

Eighth Grade Girls Take Homemaking Classes At Klamath Junior High Here

By OLIVE WILSON
Homemaking teacher, Fremont School

"Learn to do by doing" might well be the motto of the homemaking classes of the Klamath Falls junior high school. All of the girls in the eighth grade take homemaking, for a 45-minute period each day during the entire year.

During the first half of the year, the girls study basic foods and nutrition, in relation to good health. The laboratory classes, that are carried along with their study, do cooking problems for breakfasts and luncheons. The making and planning of menus and correct serving of meals is stressed during the food lessons. The work is carried out in an electrically-equipped laboratory. There are four ranges and a large refrigerator, recently installed for the use of food classes.

The second half of the year is devoted to sewing, clothing care and selection. The girls are taught simple sewing and use of hand tools for this phase of work. After the preliminary work in sewing, the girls take up work on the sewing machines. There are 10 electric machines in the department. The girls also study the best colors for the individual, in relation to clothing. Patterns and appropriate styles for the particular figure, is a worthwhile and interesting project for the students.

An important phase of the year's work, is on personal care, with lessons on skin care, nails and hair. Manicure lessons are given occasionally in classes, also demonstrations of hair styling and make-up for "teen-agers."

The courses in homemaking have been made as usable and practical as possible, as many students do not have further work after leaving the eighth grade. It is the hope and aim of the department to train the girls in personal care and household skills, that they may be more useful, and adept, and thus become better and happier home members.

4-H Cooking Ribbons Go To Winners

Championships were decided upon and blue and red award ribbons presented on cooking exhibits at the Klamath county 4-H club fair which went into its second day Friday.

Launderette Service Opens Here Saturday

Opening of the Launderette, a self service laundry, in a recently completed building at S. 6th and Owens street, Monday, April 26, was announced Saturday by John and Kathleen White, former residents of this city.

A battery of 20 Bendix washers has been installed in the building and an attendant will be on duty at all times. Housewives will be able to bring their laundry to the Launderette and after putting in their wash, will be able to go on about their shopping or wait for the 30-minute period required to do the wash. Soap is included in the service.

Four commercial dryers have also been installed as part of the service. Use of these is optional.

The Whites said Saturday that Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the service would be free to any woman in the Klamath basin. He was with Standard Oil company for four years and Mrs. White operated Hastings Beauty Salon. They left here for Yreka, where they entered business and owned and operated the Yreka Seed and Grain company.

Removal Of Ships Draws Protest
SEATTLE, April 24 (AP)—Proposed removal of reserve fleet ships from Olympia to a mooring at Astoria, Ore., has been protested by Mayor William F. Devin in a telegram to the maritime commission. Devin said his action yesterday was at the request of the Seattle chamber of commerce.

Juneau Mill To Remain Closed

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 24 (AP)—Following a directors' meeting at Cook Bay, Ore., officials of the Juneau Spruce corporation said last night they have been instructed to keep the mill here closed until full crews are ready to return to work.

A telegram from Secretary D. D. Daahney said the directors made their decision Thursday.

It said the board has no intention of employing CIO longshoremen for the barge-loading jobs which have been filled in the past by members of the CIO-affiliated sawmill union. The longshoremen demanded the loading jobs and started picketing the plant. The mill was closed when the sawmill workers refused to pass the picket line.

Nudists Protest Swooping Planes

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., April 24 (AP)—Residents of a Warwickshire nudist colony complained to the royal air force.

They said pilots were swooping low over the camp swimming pool, leaning out and "making gestures" at the people below.

A senior RAF officer promised "it will not happen again."

SHIPMENT GROWS

ADA, O., April 24 (AP)—The express bill read, "one cat," but when Lee Morrison opened the crate he found a cat and six kittens yesterday. The express company had added an extra charge, too—12 cents for milk at Cincinnati.

US Said To Have Weapons

MIAMI, Fla., April 24 (AP)—Ellis M. Zacharias, former naval intelligence expert, says the United States has three weapons far more powerful than the atomic bomb.

In an interview here yesterday he listed them as "bacteriological," "biological," and "climatological."

"Russia knows that we developed these three weapons during the war and due to the tremendous resources in the war, all of the weapons are immediately available in sufficient numbers," he said.

"The atomic bomb ranks fourth in consideration of destructiveness. The atomic bomb has a local effect while the other three are widespread," he added.

In the United States navy your schooling expenses are all taken care of by Uncle Sam.

Basin Co-Op To Close Up Tule Store

TULELAKE, April 24 — Directors of the Klamath Basin Co-operative have notified stockholders that the Tulelake store, opened in 1941, is being closed and all merchandise will be put on sale beginning Monday.

The plant at Hatfield, distribution point for petroleum products, will continue in business, with Ray Schroeder, present manager, in charge.

Management of the local store has changed several times since the interests of the McMillum Lumber company were purchased and hardware, household electrical appliances, paints and other materials were stocked.

The first manager was T. C. Hagerty, who resigned two years ago. He was followed by Earl Ager for a brief time, and a year ago Homer Smith, Lakeview, became manager of all Co-operative branches in the basin, including Merrill, Tulelake and Klamath Falls.

Smith resigned a month ago and was succeeded by Darrel Vernon, Tulelake, who announced Thursday that he will return to farming.

It is probable that as some later date the Hatfield plant will be expanded to handle fertilizer, insecticides and other farm lines.

Closing of the local plant removes Co-operative retail stores from the southern section of the Klamath basin.

The Merrill branch was sold some weeks ago to Shuck Brothers of Merrill and Tulelake. The plant in Klamath Falls will continue to operate.
