of Women Voters, in Portland last week, the all-day session held Friday in the Portland library building where plans were made for the state convention to be held at Gearhart in May. Mrs. Ferguson spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce at their home near Salem, and it was a lovely time as camellias and many other spring flowering bushes are in full bloom now. En route home, Mrs. Ferguson stopped off at Modoc Point to visit with the Lammas.

At Random: The white satin kneeling pillow used by June Michelson and Harold Dryden at their wedding at St. Paul's last Sunday, was the same pillow used by June's parents at their wedding in Davenport, Iowa, 26 years ago come next May. Still available—the Oregon Mothers cook book. Mrs. Alfred D. Collier has eight copies which sell for $1.50 each with plastic covers. Proceeds go to the scholarship fund. Such a relief to sit and hear a speech not dealing with atomic energy, atomic bombs or radio activity and Russia! Referring to the reports on Hawaii given by Ruth Adams and Clara Shaw at Soroptimist luncheon last Thursday. Friends of Marie Bosworth will watch her political campaign with interest when she really gets under way late this summer over in Medford. Marie is out for the democratic chair in the state legislature and is unopposed in the primaries but has an opponent in the November general election.

Nicest part of living in a town for a long time. Watching the young fry from the cradle to the New Look stage. Orchids to Judy Vandenberg, whom we have known all her life, for the one rating at the Southern Oregon festival last week. Folks missed something good that hugged their freckles that night. And our surprise at Athena Lampropoulos' lovely voice. First time we'd heard her sing. Another surprise at hearing Brent Hedberg, the Pete Hedberg's teen-age son, whose singing will probably be heard often now the family is back from a long stay in Sweden.

Mrs. Willis Glidden and daughter Catherine left Friday morning for Portland where they attended capping ceremonies at Good Samaritan hospital. Betty Glidden was among those capped at the services held last night.

Klamath Falls has developed some surprising talent of late and of interest to Mrs. Frederick C. Wissenbach's many friends is the exhibit of her paintings at Gill's Gallery in Portland last week. The exhibit was carried through to the middle of this week. The AAUW board in Pendleton has extended an invitation to Mrs. Wissenbach to exhibit her water colors and pastels and to Rev. Wissenbach to gather together for this same exhibit, all of his paintings which are in many homes and in the Pendleton museum. The exhibit is scheduled for the second week in April, the principal occasion being the annual arts' teach of AAUW on April 10. The Wissenbachs are former Pendleton residents.

Mrs. Wissenbach made her first effort to draw and paint while on vacation in the summer of 1944. It must have been a thrilling experience to discover such a latent talent and as she has never had an art lesson, has developed her own technique through the "mistakes-determination" method. She is a member of the Oregon Society of Artists and two of the pictures on display at Gill's have been exhibited in the Portland museum.

Don't forget to buy an Easter Lily next Saturday, March 27, when Pep Peppers from KUIS will sell the little flowers for the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Members Tell Of Visit To Hawaii

Ruth Adams and Clara Shaw brought a bit of Hawaii with them to the luncheon meeting of the Soroptimist club of Klamath Falls.

Ruth gave an entertaining and fascinating account of their trip to Hawaii by Clipper and of their enjoyable stay in the islands. During her account she passed souvenir menus and photographs around the table which were enjoyed immensely. She told of the native dinners and dancing, of deep sea and torch fishing and of the delicious and exotic foods they were served.

"Shazie" told of the natural beauties of the islands and the unbelievably brilliant colors of the scenery. She brought samples of the wood roses, black sand, and interesting rock formations that she had collected.

They both agreed that the trip was one of the most wonderful experiences of their lives.

Eloise McIntyre introduced her pupil, 10-year-old Brent Hedberg, who charmed everyone with his lovely rendition of a Swedish folk song and a patriotic number.

Kathleen Thompson gave a report on the work being done by the Crippled Children's hospital in Eugene to give crippled children a chance to get well, to go to school and to train for a job. She and her committee sold shares of Happiness to the members present for the benefit of the Easter Seal drive now being sponsored by the Soroptimist club.

There were a number of guests present which helped make the meeting an extra special occasion. Louise Reinhardt brought as her guest Helen Perry, Kathleen Thompson's guest was Wyoming Stiles, Lillian Hills brought Lois Serruys, Alva Kenyon's guest was Mildred Barton, and Lorraine Johnson introduced Josephine Garner, formerly of Honolulu.

Nylon Blouses

... bearing that best quality name of DuPont ... are new for Easter in the second floor sports-wear department of MILLER'S ... and so are three different styles in airy delicate fragile blouses ... masterpieces in accessories.

The exquisite nylons ... in white only ... are as completely feminine as your swishing petticoat ... delight the eye with their delicate lace inserts or embroidered touches. You have a choice of three styles ... all designed with flattering collars and either short or bracelet length sleeves.

The tantalizing fragile creations are of frost white or dusty pink crepe ... quite simple in styling compared to the more frilly blouses these days ... but you'll love the sheer inserts at the neckline, embellished by artful swirls of matching braid or lace.

Then, after viewing all this angel stuff in the blouse department of MILLER'S ... 512 Main ... Martha succumbed to a new, candy-striped ... It's plainly tailored, with long, cuffed sleeves ... but the color combinations, while harmonizing, are decidedly unusual!

Sail Into Spring

in a saucy navy and white junior dress from LAPOINTES ... that gives you such a look of smart fashion for such a moderate price!

Take that R and K original of navy sheer, for instance. Simple, oh my ... but those tucked inserts in the skirt are a bit of designing genius not often seen in a $14.95 frock. A demure collar provides a touch of white for contrast. Then there's a Carlie polka dot in navy and white ... styled with long torso lines above a gathered skirt ... very youthful.

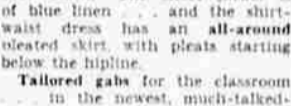

For a ... o'clock tea on the campus, Martha recommends an elegant pussy-willow crepe in navy with a pointed hipline drape and sparkling buttons ... also $14.95 ... or the neat and nifty blouse and skirt ensemble ... a Trudy Hall Jr. for $12.95. A white cotton Gibson blouse, ruffled in embroidered edging tops a swinging midly blue faille skirt. Cool for summer, too.

Typically Easter is a Carol King model of deep aqua blue in rayon butcher linen, accented by white embroidered scallops and a Byronic collar ... or the rayon print jacket-dress of forget-me-not blue over black. The short jacket is of blue linen ... and the shirt-waist dress has an all-around pleated skirt, with pleats starting below the hipline.

Cummerbund Belts

stepped into the fashion picture this spring and gave a fresh appeal to skirt waistlines. So, that's why the new black crepe remains skirts at LONG'S ... encircled by a shirred girde cummerbund ... are more attractive than ever.

Furthermore, these skirts have a nice length ... fashionable, yet as adaptable for street wear as for dress ... and they'll look truly smart with a crisp white blouse. Instead of flaring, the all-around fullness is provided by inverted, unpressed box pleats, shown from the top through the waist.

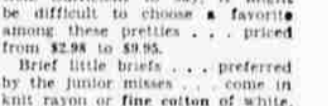

LONG'S APPAREL ... 719 Main ... also has a collection of new black swing skirts in a sheer crepe fabric ... and for wearing with them, a plentiful variety of lace-trimmed blouses or Gibson blouses ... or the white crepe Tailor Mails which just arrived ... with the finest of fine tucking and lace appliques.

Palladium which first appeared as a jewelry metal 30 years ago, is now added to yellow gold, white gold or platinum in traditional wedding bands. Palladium has a white brilliance comparable to platinum and lends itself readily to plain, carved, pierced or bejeweled designs.
