parked car on N. 6th and failed to stop. He was arrested at 6th and Willow shortly after midnight.

Morgan Heads Local Musicians

Local 495 of the American Federation of Musicians held election of officers last night at the regular monthly meeting at the Winema hotel. Secretary of the local for the next two years will be Kyle Morgan, with Jack Stuart as vice president. Members of the board of directors will be Jack Pearson, Clarence Nelson and J. A. McDonald, with Orville Pretzel as sergeant-at-arms. Charles Eaton will serve the local as president for the next year as his term is for two years and has not expired as yet.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-worms have been causing trouble for enterologists, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Science has at last solved the problem! It is now also known that Pin-worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So beware of that aggravating rectal itching and anal irritation that is the sign of Pin-worm! At the first sign of Pin-worm, P.W. is a medically approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P.W. tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-worms easily and safely.

It's easy to remember P.W. for Pin-worm!

New Lounge To Open Here On Wednesday

The Town Club, newest cafe-lounge combination in town, will open Wednesday at 11 a. m. owners Charles Schuss and H. J. Bevan said today. They purchased the old Town Club and Busy Bee restaurant at Main street several weeks ago and since that time the place have been closed for major remodeling.

The cafe will be open day and night from 9 a. m. to 1 a. m. daily. After next January 1, the owners expect to take over a portion of the front of the building now occupied by a shine parlor for further enlargement.

Harry Wagner, formerly with Cal-Ore and Hershey's cafe, will be head chef of the Town Club and the business will employ between 17 and 20 persons steadily.

Architect, Sheldon Brumbaugh drew the plans for the remodeling and Verne Swansen chose the color scheme of the red and cream. The lounge holds the bar plus 10 booths and four tables and meals will be served there in addition to the restaurant service.

Schuss said he was inaugurating a "merchants' lunch" between 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. daily and that champagne and other wines would be served with food.

The interior of the lounge and restaurant has been completely done over in the color scheme and indirect lighting features installed.

TB Dormitory Bids Opened April 16

SALEM, March 9 (AP)—The state board of control decided today to open bids April 16 on construction of a $265,000 employee dormitory at the Eastern Oregon Tuberculosis hospital at The Dalles.

The building would accommodate 48 employees. Dr. J. M. Odell, hospital superintendent, said the hospital would lose employees unless it obtained housing for them.

Betty Orr To Direct Tule Summer Slate

TULELAKE, March 9—Mrs. Betty Orr of Tulelake has been named director of the summer recreation program for young people and children of the Tulelake community. It was made known here Tuesday by Rev. Francis Chambers, chairman of the committee on planning.

Mrs. Orr, a graduate of the University of California, has had previous experience in recreational activities and physical education in Oakland and Piedmont. She is the wife of James Orr, who is associated with the national park service of the Lava Beds national monument.

The program which will follow the plan of last year's supervised play will start about June 7 and continue through August with dances, swimming, picnics, hayrides for the teen-agers and swimming and supervised playground activities and story telling for younger children.

The swimming project will be under the direction of the Red Cross which is underwriting the program for $475. This amount will cover salary of a swimming teacher, approved by the Red Cross and transportation to the Klamath Falls pool.

The city council approved the remainder of the funds to round out the $1200 budget that is needed. Salary of the director and other incidentals will be paid from this amount.

OVS To Open Class In Piano Repair

OVS, March 9—Piano tuning and repair training will be offered at Oregon Vocational school on about April 1. The course is planned to be nine months in length, and will include all phases of piano tuning and repair work. William Newton of Klamath Falls will be the instructor.

Both shop experience and classroom work will be included in the course. Students will be admitted if they are over 16 years of age.

Tule Church Plans Social

TULELAKE, March 9 — A box social and fun-fest is planned by young people of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church for Wednesday night, March 10, in the church annex, and guests of the same age have been invited from Peace Memorial church of Klamath Falls.

Girls will bring box lunches to be auctioned by Charles K. Wiese Sr., and the funds will help swell the fund for purchase of a heater to be given to European relief.

Mrs. Betty Orr will lead several folk dances with Mrs. Leonard Meshke at the piano. The time is 7:30.

Marvin "Buzz" Thomas Jr., is in charge of arrangements.

Spade Cooley Slated Tonight

Spade Cooley and his "Western Dance Gang" will appear at the armory tonight, Tuesday. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Featured soloists with Cooley are June Holiday, Ella May and Jimmy Widener and the Three Guitars, Noel Boggs, Jimmy Whyte and Cameron Hill.

The band recently had a long run at Riverside Rancho in Los Angeles, Aragon ballroom in Ocean Park and the Mission Beach ballroom in San Diego, where it broke previous attendance records.

Sun-dials are primarily for telling time, but if the time is known, a sun-dial can be used as a compass.

WHY WE SAY

This idea implies that beauty alone is not sufficient—individuals often have souls and minds so much more beautiful than their faces. In 1861 James Bailey in "Festus" mentioned a woman who had "beauty but skin deep." In this sense he meant, of course, that her face was her only beauty.

OVS Advisory Board To Meet

OVS, March 9—The state advisory committee, appointed several weeks ago to aid in Oregon Vocational school administration, will meet in the school administration building this Friday.

Members of the committee are Rex Putnam, superintendent of public instruction, and O. I. Paulson, state director of vocational education, both of Salem; Kelly Lee, Jess Bell and A. S. Teller of Portland; Mrs. W. L. Van Loan of Corvallis; Mrs. Estill Brunk of Salem; George Hutchings of Coos Bay; Edward Bruggfield of Medford; Francis Gates of Burns; William Ross of Vale; Dr. Fred Thompson of The Dalles; and Fred Heilbroner and O. H. Buffington, both of Klamath Falls.

The OVS business class wishes to thank Klamath basin residents, high school students and all who contributed to the success of the Introduction Day dance. The affair was the first class-sponsored dance held at OVS, and a large crowd jammed the OVS gym.

Driver Hurt in Pile-Up

Clark Fryatt, 2030 Arthur, was a plainly injured early this morning when his car crashed into the guard railing of the S. 6th street viaduct.

Fryatt's injuries include a severe scalp laceration, loss of several teeth and an injury to his left leg. He is in Klamath Valley hospital.

City police said he was alone in the car at the time of the accident, about 3 a. m., and that his windshield was fronted over so that apparently he missed the south approach to the viaduct. His car was virtually demolished.

Fryatt was taken from the wreck by James Albert Coffelt of Merrill, moved to the police station and then to the hospital.
