

Washington Claimed By Stassen Men

By JACK BELL
Growing signs of a stop-Stassen movement were countered today by claims that Harold E. Stassen may grab a share of Washington state's 19 GOP presidential nominating votes.

Stassen spokesmen here said supporters of the former Minnesota governor, by working down into the precincts, have put themselves in position to challenge Governor Thomas E. Dewey's men for control of the state's May 5 GOP party meeting.

That gathering will name the 19 Washington delegates to the republican convention at Philadelphia this summer.

Showed in Force
The story told by Stassen's backers is that his workers showed up in force at precinct meetings and succeeded in naming many delegates of their choosing to several county conventions, including the one in Spokane.

With this as a starter, the Stassen supporters contend they are certain to break into the national convention delegates lineup. That group had been generally regarded as likely to shift largely to Dewey after possible early ballots for Senator Harry Cain (Wash.) and Governor Earl Warren of California.

Dewey backers retorted, however, that Stassen is only whistling to keep up his courage in Washington. They said control of Seattle and Tacoma delegates will freeze the Minnesotan out at the state convention.

Cain Keynote
Cain is keynote speaker for that meeting and is in line to head the Washington delegation to Philadelphia. He is generally looked on as favoring Senator Arthur Vandenberg in a nominating deadlock. Formation of some Vandenberg clubs is reported under way in Washington.

Talk of the Michigan senator as a compromise candidate has increased, with old line forces in the party casting about for someone to stop Stassen if he continues his winning ways in the Ohio primary next Tuesday and in the May 21 Oregon balloting.

Backers of Senator Robert A. Taft said no one will have to look farther after the Ohio vote. The former Minnesota governor is trying to grab 23 of the state's 53 delegates away from Taft.

Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) predicted that the Stassen boom will nose dive when the primary returns are in.

Taft himself contended Stassen had passed his peak in Ohio.

Votes Claimed
Stassen has claimed he will have more votes on the first ballot than any other candidate. Dewey's backers contend their man has a majority of the delegates chosen thus far.

The New Yorker picked up more votes yesterday in Oklahoma when the state chose four delegates-at-large. Sixteen district delegates previously selected have expressed themselves as favoring Dewey.

Pennsylvania and Massachusetts swell the delegate list today, with Delaware, New Mexico and Tennessee adding their quotas tomorrow.

Pennsylvania picks 73 delegates expected to vote on the first ballot for Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa.) Dewey and Taft both claim strong support in the state.

Massachusetts' 35 delegates are expected to support Senator Leverett Saltonstall in the early balloting. They may go to Speaker Martin (Mass.) later.

President Truman is expected to have the backing of 74 delegates picked by Pennsylvania democrats today and most—if not all—of the support of 36 selected in Massachusetts.

FINED
QUINCY, MASS., April 27 (AP)—Daniel J. Lynch, 39, pleaded guilty in district court yesterday to registering horse race bets and was fined $100.

Lynch, totally blind, kept his horse plays in Brattle.
