Klamath Group Entertains Guest At Tea

The home of Mrs. Loren Palmerton on Pacific Terrace was the setting for a charming early May tea given in honor of Mrs. Earl T. Newbury of Salem.

Mrs. Newbury was in Klamath Falls with her husband, Secretary of State Newbury, in connection with his visit as potentate of Zuleima temple. She is past queen of Zuleima temple, Daughters of the Nile, and the Klamath Falls Nile club complimented her with the tea.

Bouquets of spring flowers were placed about the rooms, with focal interest on a low arrangement of lovely yellow roses, flanked by tall yellow tapers at the tea table. Hours were from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Greeting guests in the receiving line were Mrs. Newbury, Mrs. S. W. Moss, princess royal of Zuleima temple, Mrs. Oliver Overmyer of Medford, queen of Zuleima temple, and Mrs. Palmerton, president of the Klamath club.

Past presidents of the Klamath Falls club poured, Mrs. Gus Anderson, Mrs. Walter Brown and Mrs. Paul Matthews.

Among out-of-town guests were Margaret Fabric, past queen; Lillian Arnold, Princess Badoura and Virginia Mathieson, princess recorder, all of Medford.

Open House

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Balentine will entertain for their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Ludlow, at open house on Saturday, May 22, when the young couple is expected for a visit.

Before her marriage April 10, Mrs. Ludlow was Nancy Ann Balentine. They are residing in Orinda, California.

Expected to be here with them are a sister and brother of Mr. Ludlow, Diana Ludlow and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Ludlow, also of Orinda. The affair will be held at 8 o'clock at the Pelican party room.

Dance Recital

The Sacred Heart academy auditorium will be the setting for a dance recital sponsored by the Sacred Heart school of music at 2:30 this Sunday afternoon, May 16. Teacher of the pupils is Mrs. Edna Howell.

Tap, ballet, toe, and folk dancing will be presented in a program to include 26 acts with both individual and group dancing.

The affair will benefit the music school of the academy. The public is cordially invited.

Monday Party

Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson entertained for members of their family and a few family friends last Monday evening at their home on the Lakeview highway.

Guests were Mrs. Lynn Zimmerman, Mrs. Esther Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patrick, Mrs. H. E. Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bergman and Bobbie, A. W. Macken, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Donner and the Stevensons' son, Steve.

May Baskets

A May basket filled with spring blooms centered the tea table when members of the Eastern Star social club gathered for a regular meeting Friday, May 7, at the Masonic hall.

Miniature May baskets, made by Mrs. Will Wood, decorated small tables about the room.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Oliver Spiker, Mrs. Wood and Lulu Hutchins.

In bridge, high went to Mrs. J. C. Hunt, low, Mrs. W. L. Poole. The special prize went to Mrs. Jack Schulze. Attending for the first time were Fay Travers of Albany and Mrs. R. S. Hopkins.

Arnold Gralapp Is League Speaker

"New York, Chicago and Detroit, or other congested areas, will not fit in the plans of the future," stated Arnold Gralapp, addressing the League of Women Voters last week at a luncheon meeting at the Pelican cafe. "It actually took longer to go from the Sherman hotel in Chicago to the airfield than it did to fly from Chicago to Detroit," said Mr. Gralapp in describing his recent "flying classroom" trip. He went on to say that industry feels its responsibility toward government and citizens by first planning on decentralizing for defense, and secondly for comfortable living for its workers.

Now, they have counselors who try to make their jobs as attractive as possible because their home conditions are so deplorable, and in the future, by constant screening and aptitude tests they hope to find the right man for the right job in cities of no more than 200,000 population, he said.

The building of these cities will take care of the youngster who is vocation-school minded, and a place will also be found for the student on the academic and professional level, concluded Mr. Gralapp.

The membership of the league went on record endorsing the 1 1/2 mill recreation levy going on the ballot at the primary election. Action was taken to support the World Health organization, the reciprocal trade agreements act and the District of Columbia home rule bill, as these legislative measures were explained by Mrs. Stephen Sabo, Mrs. Frederick Ehlers and Alice Waldron.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Mrs. Paul Buck, first vice president.

Mrs. A. A. Montigomeri, second vice president.

Mrs. Jerry Thomas, secretary.

Mrs. C. E. Dennis, treasurer.

Directors elected for 1948-49 are Mrs. Arnold Gralapp, Mrs. C. E. Bransden, Mrs. Everett Dennis, Mrs. Harvey Bergman and Alice Waldron. Delegates to the state convention to be held at Gearhart May 17 and 18 were elected as follows:

Mrs. Leo Sagersten, Mrs. Paul Buck, Mrs. C. E. Dennis and Mrs. A. A. Montigomeri. Alternates chosen were Mrs. Willard Duncan, Mrs. Frederick Ehlers, Mrs. D. E. Bunker and Mrs. Warren Bennet. Mrs. John Yaden, president, is also attending, a president automatically being a delegate under the by-laws of the league.

The next meeting of the local league will be on Wednesday, June 6, when Mrs. Stephen Sabo, chairman of reforestation and conservation of timber resources in Oregon, will present a movie and well informed speaker on this subject.

Invited

His 11th birthday was cause to celebrate May 2 when Jimmy Southwell invited a group of friends to share the fun. Guests were served luncheon at the Southwell home, 1147 Pacific Terrace, and later enjoyed a matinee.

Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Southwell.

His guests were Donald Boyd, Paul Adams, David Peebler, Jimmy Holland, George Brandt, Jerry Barker, Jimmy Swansen, Everett Leach, Ruddy Van Buskirk, Tommy Humble, David Macartney, Ronald Newman and Charles Harris.

Summer Rites

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Woods of 1607 Arthur street, this week announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Eleanor, to Phillip Anderson.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Anderson of Klamath Falls.

The wedding is planned for July 4. The couple will exchange vows in Klamath Falls at the home of the bride's parents.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Ratliff Sr. and Mrs. Smith. In cards, high went to Mrs. Roy Pickett, second high to Mrs. Herbert Hemingsen and low to Miss Smith.

Honoring Miss Smith were Phyllis Smith, Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride-to-be, Darlene Smith, Mrs. Stella Dryden, Mrs. Dicky Freeman, Mrs. John Ratliff Sr., Mrs. John Ratliff Jr., Mrs. Daniel O'Leary, Mrs. Leonard Petrik, Mrs. John Gallagher, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. A. J. McDonald, Mrs. Ralph Dale, Mrs. Marty Conlin, Mildred Kessler, Harriet Lavenik.

Mrs. J. Murphy, Mrs. John Maguire, Mrs. Albert Lavenik, Mrs. W. Kessler, Mrs. Stanley Pieser, Mrs. Herbert Hemingsen, Mrs. David Vandenberg, Mrs. John Elle, Mrs. Clifton Molatore, Mrs. Francis Man-

Sunny Weather Attracts Many At Reames

A number of guests were at the Reames Golf and Country club Friday afternoon when Women of Reames held their usual Friday gathering. Lovely, sunny weather attracted a large crowd. Among guests were Mrs. William Nash; Mrs. Richard Post and Mrs. James Ivory.

From out-of-town were Mrs. F. R. Houck of San Rafael, California, and Mrs. Dennis Babson of Pasadena, California. Mrs. Houck is a guest of her son and daughter-in-law the R. A. Houcks, and Mrs. Babson is with her parents, the Ralph Macartneys Sr.

Last week's winners of the "throw-out" tournament were Mrs. J. Royal Shaw in the nine-hole play, and Mrs. W. O. Smith in the 18-hole tournament.

Bridge prizes went to Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, Mrs. George Myers, Mrs. Floyd Boyd and Mrs. William Hagelestein.

Officers of the group ask that all those wishing to make reservations or cancellations for Friday lunches, to do so before Wednesday.

Rakes And Hoes Are Sure Spring Signs

The ever welcome sight of the sun spurred a lot of folks on to gardening the past few days and the demand for garden seeds, plants and rakes was booming.

Two of the prettiest sights in town are the gardens of Mrs. T. B. Watters and Mrs. Hugh B. Campbell, with daffodils of many exciting varieties now in full bloom. Mrs. Campbell and daughter Joan just recently returned from an extensive motor trip which took them through the deep south and north to Minnesota and home, but they arrived in time to see the daffodils come into all their glory.

Likewise—it's always spring again when Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Krause open up their home on High street. And they're not only enjoying the early spring flowers but watching with the usual eagerness, the progress of their lovely iris.

While nursing a foul cold this week we at least found one measure of delight. Mr. Cooley's iris book arrived—more enticing than ever. Description of every bloom makes it sound that that one particular iris has the rest beat all hollow.

New Arrival Dep't.: Born to Major and Mrs. John Harding, at Letterman hospital, San Francisco, on May 7, a son, their first boy, second child. Margie is in the same hospital as John who is doing as well as can be expected following the amputation of one foot—the result of his injuries a while back in a plane crash up north. The boy has been named for his paternal grandfather, Carleton B. Harding.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Grandeur Hand, April 3, at Medford. Mrs. Hand will be remembered as Mary Ann Grafton. The young man has been named Gregory Lansing.

And to Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schultz of Los Angeles, a baby girl. Both Conrad and Jean are well-known in music circles around town—they went south some time ago so that Conrad could continue his voice studies. The little girl has been named Cathy Ann and made her debut April 26.

Springtime Note: Pretty Helen Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Schultz of Coos Bay and formerly of our town and Algona, was crowned queen of the annual May festival sponsored by the Coos Bay Business and Professional Women's club. Helen is being graduated with honors at Marshfield high school this month and rates second high in her class in matter of grades.

Helen's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Wood of Auburn street spent Mother's Day at Coos Bay with the Schultz family, saw Helen crowned at the gay festival and will probably remain for her graduation.

Also over at Coos Bay the University of Oregon players presented "The Dover Road", A. A. Milne comedy, with Nina Sue Ferniman of Klamath Falls playing the role of Eustasia.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Houck of San Rafael, California, came just in time for our pretty weather. They're here for a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houck.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brosterhaus were week-end visitors in Klamath Falls last week. The two are from Eugene, where George is studying architecture at the University of Oregon, and Audrey is on the advertising staff of the Eugene Register-Guard. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brosterhaus and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Honzel. Audrey and George will have only a brief respite from studies and work later this spring, because George plans to stay on for summer session at the university.

We're proud as punch of the KUHS band, and delighted for them to have a chance at participating in the Rose Festival parade. As plans stand now, they'll leave June 10 and return Sunday, June 13. Meanwhile, tickets to the festival doings are being sold by band members and at the chamber of commerce—funds to take the band north will come partly from this source. All proceeds from local ticket sales will go for that purpose, and then you can turn in your tickets for festival buttons and be admitted to all festival events. Sponsor is the Klamath County chamber of commerce.

A pitcher post card this week has been the only word from Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Guderian, who are vacationing in points south. Wes, The Herald and News superduper photographer, and spouse, Nattie, wrote from Salt Lake City. The usual "wonderful time" was being had. They are expected back within a few days after gadding for two weeks.

A little visiting will be on Mrs. John Yaden's schedule when she goes to the League of Women Voters meeting in Gearhart next weekend. In Portland she'll see Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Yaden and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dennis (Ardelle Yaden). She's president of the Klamath league.

Don't know who was happier — Caryl Vanderwall or her mother, Mrs. Fay Wilson. At Mother's Day festivities at Southern Oregon college last week, Caryl was named by the Ashland Soroptimist club for its scholarship to an outstanding girl who will enter the teaching field. It was a complete surprise to both mother and daughter. Next day came more glad tidings. The Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers awarded its scholarship to Caryl, who manages that amazing feat of being high scholastically and active in school affairs. In addition to everything else, she is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

LAST SATURDAY WAS A festive evening for the younger set as the pictures above attest. Deniece Kenyon, pretty daughter of the Don Kenyons, and Pat Kittredge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kittredge, entertained at a dancing party at the Willard hotel. The young host is in the center of the front row, with Deniece at his left. Assisting with the party were Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge and Mr. and Mrs. Delos Mills. Hours were from 7:30 to 9:30.

AN OUTSTANDING EVENT of late spring for Klamath county's graduating senior girls is the tea in their honor given by the Klamath Falls branch of the American Association of University Women. This year's committee is, from left, Mrs. Percy Murray, Mrs. Robert Erlanson, Mrs. Laurence Shaw, Mrs. Frederick Ehlers, Mrs. Robert Ellingson Jr., Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Robert Thompson. The affair will be held May 22, hours from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Nelson Reed.

Pre-Nuptial Party Honors Miss Smith

Luana Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith of Klamath Falls, and bride-elect of Donald Ratliff, was complimented at a pre-nuptial shower held Friday, May 7.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. Michael Lavenik and the affair was held at the home of the latter on East street.

An arrangement of pink and white sweet peas, flanked on either side by white tapers, centered the pretty lace-covered table. A miniature bride and groom completed the setting.

Pouring were Mrs. John Ratliff Sr. and Mrs. Smith. In cards, high went to Mrs. Roy Pickett, second high to Mrs. Herbert Hemingsen and low to Miss Smith.

Honoring Miss Smith were Phyllis Smith, Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride-to-be, Darlene Smith, Mrs. Stella Dryden, Mrs. Dicky Freeman, Mrs. John Ratliff Sr., Mrs. John Ratliff Jr., Mrs. Daniel O'Leary, Mrs. Leonard Petrik, Mrs. John Gallagher, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. A. J. McDonald, Mrs. Ralph Dale, Mrs. Marty Conlin, Mildred Kessler, Harriet Lavenik.

Speech Club

Loye Smith was topic mistress at the last meeting of the Toast-mistress club, held Wednesday at the Winema hotel. She took the members on a mythical tour of the world, and each member was asked to give a two-minute impromptu description of each place visited. Margaret Holliday chose an imaginative description of Princess Elizabeth's wedding in London.

Lillian Hanelline was toastmistress of the evening and introduced the three speakers. Madge McLaren gave a talk, aptly entitled "A Word Picture of a Small Town." Her word picture of an actual village in a remote section of Canada included an insight into the characters of the inhabitants. Wanda O'Brien chose as her subject "Wonders of the Universe," and told her listeners about some of the notable things to be found in museums throughout the world. Vivian Owens spoke on "Aids in Public Speaking." Her speech included many valuable suggestions for public speakers.

Margaret Santo was general evaluator for the meeting, with Vessa Poll and Effie Koschnick serving as co-evaluators.

Rose O'Leary and Anita Kennedy were guests at the meeting.

A WEEK-END SURPRISE came to Caryl Vanderwall, daughter of Mrs. Fay Wilson and a student at Southern Oregon college in Ashland, when she was named recipient of two scholarships, one from the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers and another from the Ashland Soroptimist club. Both will apply to next year's studies for Caryl. —Miss Vanderwall by Kennel-Ellis, other pictures by Keith Cook.

A PRETTY AFFAIR of May 7 was a tea at the home of Mrs. Loren Palmerton when the Klamath Falls Nile club honored Mrs. Earl T. Newbury of Salem. From left are Mrs. S. W. Moss, Mrs. Newbury, and Mrs. Oliver Overmyer of Medford, queen of Zuleima temple, and Mrs. Palmerton, president of the Klamath club.
