He May Be Young, But He Works Hard

LOS ANGELES, May 26 (AP)—Dennis McShane has gone to work early in life.

Dennis is only one year old but he has blossomed out as a full-fledged wage earner. He got his social security card yesterday. He can't walk yet, but he's husky and weighs 32 pounds.

But Dennis can swim and how. He started swimming in the bathtub when he was five months old and, at nine months, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McShane, put him under the training of an expert coach.

Dennis has appeared in one movie and is scheduled to start work in another soon. The baby can swim across at 30-foot pool and dive from a regulation diving board.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to add to the company's system.

All of the new stock will be offered to present holders of preferred or common stock in the proportion of one share of new stock for each six shares of present stock.

Loren M. Streeter returned this week from Red Bluff, Calif., where he went several days ago to superintend shipment of his cattle by rail to Chiloquin from winter pasture in California. The cattle were driven from the Chiloquin stock yards as far as the Effman ranch Tuesday and were brought the remainder of the distance to the Streeter ranch on Wood river the following day. En route Tuesday, one of Streeter's cows had a "bleesed event" on the drive, giving birth to twin calves, which were immediately brought by car to the Streeter ranch for care. However, the animals evidently had become thoroughly chilled as the day was very cold and windy, and did not survive in spite of immediate care, both calves dying on Wednesday.

It was stated in a former item that Ray Prowell was doing the chores at the Streeter ranch during Mr. Streeter's absence. This proved to be erroneous, Prowell evidently deciding that one job at a time was enough, as he is employed on the local patrol of the state highway, and Alvin Copeland, neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Streeter, did the ranch chores instead. Clifford Engle of Fort Klamath assisted in driving the Streeter cattle from Chiloquin Tuesday to the Effman ranch and also on the following day to their destination, the Streeter ranch.

Friends will be glad to learn that Alfred B. "Tony" Castel has been dismissed from veterans' hospital in Portland and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turner, in Portland, where his wife has been staying since early January. Castel is improved following a slight recent relapse, and after he receives a routine checkup at the hospital soon expects to receive his medical discharge.

Dramatics Club

BLY—The Music and Dramatics club met Wednesday night with 14 members present.

Mrs. Irving Thomas and Mrs. Melvin Sanders were hostesses. The entertainment was a "Truth or Consequences" program directed by Cecil Nicholson and Vern Hanon. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Style Show

A style show with 70 girls modeling garments they made was presented by the eighth grade home-making classes of the Altamont Junior high school on May 13 at 2:30 p. m.

Mothers, teachers and seventh grade girls were guests. The original script for the show was read by Carolyn Donahoe and Barbara Custer. Bonnets, skirts, sports clothes and night wear were included in the showing. Musical numbers enjoyed were a vocal solo, "All Through the Night," by Barbara Custer, and a group of songs by the eighth grade girls glee club.

Mrs. Jack W. Wright is the home-making instructor, under whose direction the style show was given.
