

Sunday Rites Read At Presbyterian

The First Presbyterian church was the scene of a wedding Sunday afternoon, May 9, at 4 o'clock when Velma June Best, only daughter of Mrs. H. P. Williams of this city, became the bride of M. Frederick Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hanson of Long Creek.

Before an altar decorated with pink and white snapdragons, palms and tall white tapers, Rev. David F. Barnett Jr. read the double ring rites.

A few close friends and relatives of the couple were in attendance. Carl Hagel sang "O, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. George McIntyre, who later played traditional wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, I. C. Williams. Her gown was of white embroidered chiffon, fashioned with a high neckline, a fitted bodice and skirt falling into a long train. She carried a white handkerchief wristband bordered in old English lace, a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. I. C. Williams. A Japanese pearl necklace was her only jewelry. A lace-bordered fingertip veil fell from her beaded halo headpiece.

Rapture roses, ornithogalum and bouvardia formed her bouquet. Hazel Williams, aunt of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of light pink, and Phyllis Ball was bridesmaid in a gown of similar light blue. Each carried a colonial bouquet of flowers contrasting with the shades of their gowns.

Little Janet Jean Justice, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her floor-length frock was of white organza and she carried a basket of rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a suit of beige with matching accessories and a corsage of sweet peas. Her grandmother wore a silk dress of gray with matching accessories and a corsage of Cecil Bruner rosebuds.

Best man was Joseph Williams, and ushers were Howard Justice and Everett Lozer Jr. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple received at the church. The bride's cake was encircled with pink rosebuds and maidenhair ferns.

Mrs. Robert Sprawl, aunt of the bride, served, and Mrs. Everett Lozer Jr. presided at the punch bowl. Assisting were Mrs. Norman Macdonald and Mrs. Emily Mecum. Wanda Murray was in charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fields, great aunt and uncle of the bride, of Alturas, Calif.; Howard Justice and daughter, Janet Jean, of Westwood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sprawl, Joseph Williams, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Williams, the bride's grandparents, all of Mt. Vernon, and Mrs. Norman Macdonald of Dayville.

For going away Mrs. Hanson chose a suit of melon shade with white accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds and ornithogalum. After a honeymoon trip on the Oregon and California coasts, the newlyweds will make their home in Eastern Oregon.
