

4-H Official To Speak At Meet Here

Burton Hutton, assistant state club leader, will be in Klamath Falls to address the 4-H club leaders achievement program Friday evening, Francis A. Skinner, county club agent, announced yesterday.

The Klamath Falls Rotary club has invited 4-H club leaders to attend a banquet in their honor at the Willard hotel Friday at 6:30. This is the first public recognition of the work that these volunteer workers do to carry out the 4-H club program in Klamath county.

Pins Awarded
Leaders will be introduced and pins will be awarded by Elton Thompson, manager of the United States National bank. These awards are given leaders as they complete their 1st, 5th, 10th, 15th and 20th years of leadership by the U. S. National bank throughout the state of Oregon.

Every 4-H club has an adult leader who helps plan the program for the year and guides the club members in their work throughout the year. They attend the meetings and help with the project instruction. The leaders play a very important part in this guidance and in the inspiration for the development of the individual and in providing recreation.

In some cases, the club members may be a junior leader working with an older person as an assistant leader, and in other cases, the junior leader may assume all the responsibility for the club leadership. This phase of the club program encourages development of leadership qualities.

Many club members, after completing their 4-H club work, carry on as leaders to help other boys and girls get a start in the youth program.

She's 90, But Going To Wed

BRUSHTON, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Wedding plans are in the making for a widow who figures she's past 90 and her 37-year-old beau.

Clarence McGee "hasn't been courting me very long," Mrs. Eliza Murray said yesterday. "But Clarence and I like one another well enough to get married and that's just what we plan to do."

"I only feel like 80," she added. She was about 14 when she went to the altar with Charles Murray, she thinks. This will be McGee's first marriage.

The couple is awaiting a report on blood tests, required by state law.

Her 68-year-old son, James, who lives with her won't call McGee "father."

"I'm a little too old for that now," the son observed.

Mrs. Murray lost her left leg below the knee about 20 years ago in an automobile accident in which a
