Farm Price Support Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The house agriculture committee voted unanimously Friday to extend government farm price supports to June 30, 1950. The legislation now goes to the house floor for action. Generally, farm commodities now are selling at prices above support levels. The bill would reduce the support of cotton from 92.5 per cent of parity to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is an artificial price base designed to give farmers a purchasing power equal to that in some previous "favorable period," usually 1909-1914. This is what the committee proposes: 1. Price supports at 90 per cent of parity for the basic commodities cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts. These supports now are at 90 per cent with the exception of cotton which is at 92.5 per cent. 2. For so-called non-basic commodities—supports ranging from 80 per cent of parity to the highest support level in force for 1948, with the exception of milk and milk products on which the support shall not be less than 90 per cent. 3. Continue government authority to impose acreage restrictions and to set marketing quotas. Without the legislation, price supports on non-basic commodities will end December 31.

Oregon Story In Colliers

"Out Where the West Begins" by Jim Marshall is a story in semi-travelogue style of Western Oregon and appearing in the April 24 issue of Collier's magazine. Along with the article, which deals much with Oregon's scenic beauty, rivers, streams, mountains and celebrations, is a full page map showing the western half of the state. Fort Klamath is depicted by an Indian brave, his squaw and papoose holding hands in front of a gaily painted teepee, while to the south Pelicans at Klamath lake are feeding each other huge fish. Crater lake is shown along with a skiing form, while to the north a cow is peacefully grazing, stressing this country's cattle industry. There are a few flaws in the map. Oregon City is located south of Salem and the Oregon Caves are a little off form, but the map is interesting and has plenty of tourist appeal, apparent intent of the article. Medford is not shown on the map.

Woman Sought In Stabbing

Mack Shear, 57, who lives in a cabin back of the Arcade hotel, was treated at Klamath Valley hospital Thursday night for a small knife wound in his back, allegedly inflicted by a woman. Friday morning Shear swore out an assault and battery complaint against his unidentified assailant in justice court. He was brought over from the city jail where he was booked on a drunk charge after leaving the hospital. Shear told police a woman stepped behind him and stabbed him as he stood at the bar in a downtown tavern, but investigation has shown that the trouble might have taken place in or near Shear's cabin. He had a one-inch wound in his left shoulderblade.

Hawley Pulp Plant Sold

PORTLAND, April 17 (AP)—The sale of the Hawley Pulp and Paper company to a group including two newspapers was completed today. The paper company posted 94 per cent of the stock for the sale to the Publishers Paper company and to Blyth & Co. Inc., investment brokers. Included in the Publishers Paper company are officials of the Los Angeles Times, The Desert News of Salt Lake City, the Oregon Pulp and Paper company and Columbia River Paper Mills. Elected directors were Jack Smith, Portland, who was with Hawley Pulp and Paper under former ownership; James Miller, Blyth & Co.; Norman Chandler, Los Angeles Times; Richard G. Adams, Los Angeles Times; Harry W. Bowers, Los Angeles Times; Albert E. Bowen, Desert News; and H. M. Youel, Oregon Pulp and Paper. Officers will be named April 28.

Sea Lanes Watched For Floating Mines

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17 (AP)—The coast guard patrolled shipping lanes off the west coast Friday for more floating mines, believed to be Japanese. A coast guard spokesman set at 18 the number sighted since Monday, and blamed the sudden increase on Aleutian storms. A cutter was dispatched to sink one 10 miles off Eureka yesterday. Others were reported in Seattle-Honolulu steamship lanes.

Roseburg Voters Ok Tax Levy

ROSEBURG, April 17 (AP)—Roseburg taxpayers approved last night an excess tax levy of $202,360 for the schools in the coming fiscal year. The vote in the special election was 510 to 217. The result cleared the way for the city school board to adopt a total operating budget of $540,873 for next year.

No Truant Offense Here

READING, Pa., April 17 (AP)—Reading's 200th anniversary queen has settled her difficulties with the truant officer. Nineteen-year-old Marie E. Henne missed so many classes since becoming bicentennial queen that a truant officer visited her home to learn why. Marie, a post-graduate student preparing for a nursing career, explained to the truant officer that she just didn't have time to keep her engagements as queen and attend her classes. School officials decided they could grant Marie a few concessions to permit Reading to keep its queen. It was no strain for the school board to make concessions, the truant officer explained today. He said that Miss Henne, as a post-graduate student, does not come under compulsory attendance laws. Some Reading residents opined it was a neatly contrived publicity gag. Little Ads get Big Results. ## Arlington Votes Down Port Dock

ARLINGTON, April 17 (AP)—By a six-vote margin Arlington again last night voted down a proposal to build a $200,000 port dock and grain terminal. The count was 202 to 196. The Arlington port commission—writing to build a dock and grain elevator—said the outcome will be contested. The army engineers dredged a $300,000 channel to serve Arlington after the port district made its promise. The army has indicated it will bill the district for the $300,000 unless the promise is fulfilled.

Construction is to be started within six to eight weeks from the time approval is received. Next lowest bid was made by the company at Pittsburg and was for $100,743.20, and the third lowest came from Stacy at $102,643.80.

Vincze Wins Debt Judgment
A. L. Vincze has received judgment in circuit court against Richard C. Payne for a $389.86 debt and permission to sell an attached drug-line owned by Payne to satisfy the debt. Vincze is operator of the OK Transfer company, and brought suit against Payne after the latter assertedly failed to pay the company for hauling the drugline and other equipment in December and January. Payne did not show up in court to contest the suit. Clarence Humble and J. H. Napier represented Vincze in the civil suit. According to Chinese tradition, use of cloth was evolved from the practice of women carrying their children in fiber nets.
