The Bedroom Is Still The Most Important Room Of All

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—The cost of new homes today is higher than the wages of sin. Higher than my sin fetches any day.

But there are many other things wrong with modern houses besides the price. One is that they are designed by architects rather than by poets and other artists in human understanding. Architects are fine for building cathedrals, ticket booths, skyscrapers and glorified dog stands. But for a place to live in—let's consult somebody like Shakespeare.

"I was in love with my bed," Or Guy de Maupassant, who wrote with true French insight: "The bed comprehends our whole life, for we were born in it, we live in it, and we shall die in it."

These men don't prate like architects of secondary things like land drainage, gables, wall insulation or the colors. They get right down to bedrock—in this case the bed, which is the most important piece of furniture in the home.

Build Around Bed
Therefore the home should be built around the bed. You can do everything in bed except ski. And a lot of people who try to ski do end up in bed for a long time.

People have run big businesses from beds. They have been graduated from college in bed. Mark Twain spent most of his later years dictating in bed while puffing on a big cigar. Madame du Barry used to receive French court while lying abed. In old New England young couples conducted highly moral and intellectual courtships while bundled in bed. It was the only way they could keep warm. They had a fuel shortage in those days too.

Only custom and hypocrisy have made the living room more important than the bedroom. Why do men flee to night clubs and bars? Because there is nothing duller than sitting at home in a chair. A chair is only a compromise for people who pretend they are too ambitious to lie down but are still too lazy to stand on their own feet. Sitting is an unnatural posture. I believe the home would again regain its popularity if they moved the bedroom into the living room and scattered more beds and couches around. We should take a tip from the Japanese also and make guests park their shoes at the door. Everybody has more fun with his shoes off.

Huge Chamber
If I were designing a home the bedroom would be a huge central chamber between the kitchen and the bathroom. The largest bedroom—would be by the window and high enough to look out. It would be made like a hospital bed so that you could crank yourself up and eat comfortably. I see a dining table at all? There would be a huge self-feeding fireplace operated by a button in a panel at the head of the bed.

This panel switchboard would also operate all lights. Within arm reach would be a small refrigerator, food and utensil cupboard and an electric hot plate. This would make it unnecessary to get up for breakfast.

That is the kind of a house I want. When somebody starts building them, I'll stand in line to buy one. I already have the beds.

Study Postponed—The Mills PTA study group originally planned for Wednesday has been postponed. The group will meet Wednesday, March 31, at the home of Mrs. R. B. Peppworth, 2619 Turnage.

Snow Survey Plans Hop

CRATER LAKE, March 23 (AP)—A snow survey expedition today was trying to drive two ski-equipped tractors 77 miles along the Cascades.

Arch Work, director of the department of agriculture western states snow survey, said it would be the longest one-day jump yet made by the seven men.

He radioed Medford headquarters that the party had arrived at the lake Sunday and rested until this morning. They started from Ashland last week on a projected 675-mile route to Hood River and had covered 145 miles of the distance.

The expedition was planned to test the new ski-equipped tractors for the annual mid-winter survey of snow depth and moisture stored on the mountain range. Heretofore, the work has been done by many men on skis and snow-shoes. If successful, the tractors may be used elsewhere in the west.

School Music Broadcast Set

The music department of the public schools will present another of their 14-monthly broadcasts tonight, Tuesday, from 7:30 to 8 p. m. over station KFLW. This broadcast which is under the direction of Mrs. Florence Paik, will feature the chorus and orchestra of Riverside school and the entire theme is Western folk music.

The select chorus will sing such favorites as "Dodge Song," "The Big Corral," "Bonaparte Lullaby," "Wait for the Wagons," "Huckleberry Sal" and "Trail to Mexico." The broadcast will close with the Riverside beginning orchestra under the direction of Myron Wheeler and the chorus singing "Prairie Schooner."

Mme. Curie Speaks In Portland

PORTLAND, March 23 (AP)—Mme. Irene Joliet Curie, Nobel prize winner, last night compared the discovery of atomic energy with primitive man's first use of fire.

She told an audience that science will find beneficial uses for atomic power that "we can't even suspect today."

The woman nuclear scientist was detained by immigration officials on arriving in this country last week. She said here that the action made it "very clear that it is already subservient to be anti-fascist or for peace."

Wife Slayer Found Guilty

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 23 (AP)—Lewis Ellops, 24-year-old ex-GI who said he pushed his wife to her death in the Passaic river after she confessed being intimate with another man while he was overseas, was found guilty last night of second degree murder.

The verdict carries a maximum penalty of 30 years in state prison. Ellops will be sentenced April 2.

Four-H News

The 4-H Sewit club members of the Fairhaven school are working on their sewing. Group one is working on their last project. Group II and III are working on a play suit.

GAIL BOWDOIN, News Reporter.
At the last few meetings of the Fairhaven Woodchoppers, we learned to identify several trees. Anil Pearce brought some specimens for us to look at.

Last Friday we didn't have any meeting because our leader was absent.

SHASTA HEALTH CLUB
At the last meeting of the Shasta 4-H Health club two interesting things happened.

The girls gave an original play written by Diana Mercer, Lila Hubbard, Shirley Burnett, Diana Mercer and Phyllis Parks were in the play.

The best part of the meeting was a first aid film made by Johnson and Johnson company and the Red Cross of America, demonstrating artificial respiration and other first aid measures. Mrs. Naomi Miller, school nurse, explained about the film and said she would show how to make bandages at another meeting.

The Henley 4-H Beef club meeting was held at the Abbott home in Midland, March 14. The meeting was opened by the president, Leota Peery.

Dale Williams and Albert Keady showed how to make a rope halter. We judged pictures of dairy cattle for the dairy magazine. Dale Williams and Albert Keady had a contest to give away the halter they made. The winners were Leota Peery, Betty Scala, Betty Brandeisky and Hollis Kiger.

We sang a song and then had refreshments.

Hot Dog Party—The hot dog party given by the NAACP members was very successful with many members present, also friends. The party was given at the home of Mrs. Ben Peters.

Mrs. Corpening Dies At 66

Another Klamath county pioneer was called by death with the passing at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Hillside hospital of Mrs. Frank P. (Nona) Corpening, 66, for many years a resident of the Olene district.

Mrs. Corpening had been in ill health for quite some time and her death was not unexpected. The family came to Klamath Falls in 1909 from Asheville, N. C., and stayed for a short time in this city.

Later Mr. Corpening bought 190 acres in the Olene district and he also operated a store and stage station there for 16 years. Mr. and Mrs. Corpening leased land in the Tulake area in 1925, later acquiring 4700 acres on which they raised grain and hay and ran 1800 head of cattle, some of which they kept on ranch holdings in Modoc county near Alturas. Mr. Corpening died October 7, 1934.

Nona F. Phillips and Frank Corpening were married September 4, 1904, at Kingsville, Tenn. Mrs. Corpening was born there May 28, 1881.

Mrs. Corpening is survived by one sister, Mrs. Daisy Hickman of Bonanza. Final rites will be announced next week by the Earl Whitlock Funeral home.

23 Years Ago

March 23, 1925—Heavy artillery, from nearly every class of people in the county, was brought to bear upon the county court at the hearing in an attempt to quash the proposed toll road contract with Fred Duke's Central Oregon Stage company on the road from here to Bend.

March 24, 1925—An oral contract was entered into by the county court and Duke brothers whereby the Duke Central Oregon Stage company agreed to keep the highway from Crescent, open 42 miles south the next two months for $600.

March 25, 1925—Fouls and inability to shoot baskets led to the defeat last night of Klamath County high school by Merrill, 16 to 10, for the championship of the county. Two star players of the local team, Dean Beckley and Dale Soule, were dismissed from the game by the referee.

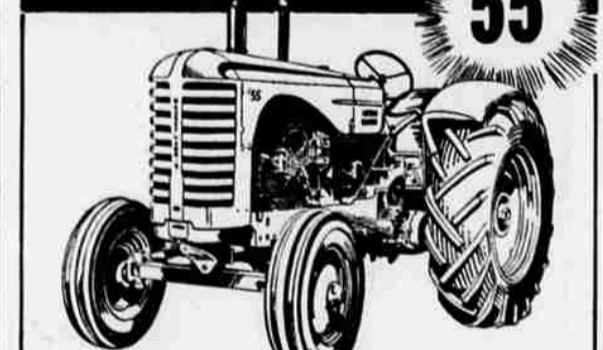

Angered at what they term a "miscarriage of justice" in the Leonard Moore and Ed Purcell case, a movement is under way among Indians of the Klamath reservation to deny all white people the privilege of fishing, hunting and trapping on the reservation.

March 27, 1925—Robert E. Strahorn, president of the O. C. & E., announced application for extension of lines from Sprague River 63 miles toward Silver Lake and 65 miles toward Lakeview.

Stone's advertised prime rib beef roasts for 15c a pound. Tom Mix starred in "The Golden Thought" at the Pine Tree.

March 28, 1925—PORTLAND—Completion of The Dalles-California highway in 1926 was decided upon by the state highway commission yesterday.

Here's RESERVE POWER... MASSEY-HARRIS "55"

HUSKY... HEAVY DUTY 4-5 PLOW POWER...

Mighty monarch of the Massey-Harris line, the new "55" is waiting for a chance at your heaviest farm jobs. Four-cylinder, vertical type engine has a 4 1/2 inch bore, 6-inch stroke, displaces 382 cubic inches. It's a bear for work... takes 4-5 plow jobs in stride with reserve power ready when you need it. Yet, big brute that it is, the "55" handles easily, has all the convenience features ordinarily found only on smaller tractors; and maintenance costs are surprisingly low.

Equipped with "VELVET-RIDE" SEAT

The new Massey-Harris "55" is regularly equipped with the shock-absorbing "Velvet-Ride" seat. It takes the jabs and jolts out of tractor riding... eliminates "tractor back"—those sharp pains and aches you've suffered after long hours on a conventional tractor seat. For tractor riding "smooth as velvet" make it a Massey-Harris!
