WISCONSIN SET TO CALL TURN ON CANDIDATES

MacArthur, Stassen, Dewey All Make Stand On Policy Of Getting Tough With Reds

MILWAUKEE, April 5 (AP)—Wisconsin voters, fed an unvarying get-tough-with Russia diet, call the turn tomorrow on three republican presidential candidates.

Their choice lies between Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in a primary to pick 27 delegates to the GOP national convention.

But no matter which candidate comes out on top, he will be pledged by campaign speeches—or in MacArthur's case by friends' statements—to smack down communism in this country and deal firmly with Moscow.

Indications are that this type of campaign will be carried over into

Charter Plan To Be Pushed To Election

YREKA, April 5—Charter government advocates, at a meeting in Weed Wednesday night, voted to push the movement to a conclusion—an election next fall.

With the implication that the supervisors do not intend to redistrict the county despite their recent motion, the group even went so far as to draw up a tentative list of 15 freeholders, for whom nomination petitions will be circulated by April 22 in time to get their names on the June primary ballot. The freeholders will write a proposed charter.

Any person can circulate nomination papers in his own behalf, but the charter group, which scheduled another session at the Sons of Italy hall in Weed for 7:30 p. m. April 9, selected a county committee of five men who will come up with an "organized" list of freeholder candidates.

Tentative Slate
The tentative slate is Frank Weimer, Frank Duggan, L. D. Taylor and Don V. Bank of Dunsmuir; John W. Schuler, Clint Jackson and Lynn Thompson, Mount Shasta; W. J. Evans and Clarence Moteschbacher, Dorris; two men from Tulelake; Carl Tuttle of Etna, John Mazzini and Cliff Dismukes of Weed and J. L. Grisham of Horse creek.

The committee picked to interview the men and learn whether they will accept nominations are Don Potter, Jack Morrison, R. A. Matzewska, Bob Gross, Dr. C. C. Dickinson and Frank Grope.

In addition, a group from each community in the county will select members of a general "charter good government" committee, which will get out the vote, plan advertising and publicity, and round up financial backers.

Soon after the meeting had been called to order Wednesday night, Victor K. Golla, Dunsmuir, funeral director, who later declined to be a freeholder for "business reasons," suggested a vote be taken to determine whether the group still wanted to go ahead with the charter government movement in light of the board of supervisors' vote to redistrict.

Golla added he thought the board had done so because it cooled the group's decision earlier in the month to qualify petitions for election of freeholders.

The voice vote carried with no dissenters.

Several leaders in the charter government then spoke, including W. A. Barr of Mount Shasta, District No. 2 supervisorsial candidate who reported there are 600 charters in the United States, 10 of which are in California.

Girl Suffers Cut When Horse Falls

A nasty gash on the forehead from her last ride hasn't cooled 12-year-old Claudia Miller's enthusiasm for horseback riding.

Claudia's horse fell Sunday afternoon and in his struggle to get to his feet kicked the child in the forehead. She was brought to Hillside hospital where she was given emergency treatment and the cut was stitched.

She is at home today at 2520 S. 6th, and wants to ride again as soon as her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller, say it's okay.

Traffic Charge Brings Day In Jail

Millard Leroy Curry, 26, of 518 1/2 High, is spending today in jail as a result of a minor collision on S. 6th late last night.

Curry's car sideswiped a machine driven by Eddie L. Rieker, 5113 S. 6th, and a city police patrol car trailed Curry, who did not stop at the scene of the accident, to 5th and High where he was arrested.

He was booked for failure to stop at the scene of the accident and this morning pleaded guilty. Police Judge Howard Strode fined Curry $25 and sentenced him to jail for one day.

Nutritional Survey To Be Made In City

Final arrangements for the nutritional project survey to be conducted by the U. S. public health service in cooperation with the county health department and county medical and dental societies, will be made this week.

Amelia Feary, public health nurse, arrived Monday to outline the program which will be carried out in the high school from April 19 to May 14, consulting with Dr. Seth M. Kerron, health officer.

The survey will embrace approximately 384 high school students 14, 15 and 16 years of age who were born in this county and have lived here continuously since. County high school principals are sending out letters this week to parents of eligible children for consent in making the survey.

Purpose of the survey is to measure nutritional deficiencies, general health and tooth decay.

The survey is under the supervision of Dr. Sheldon Dray of the U. S. public health service, a dentist, four bio-chemists, two nurses, two nutritionists and two bacteriologists. Every child examined will have a complete dental X-ray.

Results of the project will be available to parents of the children involved, county medical and dental societies, and the public health department.

The survey will include: a brief medical history of the subject, dietary habits with a complete one-day record, blood chemistry from finger puncture, bacteriology and chemistry of saliva, dental inspection and X-ray, medical inspection for nutritional deficiency and an analysis of Klamath county water.
