

Police Probe New Clues In Murder Case

WHEATON, Ill., May 5 (AP)—A blood-stained mattress and a recently dug shallow grave supplied new puzzle pieces Tuesday in the mysterious killing of William Korbelik, 42-year-old president of a CIO union local.

Korbelik's widow, Frances, 40, reported finding her husband's body yesterday under a basement woodpile in their house near here. On January 14, she had reported him missing since January 10.

Sheriff Elmer Hoffman of Dupage county said Korbelik's body was nude and that X-ray examination showed a bullet had passed through the head. In the attic of the union official's home, Hoffman said, he found a mattress with a blood stain near one end.

The grave, about two feet deep, was found in the back yard of the house.

"It looks as though the man was killed in his own house," Hoffman said. "And this hole in the yard was dug after Sunday's rain."

Hoffman said Mrs. Korbelik and her daughters, Dorothy, 15, and Frances, 16, would be questioned further.

Korbelik was president of local 3330, United Steelworkers of America. He was employed as a welder by the Link Belt company, stoker manufacturers, Chicago.

Band Leader Up On Drunk Count

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 5 (AP)—Bandleader Hal Grayson got another chance today in his admitted struggle with alcohol.

Grayson was arrested on a drunkenness charge Monday, three days after he completed a 50-day term on the same charge.

He pleaded guilty yesterday after telling Justice of the Peace Henry H. Drager:

"I have had a difficult problem with alcohol. My entire career is at stake. My life is at stake. I want to find a decent place in life again. Would it be possible for me to be committed to Camarillo state hospital to beat this thing?"

The judge suspended sentence and placed Grayson on two years probation on condition he voluntarily commit himself to the state hospital.

Three hundred thousand children in Puerto Rico are growing up illiterate because of a lack of teachers and schools.
