Students walked out of KU today with a four-day Easter vacation ahead of them. School takes up again on Tuesday, March 30. H-Y sponsored the annual Easter assembly at 11:30 today, with Glenn Lorenz, president, handling the proceedings. The assembly was strictly of a religious nature and the speakers consisted of Rev. Victor Phillips and Father John Delahunty.

Unless there is a sudden spurt of spring weather, the non-denominational Easter Sunrise service planned for Sunday morning at 6:15 a. m., will be held in the high school auditorium. H-Y, Tri-Hi-Y and Christian Endeavor are the sponsors. Margie Robinson is in charge of the service along with Lois Landrum, Doretha Miller, Bando Moore, Morris Weakley and Donald Woods. Rev. H. J. Thorp will be the main speaker.

Pelleau and Jaycee basketball players and their coaches will sit down to a three-course dinner tonight in the cafeteria at 6:30. The occasion is the third annual basketball banquet sponsored by the Sugar 'n Spice. Decorations follow the school colors, red and white, and being managed by Fonda Parsons. Placecards will be in the form of small basketballs.

To brighten up the atmosphere a little, the students in Bob Hanisley's art classes are painting the walls and covering the blackboards of the art room. The walls and ceiling are being done in teal green and dove grey, and the blackboards are being covered with a special kind of cloth to pin posters to. The new ceramic room is being painted a light yellow.
