Weatherman Sees Big Crop Year

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The weatherman holds one key to how well you'll eat in the year ahead, farming experts say. An agricultural department survey made public yesterday shows farmers are ready to produce big crops if they get good weather. Spring has been slow arriving in most sections of the country. Severe winter weather last week left a large part of the United States under a blanket of snow. It will take time for fields to dry. The department said spring dry planting already is delayed in the south. Last year's spring floods and a summer drought cut farm production, particularly of livestock feed. That's the main reason for declining meat supplies. This year farmers are intent on refilling empty feed bins—the first step toward putting more meat on the nation's tables. They plan to plant feed grains on three per cent more land than last year, the survey showed. The indicated corn acreage is about equal to last year's small acreage. But it is offset by larger acreages of oats and barley—grains which will supply feed in the fall before corn is ready. The department said a 3,000,000-000-bushel corn crop is possible. This would top last year's small one by 600,000,000 bushels. The acreage of food grains—wheat, rye and rice—is expected to be a little larger than last year. Increases were indicated also for flaxseed, potatoes, and sorghums. Smaller plantings are in sight for soybeans, rice, dry beans and peas, tobacco, peanuts and sugar beets.

Snow Survey Goes Ahead

MEDFORD, March 22 (AP)—The government's newly mechanized snow measurers were chugging along on schedule Saturday after braving a heavy snowstorm on their flat day in the mountains. The seven men who departed from Ashland yesterday to measure snow levels along the Cascades divide reported by short wave radio that they completed the 30-mile trek to Fish Lake safely. The group, traveling by sno-cat, expects to cover the 674 miles to Mount Hood by April 1, completing work which in the past has taken weeks to do. The snow measurements are used for forecasting irrigation water supply. The surveyors radioed that they were going through Lake o' the Woods to the east side of the mountains today, and would camp tonight at Cold Springs near Pelican Butte lookout station in Klamath county. Sunday they will measure the snow course at Crater lake.

Early Opening Of Meat Plants Seen

ALBERT LEA, Minn., March 22 (AP)—Senator Ball (R-Minn.) forecasts the reopening of the nation's meat packing plant not later than a week from Monday. Addressing 800 at the annual Swine Institute here last night, Ball said if the president's fact-finding board failed to settle the strike issues, the government would seek an injunction under the Taft-Hartley law. Travel was exceptionally light into the park Sunday and there were no ski or traffic accidents. Temperature Sunday was 34 at the maximum reading, 25 last night and 30 at mid-morning today. Roads are open throughout the park area but chains are necessary for cross-spring travel as well as from Annie Spring to the rim.

Homelife Blamed For Ulcers

LOS ANGELES, March 22 (AP)—Men, are you bothered with peptic ulcers? Maybe the little woman is to blame, says Dr. Earl E. Congdon, of Lapeer, Mich., president of the American College of Osteopathic Internists. "More men have peptic ulcers," Dr. Congdon declared in an interview, "because they can't get along with their wives." Along with matrimonial discord, he placed "worries and frustrations" as a major ulcer producer.

Why are more people achieving

MORE SECURITY

through

EQUITABLE POLICIES

than ever before?

SECURITY for our families and for ourselves is a goal all of us are striving to attain. If these were normal times, this one fact might fully account for the record volume of Equitable life insurance purchased last year. But the conditions under which we now live provide additional reasons why so many thinking Americans are investing more of their dollars in life insurance. Think for a moment in terms of yourself: You are living in a period of inflation—of high prices and high taxes. Never has the purchasing power of your dollar been less for most of the things you buy. What would happen if you put more of your spendable dollars in life insurance? With your very first premium you receive immediate protection—a guarantee of security that can't be obtained in any other way. It would take years of self-denial and saving to accumulate the amount of security that is provided at once through a life insurance policy. Moreover, the benefits which you or your family will receive from your policy will come, in all likelihood, at a time when the dollar has regained a more normal purchasing power. In this respect, life insurance paid for today is bargain protection for the future.

EQUITABLE FAMILY GROWS
 The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States—a non-profit institution operated solely in the interests of its policyholders and their beneficiaries—has been helping families build security since 1859. More people purchased more protection through Equitable policies last year than ever before. New insurance issued amounted to $1,170,000,000. A total of $11,944,000,000 of insurance in force now safeguards the Equitable family of policyholders. In line with this increase in protection, the resources of The Equitable Society increased $322,400,000 to $4,505,000,000, a new high.

FIGHTING INFLATION
 Money used to purchase life insurance is non-inflationary, since premium payments represent funds diverted from consumption into channels of investment, where they help to increase the nation's industrial productivity. Inflation is the enemy of everyone. The primary source of inflation in this country is the excessive supply of money and credit in our commercial banking system, reflecting unsound national monetary policies. If we are to solve the inflation problem, we must first of all deal with this excessive supply of money in our banking system. It is useless to try to control prices through rationing, or through increased production, when the creation of money in the form of bank credit goes on uncontrolled. It is like fighting fire with one hand while the other hand pours on additional fuel. Inflation can be restrained at its primary source if enough citizens, motivated by self-interest and recognition of the need for preserving the economic strength of the nation, make their demand for sound monetary policies known to those who represent them in Congress.
