

Judge Rules For Child In Strange Case

LIMA, O., May 14 (AP)—A child has a right to sue after birth for pre-natal injuries, the Ohio third district court of appeals held yesterday.

The decision was handed down in a $50,000 damage suit filed for Miss Margaret Williams by her father against Marion Rapid Transit company, Marion, O.

The court said an infant has cause for action if injuries occurred beyond the embryo stage.

The appeals court reversed a ruling by the Marion common pleas court that Ohio law does not allow recovery of damages for pre-natal injuries to an unborn child.

However, since this decision is in conflict with one by the seventh district appellate court, the third district certified the case to the Ohio supreme court for review.

The petition contended that on April 4, 1941, the plaintiff, although unborn, was capable of living. On that date, the petition said, the mother, Ruth Williams, was a paying customer on a Marion bus. Negligent operation caused her to fall on the steps, the suit continued, adding:

Mrs. Williams suffered injuries which caused her death and the two-month, premature birth of the plaintiff.

More Research On Arthritis Asked

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14 (AP)—More research into arthritis and epilepsy, and employer education on abilities of rehabilitated persons, was urged yesterday by Henry Redke, executive director of the Washington state rehabilitation center at Seattle.

Redke, speaking before a regional meeting of the National Rehabilitation association, said that only

Woman Asks Joint Account

LONDON, May 14 (AP)—Dr. Edith Summerskill, an officer of the British government, urges husbands give their wives regular pay days.

"A woman finds it easier to forgive her husband an act of unfaithfulness than a lifetime of meanness," the parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Food told a meeting of the Married Women's association last night.

"Nothing humiliates a woman more than having to beg or coax a man to give her money for the essentials of life."

Dr. Summerskill, wife of a doctor and mother of two children, offered a remedy—a regular share in the paycheck for the housewife.

"I practice what I preach," she said. "My husband and I have a joint bank balance."
