

Dewey, Wallace, Speaking To Separate Audiences Slam Truman Program

SEATTLE, May 22 (AP)—Presidential aspirants Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Henry A. Wallace, speaking to separate applauding crowds, joined last night in criticism of the Truman administration's handling of international problems. Wallace charged that as a result of government action in Greece, China and Palestine "we have blood on our hands."

Dewey spoke in an auditorium jammed with 3000 persons. Hundreds had to stand.

Six thousand turned out in a high school stadium and waited through a long program in a chill wind to hear Wallace speak.

In his address, Dewey asserted that the United States "has the opportunity of all history in our hands" to cure the spawning of wars in Europe. He recommended a United States of Europe as the means. He said a strong national leadership was needed to bring it about.

With such leadership, he said, "we can build a Europe so strong that no dictator will dare to try to break it in our time or our children's time."

Dewey Hit

A mile across the city, Wallace hit at Dewey as a candidate who "has come out in favor of a cold war." "It is time to repudiate this man," he said.

Turning to the country's foreign policy, he declared that "the policies of Truman, Vandenberg, Marshall and Forrester have stained the world with blood and have laid the foundation for the greatest bloodshed the world has ever seen."

He asserted that the bi-partisan foreign policy "offers no hope for peace." Earlier, in a radio interview, Wallace said America should "call on Russia in open conference to stop the spread of communism in other nations."

"Stop Fires" Parade Held

A reminder that forest fire weather is ahead—despite the wet spring—was given Klamath people Friday by the American Legion, which staged a "Stop Forest Fires" parade and luncheon today.

The parade moved through the business district at mid-morning. It was led by the Klamath Union high school band, which carried a banner urging people to buy Rose Festival tickets to help send the band to the Portland event in June.

The new suburban fire department's white trucks made their first public appearance in the display of fire-fighting equipment that followed. Other equipment was from the Indian service, forest service, Klamath Forest Protective association and Weyerhaeuser Timber company.

The sheriff's posse rode at the rear of the parade.

Fred Baker, dean of forestry at the University of California, rode in the parade in a converted automobile and at noon addressed the luncheon at the Willard held in conjunction with the Rotary club meeting.

Walt Wiesendanger heads the committee which arranged the event.

Likely Rodeo To Be Held July 4-5

The Likely Rodeo club will hold its third annual round-up in Liberty, Calif., July 4 and 5 at the club's new corral and grandstand.

A crowd of about 5000 people can be accommodated at the new location. An elaborate Old West show has been planned, and the club hopes to have a large crowd of visitors from surrounding sections.

Birthday May Be His Last

Lewis Meets Mr. Moody

Boom Men Go Back On The Job

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 22 (AP)—The back-to-work movement as a result of the end of the boommen's strike was accelerating here today. Approximately 1500 workers were laid off as a result of the five-week long strike of some 50 harbor boommen.

Officials of the IWA Timber-Workers Union, local 3-2, said almost all logging companies would be in full scale operations by next Monday.

Ex-Klamath Man Killed

ALBANY, May 22 (AP)—A Portland man and three Lane county residents were killed almost instantly Friday night in a head-on collision at the city limits at Halsey.

Both cars were demolished. Not an occupant survived. The dead:

Ellis William Snyder, 47, who moved to Portland from Klamath Falls about a month ago, alone in a car traveling south.

Fred Earl Jackson, 27, route 1, box 311, Creswell, owner of the northbound car.

Robert Paul Fraser, 26, Diastion route, Cottage Grove, riding in Jackson's car.

A woman, also in Jackson's car, who was tentatively identified by letters in her purse as Mrs. Frances E. Dooley, 928 Birch, Cottage Grove.

The bodies were brought here. Ellis William Snyder left here for Portland in April, friends advised. He lived for a time on Conger avenue, occupying a residence on the M. L. Johnson property. He is married but has no children. Snyder was a carpenter, self employed.

Columbia Basin Report Slated

BOISE, May 22 (AP)—The Columbia basin inter-agency committee met in executive session Thursday to work out an integrated overall report for the Columbia basin.

R. J. Newell of Boise, chairman of the group, said the final report will be a completed program for economic development of the area. Reports on Idaho's agriculture, mining and forest resources were presented.

The next meeting of the inter-agency committee will be held in Jackson, Wyo., June 25.
