

Gems Take Initial Action Step Today

Contest At Modesto Will Baptize Squad

By CORKY DUNCAN
Sports Editor, Lodi News-Sentinel

LODI, Calif., April 10.—(Special)—With just three days of work behind them, the Klamath Gems of the class D Pac West league put on their first baseball exhibition tonight, shifting from their training camp here to Modesto to play Modesto's class B team of the California State League. What the starting lineup will be is still something of a mystery, but Manager Joe Gantenbein probably will put virtually every man on his roster into action before the night is through.

The weather at Lodi since the Gems began training has been as sunny as the left-hand side of an egg and the boys love it. It hasn't been too hot for realing-up exercises with some pitching and hitting drills. The Gems ought to be death on the ball-paths this season—they run all the time. Never walk when there's room enough to run.

The crowd at Lawrence field averages between 18 and 21 years of age and are a healthy lot. They turn into a first-class baseball outfit with expert handling. Gantenbein, Marty Krug and Sterling Hammack are handling that end of the work.

About 32 boys are on the field now, striving to survive the cut that must come before too long. Seventeen of them will be around when the 23-day training grind is finished.

Some of the Oregon boys are experiencing a little difficulty with the Lodi weather. It seems to effect their breathing a bit but they should get accustomed to the climate before long.

Don McShane, representative of the Philadelphia Phils who is here with the Gems, has nothing but admiration for the facilities found at Lawrence park—the field is good and other accommodations adequate to give the boys in training a break.

Members of the squad traveling to Modesto today on the club's private bus include:

Pitchers—John Lopenan, Art Moyer, Louis Vitous, Erwin Ebelmayer, Millard Burt, Robert Blensino, Manuel Panlitz, Bert Krohn, Albert Anderson, Hubert Vadderhoff and Tom Pellizer.

Catchers—Dick Descalzo, Amanda Pozo and Tom Mankey.

Infielders—Joe Anselmo, Richard Spall, Bob Wallace, Ronald Rodenberger, Muri Metz, Gordy LeSchaio, Turk Dahle and Joe Gantenbein.

Outfielders—Irvin Whit, Eugene Bannier and Vincent Bianchini.

Owls Have Five Tilts

OVS, April 10.—A slate of five football games has been lined up for the Oregon Vocational school Owls for the next grid season and three or four more may be added within a few days.

Some of the dates are being held up in deference to the high school schedule, which isn't complete.

The Owls will tee off September 18 against the Southern Oregon college Red Raiders in a game at Medford, then meeting Eastern Oregon College of Education here for the first game September 24.

On October 8 Lewis and Clark college has been booked to be played here if the Klamath Pelicans are not using Modoc field, or in Portland otherwise. The October 22 date with Vanport college hangs the same way.

Then on November 6 a tilt with the Chico State Jayvees is scheduled for Clatsop. It still is going on with the Oregon Frosh and Oregon State Books for games October 1 and October 15, but Oregon College of Education may come in for the October 15 date. Both Chico State and Humboldt State are interested in a late game November 24, which probably would have to be played away. The date was offered to Humboldt first.

The Owls will use Modoc field for home games and therefore have to match a schedule to coincide with that of the Pelicans.

No coach has yet been located for the Owls.

Sanity Code Enforcement Seen Coming

KANSAS CITY, April 10.—(AP)—Enforcement machinery of the NCAA's "sanity code" is set up so that "light minded" member schools could find themselves playing one another in athletic contests if they fail to observe the rules.

That was the heart of a message brought the commissioners of the nation's ten major conferences by NCAA President Karl Leib last night.

Guest speaker at a banquet of the National Association of Intercollegiate Commissioners' annual meeting, the University of Iowa professor declared the colleges and universities of the nation were "ready for business" in their campaign to clean up intercollegiate athletics.

"We are past the talking stage," Dr. Leib said. "We are now ready to remedy the evils we have been talking about for the past several years."

Barrett's Opener

SEATTLE, April 10.—(AP)—Rotund Dick Barrett will get the call to pitch the home opener here Tuesday for the Seattle Rainiers, Manager Jo-Jo White notified the home office today. Dick has won his first two starts, both in extra innings.

Athletics Break Loss String—Whip Class D

BOSTON, April 10.—(AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder and the American league's triple batting champion, will be moved into the Faulkner hospital today for a possible appendectomy early tomorrow morning.

Final decision will be made by Dr. Ralph McCarthy, the team physician, who joined Williams and his traveling companion, Pitching Coach Paul Schreiber, when their train from New Orleans reaches Washington early today.

DALLAS, April 10.—(AP)—Chicago Cub Skipper Charlie Grimm has become enthusiastic over Andy Pafko's shift from the outfield to third base. The transplanted center fielder has become a smooth fielder at the hot corner and with more practice should show additional improvement.

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 10.—(AP)—Pitching power appeared to be the main headache for Manager Ben Chapman as the Philadelphia Phils began their trek northward.

Ed Heuser, whom the Phils acquired from Brooklyn, already has proved his value as a relief hurler. However, the Phils have to count for some real help from Walt Dubiel, Oscar Judd, Ken Heintzelman, Al Jurisich and Charley Bicknell.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 10.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics were back in the win column again after snapping their six-game losing streak.

The victory that placed the A's back in the black, however, was made at the expense of a class D outfit—Moultrie, the A's farm club in the Georgia-Florida league, which suffered an 11-0 shattering at Moultrie, Ga., yesterday.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—(AP)—Hal Newhouse, who has pitched the Detroit Tigers' season opener for the past three years, was named yesterday by Manager Steve O'Neill to twirl the Bengals' 1948 opener against Chicago, April 20.

Newhouse then went out and celebrated by hurling the Tigers to a 4-2 win over the Memphis Chickies last night.

Frankie Hart, a pretty capable wrestler himself, took the role of third man for a couple of wrestling bouts, and apparently would be better suited if he'd rejoin Schaffner and Marx in the tailoring dodge. He is no referee.

Hart was the main event—Stojack vs. Bob Kenaston—to Stojack. Vanport college hangs the same way.

MANY SEEK JOB BEING PEL COACH

The job of being football coach at Klamath Union high school apparently looks attractive to many grid mentors throughout the state—some 15 serious bids for the post are already in the hands of Superintendent of Schools Arnold Gralapp and more are expected.

Gralapp declined to name any of the applicants, saying that most of them were already situated with one school or another and are just casting around for something better.

As many of the applicants as possible will be given a personal interview with Gralapp and members of the school board.

"The field is open," the superintendent said, "and there is no deadline for applications." Real applications and inquiries are coming in from all over the state and some from outside Oregon.

The job was thrown open last week when the school board decided not to retain Ed Ryan as Pelican coach for another year.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
DENVER — Frankie Angustain, 150, Ysleta, Tex., outpointed Mel Brown, 162 1/2, St. Paul, 10.
MONTREAL — Beauzelle, 130 1/2, Augusta, Ga., outpointed Johnny Green, 146, Montreal, 10.

Seals Dragged Off High Limb By Hollywood

Defeat, 6-4, First In New Season For Lefty O'Doul Boys

By The Associated Press

San Francisco is still in the Pacific Coast league.

The Hollywood Stars brought Senior Lefty O'Doul's high-flying Seals down to earth last night with a 6-4 defeat, their first of the season.

It ended the Seals' six-game win apurt and stifled—temporarily at least—talk that San Francisco is in a class by itself.

The slugging Stars hopped on Bob Joyce for two runs in the first and drove him to cover with four in the third to sew up the decision. It broke a four-game losing skein for the Hollywoods.

It was a different Storey—Harvey, of course—as Portland turned the tables on San Diego in the only other PCL offering. Storey, one of the league's more consistent batsmen, hit for the cycle—single, double, triple and homer—accounting for four runs in the 11 to 4 victory.

OTHER HOMERS
Fenton Mole and Dick Wenner also homered for the Beavers, who rose to a third place tie (5-5-500) with Los Angeles. Young Duane Pilette went the distance for Portland.

San Diego's defeat kept the Padres from narrowing the two-game margin by which they trail the leading Seals.

Los Angeles at Oakland and Seattle at Sacramento were rained out. They'll try to make it up in doubleheaders today.

Timer Error Cancels Tilt

PORTLAND, Ore., April 10.—(AP)—A timer's mistake last night threw out a Pacific coast professional basketball league playoff game, and made necessary another contest Sunday.

Portland was leading Seattle, 81-60, with 20 seconds to go when the timer accidentally set off the final gun.

At the time Al Brightman of Seattle was dribbling in for a lay-up shot. The players stopped, and Brightman scored. The referee refused to allow the goal. Portland finished out the playing time without a change in score.

Seattle protested, and League President Ray Clark—a co-owner of the Portland team—ordered the contest replayed Sunday night.

Portland leads 2-1 in the playoff series, and needs another victory to sew up the league title.

Coach Steps Up

PORTLAND, April 10.—(AP)—Carl Knudsen will become Jefferson high school baseball coach here Monday.

Knudsen, who has been freshman baseball coach at Jefferson, will succeed Lindsey Campbell, diamond mentor at the school since 1926. Campbell will become vice-principal of the school.

Sox Look Forward Only To Hot Summer

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(NEA)—It makes no difference from what angle you look at the White Sox—they're still wearing that second-division look.

The Sox haven't been up among the elite since they finished fourth in 1943. Their drop cost Jimmy Dykes his job two years ago and brought up the old favorite, Ted Lyons. Theodore is one of the most beloved and able characters in the game, but he can't do it with mirrors, or, if you care to put it another way, without mirrors.

Trouble is, the elder statesman on the Chicago Americans are beginning to fade and the replacements with the greatest ability do not appear to be quite ripe.

The only 300-or-better hitters held over from last year are Luke Appling, 396, and outfielder Taft Wright, 324.

Although Appling, who is starting his 18th campaign, appears indestructible, any shortstop at 39 is a gamble. He may fall apart, as is the One Hot Glaiser, at any moment.

Wright is 35. Diamond rigor mortis can set in for him, too.

To make matters worse, the South Siders traded away their biggest winner when they sent Ed Lopat to the Yankees.

They got catcher Aaron Robinson, who will help, in return, but who's going to take up the 16-game slack left by Lopat?

The veteran Joe Haynes, 14-6, and Frank Pappas, 12-12, will key-stone the pitchers. Orval Grove is eager to better the 6-8 mark he posted in '47. No other Pale Hose returnee could win more than five.

Howard Judson, a young man up from Waterloo, Ia., who is addicted to walking in his sleep, has possibilities, but it's a long jump from Class B. Ed Albosta, who couldn't make the grade with the Pirates, is trying after some success in Hollywood.

Either Robinson or Mike Tresh will be the first-string catcher. They are even as receivers, but the ex-Yank is the stronger batter. Ralph Weigel, late of Baltimore, seems to be winning the third spot.

Undoubtedly the Sox have helped themselves at first base, where Tony Lupien contributes no little fielding finesse, plus the .341 average at the plate that endeared him to Hollywood fans. The New Englander didn't have too much luck during the semesters he spent with the Red Sox and Phils, but Lyons believes he has found himself.

Don Kolloway and Cass Michaels have been splitting the second base post with Floyd Baker leading Ken Richardson at third. Jack Wallassa played the early games at short while Appling was thawing out, but his 195 average in the 81 games he took in last season isn't promising.

Wright will have to be one of the outfield fixtures because of the authority he carries in his bat. Dave Philley has been on the verge of blooming for a couple of years, and it will be all right with Lyons if this is the season. There will be room also for Bob Kennedy, a varsity man in '47. Two more Hollywood grads, Jim Delsing and Gus Zernial, are nosing into the picture. If they can hit as well in the American league as they did on the coast—but it doesn't happen very often.

Fatently, the Sox need punch and pitching.

The lack of one is often offset to some degree by a super-abundance of the other, but when you're in Mr. Lyons' place and have neither, there's nothing much to look forward to except a hot summer.

Gaining Favor As Derby Nears

Although Citation is the winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, My Request, shown with Eddie Arcano up, is gaining boosters as Derby day approaches. The odds on My Request have come down from 10-1 against to 6-1.

Todd's 67 Leads In Master's Golf Event

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10.—(AP)—Harry Todd, a gangly Texan, held a precarious one-stroke lead as the third round of the 72-hole Masters Golf tournament started today, and grouped well within easy distance of him were nearly a score of sharp-shooting rivals.

Todd tacked a 67—the best round of the tournament to date—to his first round par 72 yesterday for a 139 total. Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., was breathing on his neck at 140, the result of two 70 rounds.

Bobby Jones, making his annual token appearance in the event, slipped to an 81—his highest competitive score—for a 36-hole total of 157.

Only eight bettered par figures yesterday and six equalled them as the tricky greens and lurking hazards of the Augusta course made it hard to get a score of sharp-shooting rivals.

MY REQUEST DRAWS EYE OF CLOCKS

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP)—My Request puts his Kentucky Derby aspirations on the line at Jamaica race track today, with the railbirds anxious to determine definitely whether he can travel beyond a mile and win.

The occasion will be the experimental handicap number two, at a mile and one-sixteenth, with $25,000 added money for a field of nine three-year-olds.

My Request, handsome chestnut colt owned by Ben F. Whitaker, Texas oilman, couldn't win beyond six furlongs as a two-year-old, although he came close twice when he essayed a longer route.

A week ago, in the experimental number one at six furlongs, My Request exploded from the head of the stretch to whip his nearest rival, Joe W. Brown's Riverlane, by five lengths.

He'll meet Riverlane and a much tougher field this afternoon, and another smashing triumph would stamp him as a Kentucky Derby contender worthy of serious consideration.

Sutherland To Hospital

PITTSBURGH, April 10.—(AP)—Dr. John B. Jock Sutherland, who was stricken last Wednesday near Bandana, Ky., while on a scouting trip for his Pittsburgh Steelers, was under treatment today in West Penn hospital here.

The 59-year-old coach was flown home last night from Paducah, Ky., after a 30-mile automobile trip from St. Mar's hospital at Cairo, Ill. Dr. Ralph Daugherty, physician for the national football league club, said Sutherland will be given a complete check-up within a day or two. He said he did not know how long Sutherland would remain at the hospital.

Dr. H. F. Russell of Wickliffe, Ky., who treated Sutherland at Cairo, said the coach was suffering from fatigue resulting from overwork.

VICTORIA CHIEF ASKS MERELY FOR HITTERS

VICTORIA, B. C., April 10.—(AP)—Manager Ted Norbert, who used to be a handy man with a slab of ash, evidently has asked his 1948 baseball prospects just one question: "Can you hit?"

Information seeping north from the California training camp of the Victoria Western International league entry indicates the club will be loaded with heavy hitters. If it isn't an overload of pre-season enthusiasm, Norbert can point in any direction with his eyes closed and say "That guy is a 300 hitter."

Take a peek at the outfield: Lou Kubiak clouted 325 last season with the rival Salem Senators; Archie Wilson rapped 338 for the Ventura, Calif., club; Charlie Ballast hit 340 with Twin Falls, Idaho, and pilfered 28 bases. Frank Cirimelli will be back with Norbert's athletics in an outfield utility role.

The infield? Mike Dalton, playing last year with Salt Lake City, slammed a solid 300. Bob Koraleski, third baseman for Twin Falls, was in the 330 class. Wayne Peterson was at Bisbee, Ariz., in 1947—hitting 374. Rounding out the infield staff are Paul Jones, a Baker Crawford, Calif., product, and Duane Crawford, once with Salem and last season with Denver.

Len Kasparovich, the Hawaiian-born righthander, is back to head the mound corps. A regular starter, Len posted 14 wins and 12 losses as Victoria wound up fifth in the 1947 standings. Joe Blankenship, relief last season, is another returnee, but most of the mound corps is in the rookie class. One—Del Owens—is an off-season football player with the New York Yanks.

Dick Walkingshaw won 17 and lost nine in his first crack at organized ball last year with Twin Falls. Al Lague comes from the same club with an 18-11 record. Left-hander James Propst won 15 and lost six with Bisbee.

Back of the bat Norbert will have Sal Recca, who was Kasparovich's battery mate in the Hawaiian winter league, and Dan Danielson. The Athletics hit the long trail against Yakima in the Apple city April 16 and play their home opener April 26 against Spokane.

Crisler Says He'll Remain At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 10.—(AP)—H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, coach of the University of Michigan's undefeated 1947 football team, today squelched rumors to the contrary by announcing he would remain at Michigan as athletic director.

For more than a week rumors have persisted that Crisler was on the verge of leaving his Michigan athletic post to accept a lucrative position in industry.

"My roots are too deep in the university x x x and college athletics to leave my position," Crisler said.

Fritz said he had a "serious offer" having to do with industrial relations and was very much interested for a time but turned it down finally yesterday to "stay in a job I know something about."

The 49-year-old Crisler started the sports world two weeks ago by resigning, suddenly and dramatically, from active coaching, only a few months after his unbeaten Wolverine team had plastered Southern California 49 to 0 in the Rose bowl.
