

Peace Move For Reds Up To Future

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today future Russian cooperation in settling world issues will determine Premier Stalin's sincerity in calling for greater understanding between nations.

Marshall said also that he certainly would see Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov if Molotov ever should come to Washington.

But Marshall refrained from saying he would be glad to see Molotov.

This reply concerning Molotov was given to a news conference question. Marshall omitted the "glad to see Molotov" used by the questioner, and only grinned when reporters laughed at the omission.

No Change

As to whether he had noted any recent increase in Russian cooperation toward solving issues before the United Nations and other international bodies, Marshall said there has not yet been much opportunity.

The secretary noted that the exchange between American Ambassador W. B. Smith and Molotov was accomplished only ten days ago and that Premier Stalin's broadcast statement was issued last Monday night.

Stalin's statement was in the form of a public reply to an open letter from Henry A. Wallace, third party candidate for president. Wallace listed issues on which he advocated U. S.-Soviet agreement; Stalin replied they offered a basis for agreement.

Marshall was asked whether it might now be considered that—from the American point of view—the whole matter of direct talks with Russia is now "dead at least for the present."

The secretary replied sharply that a thing has to be alive first before it can die.

Both Molotov, in his exchange with Smith, and Stalin appeared to be making bids for American-

Snow Drives Circus Out In Alturas

There are exceptions to every rule, even to such stringent ones as the old tradition "the show must go on."

The Clyde Beatty circus, appearing here tonight, was scheduled for a one-night stand in Alturas Tuesday on arriving in Alturas, however, the trouper found snow on the ground, and apparently deciding that snow was worse than violating an ancient tradition, moved on without unpacking a foot of canvas.

The circus train arrived in Klamath Falls at about 10 p. m., several hours earlier than expected, and finding something more suitable for sawdust than snow, began setting up for their show.

office said the timber, mostly Douglas fir, is in the east Junetta creek area and valued at $289,095.

Dad-Daughter Dinner Slated

Arrangements have been completed for the annual Camp Fire dad and daughter dinner which will be held at the armory Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

All Camp Fire Girls, Horizon club and Blue Bird members are invited to attend with their fathers as guests, or other male members of their families. Special "honorary dads" have been invited for those girls whose fathers are unable to attend.

The potluck style dinner will be followed by a program which will include the Blue Bird fly-up for all Blue Birds who are 10 years old.
