

Angels Whip Loop-Leading Seals Twice

Rainers Take Two From Luck-Lacking Beavers, 9-1, 2-0

By The Associated Press
 San Francisco's latest young superstar, Cou Dempsey, has been proved mortal after all. The strapping rookie right-hander suffered his first defeat and gave up his first earned runs of the season yesterday as Los Angeles handed the Seals a 2-0 pasting to go with an earlier 6-5 defeat in 11 innings.

Both Angel runs were earned off Dempsey, who followed Bob Cheneas as Salt Lake City's gift to San Francisco. With a 4-1 record, Dempsey now has given up two bona fide tallies in 38 2/3 innings—earned run average still way under par.

Dempsey's conqueror was Dewey Adkins, who beside chucking a riffy three-hitter, had the personal pleasure of basing in both runs off his rival with a single in the second inning.

WALKED WINNER
 The Angels took the first game when Manny Perez walked Eddie Bauer with the bags loaded to force home the winning run. Russ Myers, who shut out the Seals for the last four frames, gained the credit.

Going into today's Memorial Day twin bills, the Angels held a four-two series lead. If they can split today, they will be the first club to win a series from the Seals this year.

The double drubbing cut the Seals' lead to four games over Seattle and Los Angeles, and four and a half over Oakland.

The rampaging Seattles made it five out of six over Portland with another pair of classy found jobs. Guy Fletcher hurled a three-hit 9-1 victory and southpaw Herman Bease followed with a five-hit, 2-0 whitewashing.

Lefty Roy Heiser stayed close to Fletcher in the opener until the seventh. Then the Seals fanned for six runs, half of them on Earl Rapp's base-clearing triple.

BRIDGES LOSES
 Neil Sheridan's triple and Rapp's single in the third inning saddled Tommy Bridges with the nightcap loss.

Oakland kept first division rank close by trimming Hollywood, 8-5, before bowing by the same score in the finale.

The Oaks spotted the Stars five runs in the opener, then blasted Vete Gerberian out with four in the eighth and followed with four more in the ninth off loser Hooks Iott and Joe Krakauskas.

Damon Hayes was the winner in the first, but was tagged with the loss in the nightcap as Rip Russell hit a pair of two-run homers. Ed Alberta was the Hollywood winner, George Melkovich hit a homer in each game for the Oaks, who took a five-two series edge.

Rain postponed the San Diego-Sacramento doubleheader.

The St. Louis Cardinals boast the best left-handed mound staff in the major leagues and these three twirlers put the Redbirds on top of the National circuit. Al Brazle, Harry Brecheen and Howie Pollet are the standbys, Brecheen with three shutouts in his first four turns of duty. However, the Cards are last in the league in team batting and are having a hard time hanging on to their lofty position.

Down and Out at Second

Bill Rigney, New York Giants' second baseman, cuts loose a throw to first after stepping on second to force Enos Slaughter, St. Louis first fielder, in the fourth inning of a Giants-Cardinal game in New York. Giants' shortstop Buddy Kerr started the double play, picking up Cardinal Nippy Jones' grounder and tossing to Rigney, who in turn threw to Johnny Mize to complete the twin-killing. The Cards won, 9 to 6.

Bows Out

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., packed a punch in the British women's amateur golfing at St. Anne's-by-the-Sea, but bowed out in yesterday's play.

Tule Defeats Panther Nine

TULELAKE, May 29 (AP)—Tulelake's Homesteaders defeated the Chiloquin Panthers 8-3 in an Interstate baseball league game Sunday, a contest which was curtailed in the eighth inning by Chiloquin protest.

The Panthers quit the field after an argument over what they thought was a bad umpire's decision.

In the only other league contest, Alturas played host to Bly and won 6 to 5.

Six Die In Roaring Fire

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Six persons died today in a roaring fire that spread with terrific speed through a three-story apartment building on the southwest side.

An undetermined number of persons fled from the building located at 2014 South California Ave.

Fire Marshal Anthony Mullaney said the blaze, of undetermined origin, spread so quickly that rescuers were able to save only one of seven persons trapped on the second and third floors.

Earlier seven persons were injured in another fire which damaged a three-story apartment building at 2110 Kendall street, about a mile south of the California avenue blaze.

Four of the victims in the California Ave. fire were identified as Frank Duffek, 70, owner of the building; Mrs. Lyle Wilkins and her son, John, 4; and Kiren Callaghan, 40.

The bodies of the other two victims were believed to be those of Albert Stuczynski and his wife, Rose. The bodies were found in a third floor apartment occupied by the couple but were burned beyond recognition.

Composer To Appear At Local Spot

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine," written when he was only 29 years old, launched the composing career of Harry Carroll, who will appear at Cal-Ore beginning Tuesday.

Hit after hit that followed engraved the name of Harry Carroll, not only in the hall of musical fame but in the hearts of a generation of American lovers of the ballad. "On the Mississippi," "By the Sea," "Chasing Rainbows," "A Kiss for Cinderella," "I Think You're Wonderful," and a score of others have had much to do with the success of many of Broadway's record crumpling musicals during the past two decades.

Al Jolson, the Dolly sisters, Fanny Brice, Vernon Castle and Sally Rand are among the luminaries whose repertoires have been enriched by the composing artistry of Harry Carroll who, with his partner, Polly Baker, an artist in her own right, will open at Cal-Ore Tuesday for a limited engagement.

Petite and charming Lorna Fordyce, whose press agents have dubbed the "Sophisticated of Tap," completes the show.

New Grazing Rental Rate Established

The first uniform schedule of rental rates for livestock grazing on 37 million acres of public domain lands outside of federal grazing districts in the West is provided in new regulations of the bureau of land management governing the issuance of leases for such lands under section 15 of the Taylor grazing act, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug said this week.

The new rates range from one-tenth of a cent per acre per year for the least productive land to 44 cents per acre for the best type of forage areas.

Stockmen no longer must pay a filing fee of $5 for each 1000 acres in submitting applications for lease on the "section 15 lands." Applications for leases are handled through the U. S. land office at Lakeview and Roseburg, and also through the O. and C. office in Medford for all lands in Jackson and Josephine counties and Klamath county west of Klamath Falls.

Boxers Form Guild, Managers Might Be Put To Work

NEW YORK, (NEA)—The Boxing Managers' Guild of New York put ideas in the fighters' heads when they held out for—and got—one-quarter of the television money.

The war cancelled six consecutive shows at St. Nicholas arena while the circus occupied Madison Square Garden, and as a result the trouble has just started for the intrepid souls who live off bruised back butters.

The newest organization in the many art of managing mugs is the Professional Boxers' Association, Inc., and it already has 56 members.

The first meeting will be held at a New York hotel, June 5, when the formidable middleweight, Steve Beling, is expected to be elected president and treasurer.

Welterweight champion Ray Robinson has sent his best wishes. Middleweight Jack LaMotta is expected to join up when he is reinstated in New York, June 21.

This is going to be big business. A lot of managers will have to go to work.

All of the fighters are not opposed to handlers, but all violently object to the Managers' guild's arbitrary demanding one third more of purses for its members. Most state boxing laws state that the manager's slice be not in excess of one third, but nothing is said about it being less. And frequently managers take 50 per cent with all expenses coming off the top.

"Take Sugar Robinson, for example," says Irving J. Tell, lawyer spokesman for the gladiators. "What manager wouldn't be happy to manage him for 10 per cent?"

Attorney Tell admits the plan may develop into a central booking office.

Why should a scrapper give up one third or more of his purse when the manager does nothing more than charge him? Theatrical agencies charge no more than 10 per cent.

Barrister Tell will attempt to have a bill introduced in the state legislature making leather pushers eligible for workmen's compensation. Similar legislation has been introduced in Pennsylvania. A rate of insurance would be fixed for all productions.

"Certainly boxing is a hazardous occupation," asserts Tell. "The fighter is entitled to the protection of the miner, iron worker, steeljacker and whatnot."

A charter for the Professional Boxers Association, Inc., has been recorded by the secretary of state. The aim is a national organization.

So shortly you may hear: "In this corner, Joe Doakes, 158 1/2, black trunks, Local No. 6, Detroit. And over there Munggy McGee, 150 1/2, Local No. 18, Schenectady."

It is bringing back both members-of-this-club days.

Most managers have another line, more often than not of a sinister kind, but be that as it may, many of them are going to be without fighters soon.

Think of some managers going to work. Al Weill, for instance, would be a good man on a peanut stand.

The wise guy managers out-smarted themselves, went a mile too far when they held out for that television money.

They didn't realize what a soft racket they had.

Thirty-Three Cars Zoom Across Starting Line As Classic Opens

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP)—The 500-mile Memorial Day auto race got under way at 2:01 a. m. today when Rex Mays' big black and white racer hummed across the starting line.

A crowd estimated at 150,000 roared a salute to the fastest field ever qualified for the race.

Wilbur Shaw, himself a three-time winner at the speedway, swerved the pace car off the straightaway bricks after the first untimed lap and the race was on.

Mays led into the first turn, Mauri Rose, the 1947 winner, was right on his tail, and Bill Holland, last year's runner-up, was third. Holland had moved ahead of Rose at the end of the first lap.

Harry McQuinn, Indianapolis, ran into mechanical trouble at the start and was forced out after the first lap. A broken super-charger shaft was his trouble.

Mays set a new track record for the first lap, reeling off the two and a half miles at 123.102 miles per hour to wipe out Cliff Bergere's performance of a year ago.

An early overcast cleared before race time and the 33 tuned and polished speedsters lined up under a bright sun. A cool east wind apparently was not strong enough to affect the speed of the all-time fastest field.

Some hundreds of the speed enthusiasts had been waiting two days to be among the first into the grounds when gates opened at 5 a. m. They grabbed choice parking spots and promptly fell asleep in their cars.

The main artery into the speedway, 16th street, was lined for miles with refreshment stands and carnival attractions, including a two-headed cow. Prices were a little inflated and some residents along the route charged ten cents for the use of their washrooms.

Time trials winnowed out the 33 top cars from a record entry list of 80 powerful, high-g geared racers.

Nine of the leading drivers from America's dirt tracks and midget saucers were ready to burn the bricks, along with 24 speedway veterans. The nine freshmen already had proved themselves adept on the two-and-a-half-mile track by earning starting spots in the fastest field ever brought together.

The 33 cars, ten of them brand new and the others rebuilt from proved racers, had averaged 125.163 miles an hour in qualification runs. That was about three miles an hour faster than any previous starting field. Five cars averaged more than 128 miles an hour for another record.

The standard favorites were Rex Mays, Ted Horn, Bill Holland, Mauri Rose and Duke Nalon. Rose, winner last year and co-winner with Floyd Davis in 1941, was the only starter who ever had received the victor's checker flag.

Vag Picked Up Twice For Panhandling

A man named E. Palmer Dixon, aged 36, was tossed into the city jail twice in two days on charges of vagrancy. He is due to stay for a while this time.

Dixon was arrested Thursday for panhandling and judgement was suspended on his promise to leave town. He was released from jail Friday morning.

Friday night he was arrested again, for panhandling, and is held for a jail sentence. Dixon said he lived at the Klamath Annex.

Bennie Swenson, 42, Modoc Point, also booked Friday night for vagrancy, was found not guilty but was given 10 or 10 days on a drunk charge. Leo V. Smith, 47, Klamath hotel, also was given 10 or 10 days on a drunk count, as was John Arthur Holmgren, 55, of 224 Broad. Pat Halliman, 45, Bibbee hotel, posted $10 bail on a similar charge. George E. Lytle, 19, air station, posted $2 bail for making an improper left turn on Main.
