Vows Exchanged At St. Augustine's

One of late spring's most beautiful weddings was that solemnized at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, May 29, when Rosie Jean Suty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Suty, exchanged vows at St. Augustine's church in Merrill with Robert K. Thompson, son of Kasper Thompson and the late Mrs. Thompson of this city.

The Rev. Father James O'Connor read the service. The altar was decked with pink and white snapdragons and candles and standards held arrangements of the same flowers. Just before the ceremony Mrs. Mamie Giacomini played incidental organ music and Harold Hendrickson sang "Ave Maria" after the candles were lighted.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely white satin gown with full train, the neckline and skirt scalloped and the long sleeves snug at the wrists. She wore a full illusion net veil which fell from a coronet and carried a sheaf of white calla lilies centered with red roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

The bridal party was led by little Janette Takacs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Takacs of Tulelake, who scattered red rose petals from a basket. The ring-bearer was Roger Takacs, nephew of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Takacs of Tulelake.

The attendants and the flower girls wore identical frocks of delphinium blue marquisette over tafeta, with matching mitts. They wore pinned caps, and the bridesmaids carried flowered hearts fashioned of pink carnations, sweetpeas and marguerites. The maid of honor carried a heart wreathed with white ornithogalum.

Bridesmaids were Marie Suty, sister of the bride, Martha Krizo, and Marge Kenard of Portland, and Helen Suty, another sister, was the maid of honor.

Ushers were Anton Suty Jr., Bruce Wirth and Harold Young. The best man was David Ewing.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Suty entertained the wedding party and 200 guests at dinner at El Rancho Tule. There the bride and groom cut their elaborately decorated wedding cake. Receiving with the bride and groom was Rosie's mother, Mrs. Anton Suty, who wore a beige suit with black accessories and a corsage of elf roses. Mrs. Wanda Hall had the guest book.

Dancing followed dinner and later Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for the south on a wedding trip. They will be at home here in their new house on Clinton street.

The bride, member of a prominent Klamath county family, attended both Oregon State college and the University of Washington. The groom is a graduate in forestry at Oregon State college and is with Weyerhaeuser Timber company here.

The Dean home at 639 High street was the scene of the bridge party.

Busy Times Crowd Week In Our Town

The weather, the election, the garden and a half dozen other top items of conversation took over this week and there was no time to just sit around and think. You couldn't do much about the weather but dig down into your vocabulary, and gardening had to be put back another week or two, but folks did get out and vote and many matrons were serving Friday on the day or night election boards.

Quite a few parties were given this past week and weddings as usual are holding the spotlight for the next month or two. Last night's big party was the Junior-Senior prom at KUMS with Sacred Heart academy prom at the Willard last Thursday night. Both were gala affairs and party dresses were gay and swishy.

Greetings to and from Klamath Falls were exchanged at the wedding May 15 of Vera Thompson and Dewey Powell in San Francisco. Among those going south for the nuptials were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Weaver who were joined by their son, Clark, of Stockton, Mrs. Rose M. Poole and Mrs. Prentice Yeomans, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heilbroner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lawler, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Nelson, and A. B. Collins, and former residents included Ruth Dixon, Gertrude Teague and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lencara and daughter Lynn, all of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Rex McMillan of Dunsmuir, and Lee Stoner of the Bay city who has many friends here.

Before returning home Friday morning, Mrs. Poole and Ellenor visited with Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm and daughter Winifred at Los Altos. Winifred is at Stanford studying music and both plan to come home to Modoc Point and open their home there later in the spring.

Everybody had a wonderful time at Rosie Suty's wedding. The church was beautifully decorated with pink and white snapdragons and palms, and the attendants, from the pretty flower girl to the maid of honor, wore a delectable shade of blue. Even the pelting shower outside didn't dampen the gaiety. For something old and borrowed, Rosie wore her sister Mildred's (Mrs. Stephen Takacs) wedding veil, the something new was the lovely satin gown and there were the traditional blue garters.

It's another boy boy for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lindh who are celebrating the arrival of Gregory on May 16 at Springfield Gardens, Long Island, New York. Jack is still flying for Pan-American on the trans-Atlantic run and there are few ports where Jack has not been. Airports, that is.

Dr. and Mrs. George I. Wright are back home after a trip to Chicago, and proud as ever over their young granddaughter, Annette Susan who was two last March.

Added to the proud grandparent class — Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dalton of Malin who are back after a stay in Washington D. C. and a visit with their very young granddaughter, Elizabeth Louise.

Madelon Adler, who was the winner of the 19th annual piano contest of the Portland Junior symphony orchestra last Saturday afternoon in Neighbors of Woodcraft hall, will be home June 4 for a rest but plans to return to Eugene for summer work at the University of Oregon school of music. All of Madelon's friends were delighted to hear she had won in such heavy competition. There were eight young pianists trying for the honor. It finally summered down to Madelon, Charliette Lind and Jean Hoffman. The winner plays the Grieg piano concerto in Portland next fall.

Home after a sojourn in the south are Mrs. Edward Hall Pike and Mrs. Stephen Sabo. Mrs. Pike visited three weeks in San Francisco, Santa Cruz and Marysville, and Mrs. Sabo was with her sister and family, the John Bedfords of Carmel for several days.

Bad weather this past week kept Lt. Stuart Nelson and Lt. "Sandy" McWhorter in Klamath Falls last Tuesday night. They were en route from Seattle to Alameda, flying navy planes south. We heard all about the Nelson family (including the new arrival, Lauren Sydney) and they hope to visit in Klamath Falls and Lake o' the Woods this summer. Stuart is stationed for two months at Seattle and expects to return to Alameda the first of July to be with his family.

This week's mail brought a letter from Lettie Stewart giving details of brother Steve's marriage on May 15. You'll find the story in this section. About Lettie — she has been on the staff at Oregon State college but starting in August will be the Camp Fire field director for Benton and Polk counties.

Mary Jo Miller and David Vandenberg accompanied Judge David R. Vandenberg to Portland on Friday morning. Mary Jo and Dave, both senior students at Sacred Heart academy, were guests this weekend of Mary Vandenberg at the Maryhurst junior-senior prom. They expect to return this week-end with Mrs. John Henry Vandenberg of Portland who will visit for a time with her son's family. Judge Vandenberg is remaining in Portland where he will be on the bench for a week or 10 days.

Bay Church Scene Of Lovely Rites

The beautiful Swedenborgian church in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding of Vera Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Frank Frankford of San Francisco, and George Dewey Powell of Klamath Falls. Vows were exchanged at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, May 15, with the Rev. Othmar Tobiasch officiating.

The church was decked with huge copper bowls filled with flowering hawthorne, and arrangements of pine boughs and cones with magnolia completed the charming decor. Soft organ music was played before the wedding party entered the church.

Vera chose an afternoon frock of misty grey with a dusty rose hat, grey slippers, and she carried a corsage of brown and green orchids. Her only attendant was her sister Joan, who wore a water blue afternoon frock with cocoa brown accessories, and she carried a corsage of pink bouvardia.

Due to illness Mrs. Frankford was unable to attend the nuptials, but many from here visited with her prior to their return. Present for the ceremony was the groom's mother, Mrs. William Schaffner of Watonga, Okla.

Mrs. Banks and Marguerite are leaving Monday after a stay of several months and plan to make a lengthy sojourn in Vancouver, B. C. Several air-fares were given for the two during the past fortnight and the many friends they have made here regret their departure.
