Bob Wallace Shines Before Home Crowd

With Pittsburg Team Gems Divide Pair

PITTSBURG, Calif., May 17 (Special)—Manager Joe Gantenbein revised his lineup to give more prominence to Bob Wallace, second baseman from South San Francisco, in Sunday's game here and apparently hit on a winning combination. A delegation from South San Francisco was in town to honor the home-town boys, Wallace and Gantenbein, and Wallace's father was among them when they stepped forward to present a floral wreath.

Wallace was installed in the leadoff position and rapped out three hits in five trips, including a double, and batted in three runs. In previous games, Bob hasn't hit the size of his hat.

The transformation apparently spread to the rest of the Gems and they shellacked the Pittsburg Diamonds 17 to 12. Bob Blengino started on the hill for the Gems and blew a comfy lead in the fifth before Larry Guelfo came out to rescue the game.

Bob Boyce worked seven frames for the Diamonds and was the loser. Dick Small was the batting hero of the day, lashing out two triples, a double and a single in his five times at the plate. Tom Mankey and Dick Descalso each had three hits. Descalso was in the lineup for the first time in two weeks.

Saturday night's tilt went the other way, 8 to 5 for the Diamonds as Joe Nicholas tested out a very sore right arm. The Diamonds landed on Nick for six hits and four runs in the three innings he pitched before being relieved by Bob Lopeman. Joe Anselmo got a triple in that game.

The Diamonds and Gems play a twilight encounter here tonight.

Santa Rosa Back In Far West Lead

By The Associated Press

Santa Rosa's Pirates swashbuckled in the lead of the Far West Baseball league today, having scuttled the Medford Dodgers in two week-end encounters.

Yesterday's 10-9 triumph was due principally to the four-base swats of Pirates Don Wagner and Jimmy Dykes. Each homered in the eighth inning to drive in three runs and Wagner hit another in the ninth for the winning margin.

Don Taylor of Medford got five hits in five tries, including a home run in the fifth with one on.

Oroville moved into a second place tie with Redding and dropped Marysville into fourth by winning 4-3 with a run in the final frame. It was a tough one for Marysville reliefer Gene Johnson. He was sent in with the bags loaded and none out and put out the first batter to face him, then boggled on a weakly hit ball to allow the winning run.

Willows and Redding split a twin bill, Willows grabbing the opener 13-9 and Redding the seven-inning chaser, 6-2. Ray Perry of Redding banked two homers, one in the first game and another in the afterpiece with one on. Lee Singleton of Willows homered in the first with one on.

Calumet Can Figure Rich Race Future

BALTIMORE, May 17 (AP)—Calumet farm, Warren Wright's fabulous horse flesh factory, faced a bit of calculating today on a mildly pressing problem—how to extract the maximum of racing's rich three-year-old purses with Citation and Coaltown.

Trainer Jimmy Jones, who saddled Citation Saturday for his smashing Preakness triumph, was talking it over.

"It's too bad a fellow couldn't have had these two in separate years, for they're both such outstanding horses. One in 1948, and the other in 1949," he mused. "That would have been nice."

Coaltown, Citation's flashy stablemate, arrived at Belmont park in New York Saturday just about the time Citation was making monkeys of three other colts in the Preakness.

"There are a lot of good races coming up, and we've got to spot them for these two fine horses," Jones said.

The Preakness was Citation's eighth victory in nine 1948 starts, and made his total earnings to date this year $268,020, with plenty more to come, apparently.

The Gallup Poll

Straw Vote Has Baseball Ranked No. 1 Sport

PRINCETON, N. J., May 17—Americans, known throughout the world as a sports-loving people, are primarily a spectator rather than an active nation as far as sports events are concerned.

Almost nine out of ten of us like to watch other people competing against each other. But only one in three of us actually get out ourselves to swing a bat, knock a ball around, or hunt and fish.

But whether we are spectators or performers, as long as we are Americans, baseball is our national pastime. Four out of 10 enjoy watching it above any other game, while more of us like to play it than any other sport.

This is in sharp contrast to other nations, such as Holland, Australia and Norway, where affiliated Gallup polls find baseball hardly mentioned as a favorite sport, but where soccer ranks very high.

Football and basketball are the only close contestants to baseball in the United States as the best events to watch. Swimming, hunting and fishing, and golf are runners-up in the sports Americans themselves like to play at.

There preferences come to light in an international survey on sports conducted by five of the 12 world Gallup polls. Proportionately more Americans like to go to see sports events than is true of any of the other countries studied. We participate as individuals more than the Dutch and Swedish people but less than Norwegians and Australians.

In this country the Institue asked men and women from coast-to-coast:

"What sport do you, yourself, enjoy watching most?"

The answers:

	National	Men	Women
Baseball	39%	45%	31%
Football	17	29	15
Basketball	10	8	12
Horse racing	4	3	5
Boxing	3	4	2
Ice Skating, hockey	2	2	4
Swimming, diving	2	1	3
Tennis	2	1	2
Bowling	1	1	1
Others	7	7	9
None	12	7	16

Age has a great deal to do with what kind of athletic events Americans like to watch. The older one gets apparently, the more he wants to go out to the ball park or watch the ponies run, but his interest in basketball and football wanes.

A second question was asked of the cross-section, as follows:

"Do you yourself, take part in any sport?"

The answers: Yes, 34 per cent, no, 66 per cent.

The one in three who answered "yes" were asked to tell which sports they practiced. Here are the answers:

Baseball	9%
Hunting and fishing	7
Swimming, diving	6
Golf	5
Bowling	5
Basketball	3
Tennis	3
Horseback riding	1
Skating	1
Football	1
Others	4
	45%*

Adds to more than 34 per cent since some respondents gave more than one answer.

Popularity of baseball, which includes softball, will come as no surprise to people living outside of large cities, where sandlot ball is the major sport of thousands of youth. Of course, it is much more popular with the younger men, age 21 to 29, of whom about one in six says he plays. But even among men over 50 years baseball ranks second to hunting and fishing.

That American women are actively interested in sports is shown by the fact that even the sports above except football has women devotees. More women proportionately play tennis and swim than men while equal number bowl.

Rain Halts Debacle As Beavers Fumble

By The Associated Press

Dick (Kewpie) Barrett had to reach the ripe baseball age of 40 and serve 23 seasons on the diamond before he achieved pitching immortality. Barrett yesterday pitched a perfect game as his Seattle Rainiers downed Sacramento in the second game of a Pacific Coast league doubleheader, 3-0.

Barrett didn't allow a hit. Not a single Sacramento player reached first base. He fanned five and only once during the contest did he let the count get to three-and-two. It was Kewpie's 204th victory in the Coast league, his 195th in Seattle livery. He started the three-run rally in the third inning with a single, too.

Seattle also took the first game of the twin bill when Sacramento Shortstop Leo Wells fumbled the ball with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth. Seattle won by an 8-7 margin.

Nick Etten was just about the whole show in Los Angeles as Oakland and the Angels divided a double bill Los Angeles took the first, 8 to 5. Etten slammed four home runs during the afternoon, three in the second contest that went to the Oaks, 10 to 3. One of these was a grand slam drive.

Etten's swatting was responsible for nine runs. Last year he connected for only four home runs.

San Francisco extended its string of consecutive wins to seven as it beat Hollywood in the first game, 6 to 5, but the Stars broke the streak by taking the finale, 7 to 5.

San Diego's Padres batted around twice in the second inning against Portland and beat the Beavers, 12 to 1, in a game halted in the sixth by rain. The rain caused postponement of the second contest.

Vanport King

PORTLAND, May 17 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Jimmy Raxter of Vanport wore the Oregon marbles championship crown today.

He defeated Doyce Carmen, 13, Roseburg seventh grade student, in a best of five series between the two division champions.

Studs Tip Sox, 3-2

Paul Gehrman, former coast and major leaguer, outpitched Bert Krohn Sunday afternoon as the Klamath Red Sox of the Southern Oregon Baseball league lost their first game of the season, 3 to 2, in 10 innings to the Cheney Studs of Central Point.

Gehrman and Krohn each gave up seven hits and one walk, but the Studs' righthander fanned nine to Krohn's six. Bob Hamilton, Studs' outfielder, scored the winning run in the top of the tenth after he had singled. Alex McDonald hit the left field fence at Gems stadium for a double to bat in Hamilton.

In the home half of the tenth, Clyde Carlstrom batted for Krohn and got a hit to right that went for three bases, but was caught trying to come home on an infield grounder.

The Studs counted one run in the first inning when Hamilton came across on an overthrow at third base, but the Red Sox grabbed the lead in their half of the inning on two hits and an error. Orlo Oakes singled and scored on Fran Miller's double. An overthrow at first of Hi Hatfield's grounder allowed Miller to score.

Gehrman did his bit at the plate in the fifth by doubling to left, and scored when Don Fawcett drilled a two-bagger past first base. That tied the game and it jogged along at 2-2 until the tenth.

The Red Sox got two men on base in the sixth and the Studs likewise had two on in the eighth, without getting them around.

Valley Jaunt Bad For Pels

A trip to the Willamette valley didn't work out so well for Tom Brannigan's Klamath Falls Pelicans over the week-end. The Pels lost two baseball games.

At Salem Saturday afternoon Lew Shade pitched six-hit ball but the Pels got only three bingles and lost 4-1 to the Salem high school Vikings. Then at Albany Saturday night in a floodlight tilt, Albany's club edged Pat Williams 3-2.

Williams also pitched six-hit ball and the Pelicans got only three hits. Among the Albany hits were a home run and a triple.

Coach Brannigan said that the Albany club was the best high school baseball outfit he had run up against this year.

The Pels play Medford in the finale and championship game of the Southern Oregon conference Thursday afternoon at Medford.

Barrett Fashions Perfecto

SEATTLE, May 17 (AP)—Tracy Souder Barrett, balding and plump and frankly fortyish, pitched himself into baseball's fraternity of fame yesterday with a seven-inning perfecto.

Pumping the same right arm that has carried him through 25 years of professional play, Barrett led Seattle to a 3 to 0 Pacific Coast league victory over a Sacramento team that hit the ball loudly only once.

One batter tapped a line drive to Second Baseman Tony York.

Not a man reached first off Tracy Souder Barrett, who is known as "Kewpie Dick" and "Round Richard" throughout baseball. He gained the nickname long ago when he did a bit of on-the-side pitching under the nom de fling of "Dick Oliver."

He spent a few seasons in the big time, but Barrett's great success has been with Seattle. This is his eleventh year with the club. Although he's been a 20-game winner seven times, his six-win, two-loss record so far has been his best start for any season.

Barrett had tossed 203 Coast league triumphs before he finally racked the perfecto—the first one pitched in the Seattle stadium since its opening in 1938 and the second one for the entire league. Cotton Pippin hurled one for Oakland with Sacramento also the victim in 1943. There have been many no-hitters, but usually men get on base.

Every time he strikes out a man he racks up a new Coast league mark in that department. Unofficially, his five yesterday made it 1702.

Pioneers Pound Project, 26-8

The Klamath Pioneers shellacked Project City in a Northern California league baseball game at Project City Sunday afternoon, 26 to 8, with Jim Aiello hitting four for six.

The Pioneers gathered in 21 hits and were aided by a dozen errors.

In Klamath Falls at Recreation field, the Junior Pioneers fell before Bly in an Interstate league encounter, 20 to 3.

Patton Records 9.3 Mile Mark

FRESNO, Calif., May 17 (AP)—The swiftest man-run 100 yard dash—9.3 seconds—was recorded at the 22nd annual West coast relays Saturday.

Mel Patton, University of Southern California speedster, led the show with the unofficial world record time—one tenth of a second better than the mark held by himself and four others.

Pressing Patton all the way was Lloyd La Beach, who will represent the republic of Panama in the Olympics. Beach, in a later race, equalled the 100 meters world record of 10.2.

Good Lefties Reason Cards Perch On Top

Indians In Hotter Home Run Contest Than Giants of '47

By The Associated Press

The comeback of Howie Pollet, the consistent brilliance of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, and the remarkable relief hurling of Alpha Brazle—are responsible for the St. Louis Cardinals' lofty perch in the National league pennant race.

The Redbirds were in first place today, one full game in front of the New York Giants. They have won 13 and lost seven. Of this total, Pollet, Brecheen and Brazle—best left-handed trio in the majors—have won nine and lost one.

After a slow start, Pollet has rebounded with three straight victories. He has not yet lost. The New Orleans lefty was credited with yesterday's 6-5 10-inning victory over the Pirates for his second win in three days.

Brecheen has won all of his four starts, the first three by shutouts.

SCORED AGAINST

His consecutive scoreless inning skein was snapped at 32 when the Pirates broke through for two runs in the sixth inning of Saturday night's game, won by the Cards, 8-3.

Brazle has appeared in four games, all in relief. The Cards won three of them with Brazle gaining credit for two.

In the only other National lague game played yesterday, the Cincinnati Reds came up with two runs in the top of the 10th to outscramble the Cubs in Chicago, 13-11.

A triple by Leadoff Man Johnny Wyrostek touched off the winning rally. Andy Pafko of the Cubs slammed out five hits in five times at bat, scored four times and drove in four runs in a losing cause.

Although they pounded out five home runs, the Cleveland Indians could do no better than gain a split in their doubleheader with Chicago. The White Sox won the opener, 6-4, in 10 innings and the Indians captured the nightcap, 9-2.

Pat Seerey and Allie Clark connected for the circuit to give the Indians an early 4-0 lead.

The Indians have walloped 36 four-baggers in 19 games, a much faster pace than the Giants' early output last year when they created a team record of 221 homers. The Giants had 23 in their first 19 games.

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox won their fifth straight by coming from behind to outslug the Washington Senators, 14-5. Timely hitting by Johnny Pesky and Junior Stephens were the highlights. The second game was postponed by rain.

Young Art Houtteman went down to his fifth straight defeat as the St. Louis Browns nipped the Tigers in Detroit, 3-2, in the finale of their three-game series.

The scheduled doubleheader at Philadelphia between the New York Giants and Phillies was postponed by rain after the Phils had taken a 1-0 lead with the Giants batting in the third inning.

Odell's Boys Look Classy In Hot Trial

SEATTLE, May 17 (AP)—Ten thousand Washington football fans tabbed Howie Odell's first-edition Huskies today as the "new look"—with knee action.

The "Purples," quarterbacked by Whitey King, won the Saturday fray 21-20 from a "White" team quarterbacked by Freshman J. R. Savage.

A 56-yard pass from Larry Hatch to Dev Gossett tied the count late in the fourth quarter and Freshman Jim Rosensweig's third successive placement gave the one-point margin.

The game, which concluded Odell's first spring training session, produced a tricky, T-formation attack featuring sharp passes and quick stabs at the line.

It also produced a pair of high-stepping, sylph-hipped freshman fullbacks in the persons of Roland Kirkey and Harvey Tiedemann. It was Kirkby who opened the scoring for the Whites, scampering 45 yards through the entire Purple eleven with an intercepted pass in the first quarter. Tiedemann dashed 18 yards to score in the third period and set up the third White talley.

Mr. America Has Muscles—But No Paying Job

By BOB MYERS

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 17 (AP) — Santa Monica's famed "muscle beach," where the flying torsos play, must be simply wild with excitement today.

For one of its Tarzans of the sandpile, a young man of hope, tremendous muscles, wavy hair and no job, has captured the ultimate goal of all surfside acrobats—the title of Mr. America.

He is George Elferman, from Santa Monica. He's a 22-year-old wartime bugler in the navy, 5 feet 8 inches tall. He has gray-green eyes, a chest of 49½ inches in full bloom, and unless close scrutiny was faulty, he shaved it just before winning the contest the other night.

But the rejoicing among the dumbbell boys of the beach must necessarily be brief, which brings up some interesting points concerning America's Mr. Americas, bodies beautiful—and weightlifters who seem to be, and pardon the term, the backbone of the body builders.

The truth is, the financial careers of beautiful specimens and weightlifters are sketchy.

George himself said he didn't have anything definite in sight, but would be interested in teaching physical culture, or a movie contract—or even wrestling. He forgot there is already one gorgeous George in that industry, apparently.

* * *

Take the case of the weightlifters, who, under the zealous banners of the AAU, supplied all the grunts and groans in picking heavy things off the floor, and left it to the bodies remarkable to supply the glamor—and bring in the paid attendance.

John Davis, a mighty negro from Brooklyn, is the world champion lifter. He may not be interested in liftin' that bale, but he can do wonders with a bar bell, either military press, two hand snatch or clean and jerk. (All weightlifting terms).

John said he didn't have a job, either. He didn't seem disturbed. He said he worked as a bartender once, but all he does now is travel, giving exhibitions and competing in tournaments.

Presumably, all he gets, being strictly an amateur, is expense money. It must be noted that John's expense money certainly hasn't cost him any strength.

* * *

But offhand, it appears that lifting and muscle flexing is about on a par with two-mile running. One gets a tired back, and the other reaches the tape having achieved little except a woeful lack of wind.

What do weightlifters talk about at home? One of the few wives present the night shrugged her shoulders and said: "There isn't much to say. He lifts, or he don't lift—that's all."

She admitted it was mighty good training for piano moving, though.

George's victory was generally popular, but there was muttering about the runner-up awards. One disappointed Atlas confided: "How'd that Elias Rodriguez get in these?"

* * *

San Francisco's Rodriguez had just displayed a set of stomach muscles that looked much like a pan of garter snakes wriggling in anguish. And it was of him and one Honolulu Joe Lauriano that a judge gravely announced to the crowd:

"We are giving both of them awards because there was a tying of abdominals."

If you'll excuse a personal note, my wife has just read in the paper that a quarantine had been invoked along the California coast on mussels. She thinks there is a chance they just spelled it wrong.

Hornets Capture Bunting

CORVALLIS, May 17 — Medford's Black Tornado, by taking a pair of individual firsts plus the half-mile relay, Saturday won the state high school class A track and field crown for 1948, and Henley high of Klamath county rolled on to its third straight class B championship.

Medford counted 35 points at the finish, followed by Jefferson at 15, Washington 14, Ashland, 12, Benson 11, Franklin 10, Hillsboro, Corvallis and Milwaukie, 9 each, Roseburg 8, Milton - Freewater 7, Seaside 6, Nyssa 6, Bend 5½, Grant, Beaverton, Salem and Gresham, 5 each, Newport, Cottage Grove and Woodburn, 4, Molalla 3½, Grants Pass and Oregon City 3, Klamath Falls, Lebanon, Hood River and Redmond, 2, Roosevelt 1½, Springfield and La Grande 1, Silverton ½.

Rich Riggs of Medford won both the 100-yard dash and 440.

Three meet records were bettered during the two days of class A work. Lloyd Jepson of Jefferson toured the half-mile in 2:00.4; Chuck Misfeldt, Milwaukie, hurled the javelin 211 feet 1 inch, and the Medford relay team ran its event in 1:31.2.

The only Klamath Falls' points were picked up by John Stone, who finished fourth in high hurdles.

Henley high's win in class B came on these efforts:

Wayne Gober's first in high hurdles; Delbert Arant's third in the 100-yard dash; Harold Balin's second place with the discus; Wayne Gober's fourth in the 220; Dale Webber's victory in low hurdles; Webber's third in broad jump; Clarence Adams' second with the javelin; Gober's first-place tie in the high jump and the second place running of the Hornet relay squad.

Dennis Davis of Bonanza tied with Gober in the high jump, and Ralph Womack of Bonanza was fifth in discus-throw.

Henley scored 34 points to 27 for Suislaw and 22 for Mohawk.
