Navy Flying Course OK'd For Klamath

The 13th naval district has announced today that Klamath Falls has been okayed for a naval aviation volunteer unit, and Lt. Al Morabee, local aircraft service operator, has been named commanding officer.

The unit, open to all ex-navy and marine personnel as well as KUNS graduates, will be equipped with Link trainers, non-flyable planes for ground and mechanical training, and full text courses.

Planes slated

Operable planes will be assigned the new unit when sufficient members have signed up, and it has been proven to 13th district officers that the unit is assured of becoming a permanent organization.

Flights to Seattle for full-duty training are planned as soon as the unit is activated. A navy K-4-D (DC-3) will call at Klamath Falls on Friday. Ity authorized personnel to Seattle for training on a full duty status, and return them to Klamath on Sunday evening.

A meeting has been called for Monday night, at the administration building at the airport by Lt. Morabee for all those interested in joining the proposed group. All ex-naval and marine personnel are especially urged to attend this meet in order to speed activation.

Two Hurt In Car Pile-Up

Two California motorists were hospitalized here early Friday afternoon when their car skidded on the wet pavement north of Algoma on highway 97 and overturned.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Eugene Fuller, 100 Bush street, San Francisco. Mrs. Fuller was the more seriously injured. She has had head and facial cuts and her husband has had head and leg injuries.

Four southbound cars were involved in the incident, state police reported. All were en route toward Klamath Falls. The lead car appeared to slow down as if to make a left turn onto a side road and the three cars following applied brakes. Both the first and second cars went on their way but the third car in line, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Van Ausdall of Los Angeles, spun around on the wet pavement and came to a stop.

The Fuller car also turned completely around but went off the highway into the ditch where it overturned.

The Van Ausdalls assisted the injured couple from the car and summoned Kaler's ambulance which brought Mr. and Mrs. Fuller to Hillside.

Fuller is said to be a long-time employe of Shell Oil company. He is 40 years of age and Mrs. Fuller is 38.

Masonic Club At OVS Slated

A meeting was held Thursday evening at Oregon Vocational school to organize a Square and Compass club on the campus.

Temporary officers were elected, president, Allen F. Betsch, who is instructor of the electrical appliance repair class; secretary, William B. Van Alstein, a student in the auto tune-up class.

A meeting was called for Monday, May 3, at 8 p. m. in the auto tune-up classroom to formulate a permanent organization.

The membership in the club is open to students and the personnel alike on the campus; all of those who have Masonic affiliations are cordially invited to membership.

Bay City Papers Boost Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (AP)—The Chronicle and the Examiner, morning newspapers here, will increase their delivered subscription rates 25 cents a month, from $1.75 to $2.

The Call-Bulletin, afternoon paper, will go from $1.25 to $1.50.

The three papers said heavy increases in all production and transportation costs led to the raise, part of which will be passed along to carriers and dealers.

The Oakland Tribune announced its monthly rate would be upped 25 cents to $1.75 a month.

The Oakland Post-Enquirer will increase to $1.40 a month, also up 25 cents.

THE WORD
ABERDEEN, May 1 (AP)—A student-adult panel here doesn't like the practice of clipping the hair of sophomores entering Weather-wax high school and it found words to say so.

Giving the sophs the pig-shave, the panel said, is "dangerous, injurious to reputation, foolish, silly, ridiculous, uncivilized, undemocratic and juvenile."

Gem-Red Sox Tilt Quashed

Rain in Oroville, Calif., has washed out the scheduled Far West Baseball league opener between the Klamath Falls Gems and Oroville Red Sox and a doubleheader has been slated for Sunday.

The downpour has been steady at Oroville for two days and just before noon tonight's tilt was called off. The Sunday twin bill will start at 6:15 p. m., California time. A game is scheduled for Saturday night and it may also be rained out.

Writes Prize Winner

Frances Stearns of Fremont Junior high turned in the prize winning paper in an Americanism essay sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

Frances Stearns Wins 1st Prize In Essay Contest

Frances Stearns, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns, 745 Pacific Terrace, won first prize in the Americanism essay contest recently conducted by Klamath unit No. 8, American Legion auxiliary, it was announced Thursday.

Second place winner is Sharon Ash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ash of Wocus. Honorable mention was given essays submitted by Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Taylor, 234 Ewauna, and Sylvia Hillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hillis, 810 Eldorado.

There were 56 entries, all from Fremont Junior high school, which is attended by all eighth graders in the city. Supervision in preparing the essays was done by Mrs. W. E. Nitzel and Dorothy Hutchinson of the junior high faculty. Judges were the Rev. David Barnett Jr., Stephen Moser and A. K. Downs.

Essay contests in schools are part of the program of the Legion auxiliary, and part of a national project. Frances' essay has been sent to Portland for the state contest in which the award is a set of encyclopedias. The local awards were $10, first, and $5, second, and were presented Thursday by Mrs. H. H. Ogle, local president of the American Legion auxiliary, at a school assembly.

The winning essay will be read over KPLW Monday at 5 p. m.

Police Capture Youths After Car Stealing Binge In Klamath

How a state officer captured two youths who had gone on a banditry binge was reported by state police here Friday.

The officer, William Hazelwood, who is stationed at Gilchrist, apprehended Robert Dale Meyer, 18, and Donald Leon Alexander, 16, near Lapine early Thursday morning after a high speed road chase.

According to the reports to officers here, the youths began a career of thievery in Sacramento. They stole a Buick car there, and later stole a Dodge in California, abandoning the latter machine after taking gas from it for the Buick.

They came into Klamath Falls, and stole a Buick belonging to the Herald and News Publishing company, and a Hudson belonging to Walt Blessinger. Both cars were abandoned just north of town after they were rifled.

The boys drove on to Chemult on US 97, and there broke into a service station, taking the cash register. They were frightened by Pat Chase, who heard them in the station, and fled north with Chase after them. He lost the trail and notified Hazelwood at Crescent.

The youths hid out near Crescent for several hours and Hazelwood, unable to find them, drove on north to Bend to report the case to officers there. Returning about 4 a. m.,

Gripe Session Slated For County Office

Members of the county court and budget committee were having what they term a "gripe session" on the tentative 1948-49 county budget, giving heads of the various county departments an opportunity to complain about finances for the next fiscal year.

John Reber, member of the court, said he didn't think the complaints would bring about much change in the budget as drawn up now "because we only have so much money."

Budget estimates made by the various county officials amounted to about $900,000, but in drawing up the tentative document, the estimates were cut here and there until a total of just over $715,000 was reached.

That is just about the exact amount of money the county can see coming in from taxation and other sources without an affirmative vote.

Principal item cut from the estimates was $152,000 for roads. The county has a road levy of three mills on the May 21 ballot.

Another cut of $1200 was in the salary of Ron Hewitt, juvenile officer, and was interpreted as a move by the budget-makers to force Hewitt to resign. His request for $1000 travel expense was halved.

The juvenile officer has not resigned and a member of the county court said that he expected Hewitt to appear before the budget group today.

Price Waives Hearing

Earl Lee Price, 18, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor involving a six-year-old girl, Thursday waived a preliminary hearing in justice court and indicated he would also waive indictment by the grand jury.

Price was arrested Wednesday night by state police on complaint of the child's father. He is a former inmate of the Chehalis, Wash. reform school.

The youth is held in the county jail in lieu of $2000 bail.

Also waiving a justice court hearing Thursday was Leo E. Maselbas, self-confessed burglar who was caught earlier this week after he dropped through a skylight into an apartment back of the Red Rooster cafe on Klamath avenue.

Maselbas is charged with burglary and held in the county jail.

Scholarship

MARY LOU CASE

Mary Lou Case daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Case of 613 Washington, was notified by telegram from Mills college in Oakland that she has been awarded a four-year trustee scholarship, 1948-1952, to the residence college for women.

Miss Case is one of 11 young women selected from over the United States and Hawaii for the coveted scholarships which are granted in recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement and personal distinction. The award is valued at $2000 which is applied at the rate of $500 annually on the student's tuition for the four undergraduate years.

Miss Case, a student at Klamath Union high school, is secretary of Girls' League and secretary of the Honor society. She also is a member of the Teen-Age club committee, Latin club, Quill and Scroll, and serves on the staffs of the high school newspaper and the high school annual. She will begin her studies at Mills college on September 20.

The tradition of Mills college dates back to 1852—the founding of the Benecia Young Ladies' seminary from which Mills college emerged.

PTA Confab Winds Up

Officers and delegates to the 35th annual convention of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers left Klamath Falls by chartered bus, private cars, train and plane late Thursday, returning to their homes and local units to report on the three-day session here.

Only the executive committee remained in Klamath Falls over night and this group, summarizing the convention and discussing the important report of the findings committee, met for dinner at Sari's Thursday. All were high in their praises of the smooth working convention and the well laid groundwork of the local committees.

No place has been chosen for the 1948 convention. It is understood that next year's convention city will not be selected until late fall.
