Solons Level Blast At US Red Groups

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The house aimed a legislative shotgun at the communist party Friday and got set to pull the trigger.
 It probably won't fire until next week, when it expects to pass a bill making it a crime to try to set up a communist dictatorship in this country.
 The bill doesn't outlaw the communist party. But it would criminalize the party's operations and expose its members and activities.
 The measure came before the house for debate today with:
 1. A plea from Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) to take firm action to cope with "the foremost menace to democracy today."
 2. A retort from Rep. Isaacson (A-N.Y.) that the bill repudiates the concept of progress and "regards America as a finished product, rigid and unchangeable."
 New Member
 Isaacson is one of the newest members of congress. He was elected from the Bronx earlier this year with the support of third party presidential candidate Henry A. Wallace.
 Thomas is chairman of the house committee on un-American activities. The bill is the first legislative proposal ever drafted by that committee.
 In its preamble, it asserts that an international communist movement is conspiring to set up totalitarian dictatorships through organizations it controls in other countries.
 The bill defines the American communist party as one of these organizations. It says it shall be illegal to try in any way to set up a "foreign-controlled totalitarian dictatorship" in this country or to take part in a movement to create such a dictatorship.
 Violators would face ten years in prison and a $10,000 fine and would lose their United States citizenship.

Power Unit Boosts Output

A portable substation was placed in use for the first time Friday at the California Oregon Power company when the portable outfit was substituted for the permanent substation at Dairy.
 The portable station, one of three in the Northwest and recently bought by Copco for $39,000, will handle the Dairy substation functions during a change to larger transformers. The stepping-up at Dairy was required by the increased load of power going to ground-water pumps in the Hildebrand district, where irrigation from wells is steadily increasing.
 Service will be maintained through the portable substation while the bank of old transformers is moved to Siskiyou county, and new, bigger ones installed.
 The portable outfit is mounted on a semi-trailer.

Dance Show Set Sunday

Stassen Honored At GOP Banquet

Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, GOP presidential aspirant, was guest of honor last night at a banquet given by the Young Republicans club in the Winema hotel. After the banquet the Minnesota reported in prospects of his party winning the November national elections, saying that persons in all states and all walks of life are gaining new respect for the party.

Grunden In Madigan Ward

TACOMA, May 15 (AP)—Pvt. Jack Grunden, the GI who gained fame when he was shot in the back by a Russian sentry in Vienna a few months ago, is being treated at Madigan General hospital, it was reported Friday.
 The disclosure came in an announcement by the Judson Pacific-Murphy Corp., that it has completed 80 per cent of a contract for the hangar's prefabricated steel framework. The work was sub-let to the Oakland firm by Birch, Lytell and Johnson of Seattle.
 The $750,000, 3000-ton framework will be delivered to Alaska by rail and army transport.
 Dimensions of the hangar were listed by L. A. Peck, Judson sales manager, as 300 feet long, 300 feet wide and 80 feet high with sliding doors that open to a width of 260 feet—wider than the wingspan of any plane now in service.

Girl 'Mashers' Molest Menfolk

PUEBLO, Colo., May 15 (AP)—Female "mashers" have become so aggressive here that police have issued a warning to young men who must walk the streets alone at night.
 The situation came to light when Albert Garrilo reported to officers that two women emerged from an alley and tried to "force their affections" on him.
 Garrilo said that when he resisted both women attacked him. During the resulting confusion he lost three dollars and the women fled, he said.
 Perhaps it's the climate.
 Pueblo chamber of commerce members described it as "anti-tropical." They say it combines the stimulating qualities of tropic sunshine with the dry wine-like air of a high altitude.

Special Sports Bracket Asked

CORVALLIS, May 15 (AP)—Oregon high school coaches want to put the larger schools of the state in a special sports bracket.
 They propose to create a class "AA" for schools of 400 or more students. Class "A" would consist of schools from 150 to 400 students, and class "B" of those under 150.
 The suggestions were made at the annual spring meeting of the coaches' association here yesterday. They will be forwarded to the controlling body, the Oregon High School Activities association.
 In the present system, schools up to 150 are in class "B," and those over 150 in class "A."

Broadhurst Retrial Motion Slated

SALEM, May 15 (AP)—A motion for a retrial of Mrs. Gladys Broadhurst, convicted of first degree murder last year in the death of her rancher husband, will be heard by the state supreme court May 18.
 Mrs. Broadhurst's attorneys, P. J. Gallagher of Ontario and W. H. Langlois of Boise, will ask for the retrial. The woman was convicted of persuading a young paramour to slay Dr. Willis D. Broadhurst.

Huge Hanger To Go Up In Alaska

OAKLAND, Calif., May 15 (AP)—A gigantic airplane hangar, believed to be the world's largest, will be erected by the air force at Eklon field (mile 26) near Fairbanks.
 The disclosure came in an announcement by the Judson Pacific-Murphy Corp., that it has completed 80 per cent of a contract for the hangar's prefabricated steel framework. The work was sub-let to the Oakland firm by Birch, Lytell and Johnson of Seattle.
 The $750,000, 3000-ton framework will be delivered to Alaska by rail and army transport.
 Dimensions of the hangar were listed by L. A. Peck, Judson sales manager, as 300 feet long, 300 feet wide and 80 feet high with sliding doors that open to a width of 260 feet—wider than the wingspan of any plane now in service.

Vandals Damage Parked Automobiles

Three parked automobiles were damaged Thursday night on N. 2nd near the Willard hotel, city police reported by vandals with a penchant for useless destruction.
 Windshield wiper blades on all three of the cars were ripped off, the wiper arms bent and radio aereals were damaged on two vehicles.
 One car was owned by Jack McNeilly of Medford, another by E. L. Johnson of Portland and the owner of the third was not identified.

Third Quarter Taxes Due

Third quarter 1947-48 property taxes are due now and payable on or before Saturday, May 15, without interest penalties.
 Taxpayers with delinquent personal taxes are urged to call the county collector's office about the delinquencies as the Klamath county tax auditor is insisting that warrants be issued to collect the overdue personal taxes in accordance with state law.

Life-Saving Course Slated

In order to provide enough qualified guards for the summer swimming program the city recreation department and American Red Cross are sponsoring a senior life saving course beginning Monday.
 The course is under the leadership of Ella Redky and will meet at 4 p. m. at Klamath Union high school natatorium. Anyone interested in learning the latest methods of water safety is invited to enter, and those applying for employment for summer recreation work are urged to attend.

Bad Check Case Reaches Court

Edgar William James, Summer Lake farmhand arrested at Lakeview earlier this week, Thursday afternoon was arraigned in justice court and requested a preliminary hearing on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.
 James is accused of passing several bad checks in Klamath Falls and Bly.
 Justice of the Peace J. A. Mahoney set bail at $1500 cash and committed James to the county jail.

Theft Try Lands Youth In Hoosgow

A felony charge accusing Rodney Owen Wheelock, 24, of Medford with attempted larceny was signed Friday by Matt Finnigan, owner of Matt Finnigan's sporting goods store, and Wheelock is held in the county jail for arraignment.
 He admittedly tried to steal a $75 telescopic sight from the store Thursday afternoon. Wheelock came into the store, Finnigan said, and spent considerable time examining binoculars and other items before he was seen to shove the sight under his coat.
 He was collared by store employees and turned over to city police. Wheelock is said to have admitted he went into the store to steal something he could sell in order to raise money for his rent bill at the Hart hotel.
 At the city jail he was booked for vagrancy and locked up overnight. Wheelock told officers he had not worked for five months.
 Other city police business for the 24-hour period since Thursday afternoon included the collection of $10 bail from William Smith, 2545 Martines, for allowing two dogs to run at large and $5 from Howard Barnhisel, Conger avenue, for allowing one dog to run at large.
 Allen V. Bryngelson, 20, route 2, posted $25 bail when arrested on a warrant charging him with reckless driving and Russell M. Hamer, 39 1215 Owens, was cited for a court appearance for speeding.
 Three drunks were locked up Friday night.

Grange Dance—Shasta View

Grange Dance—Shasta View grange will sponsor a get-acquainted dance for all candidates Saturday night. Members are asked to bring sandwiches.
 Three drunks were locked up Friday night.

Recreation Program Set

The city recreation department has been busy answering requests for explanations of the city's proposed levy for increased revenue for city parks and playgrounds. Speakers and films have been supplied to PTA groups, service clubs, churches and labor organizations, according to Sam Smith, city recreation superintendent.
 Covered by the levy, which will be voted on in the May 21 election, is a plan for development of the city's recreation program. Emphasis is on developing the 13 pieces of property the city now owns for recreation, Smith said. At the present rate, the city has money enough to operate only one such playground, Smith added.
