Heralds Of Spring Include "Jacks"

Grubby little paws and that tap-tap-tap is the signal of spring and the arrival of "jacks" season.

Times have changed since mother was a girl. There was none of this fancy business such as "overs" and "kings" and such. It was a sterner world and when once you threw the jacks you took your own medicine and got out of a tight squeeze the best you could.

For those who have just embarked on the fascinating game of jacks, there is an interesting story back of this game. It was originally known as Jack stones or chuck stones, and often called just plain "stones." It was not played with a ball and the jacks as we know them today, but with small stones. The word "chuck" comes from "stones small enough to chuck or throw."

One stone was tossed in the air as other stones were picked up. Now a ball is used and stones are little gadgets with points. Somebody has practically ruined the game by making jacks of plastic. They are too light and lucky the girl who has an old set of heavy metal jacks. Something you can get your teeth into. Makes it easier to "pinky" too.

"Jumping the Ditch," in which alternate jacks are picked up, and "Horses in the Stall," with the jacks pushed into the opening of the left hand fingers, spread out on the ground, are two of the old phases of the game which the present generation of jack players may not have heard about.

In a mother-daughter tournament we witnessed recently, the old girls didn't come out so badly. Creaked a little when they stood up.

This is graduation week and many a thrilled parent as their child completed the required years in either high school or junior high. College commencement comes later. The Herald and News staff came out pretty well in cups and scholarships! Mary Lou Case, who writes our high school column, and Ronnie Brown, our night man, were faculty cup winners and also received scholarships and other awards. And at Mills, Nancy Bennet was cited for distinction in the field of history and government. Nancy is a member of our advertising department in the summer.

This is the start of vacation now that school is out. Mrs. Willard C. Preston and daughter Mary Ann left Thursday night just one hour after Mary Ann graduated with the Fremont junior high class. They will make their home in Whitefish, Mont. where Mr. Preston was transferred sometime ago with the Great Northern.

Mrs. Lane Warren and daughter Nancy are leaving Monday for Prineville where they will join Mrs. Ludwig Peterson and continue to Portland for the Rose Festival. From there they will go to Seattle for a visit and on to Victoria where they have reservations June 17 and 18 at the Empress hotel. They will spend a week in Vancouver, B. C. before returning home in late June.

Taking off early Friday morning were Mr. and Mrs. George Hillis and two children, Sylvia and Bill, who are spending the week-end at their cabin on Union creek.

The J. C. O'Neills are at their cabin at Lake o' the Woods this week-end.

The Frank X. Sextons just returned from a trip to Texas and home by way of Minnesota and left again today for Eugene to attend a recital in which their daughter, Mary Louise, will sing. She is a music major at Oregon. They will also visit with their other daughter, Marianne, who is at the university.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Webb Staunton of Tulelake are anticipating a visit from their daughter and son-in-law, the A. J. Pecks of Charleston, West Virginia, who are driving west this month. They will stay for June and July at the Staunton home.

Lots of weddings this week, and among them that of Dorothy Hutchinson, who will become a bride at St. Paul's tomorrow.

This morning Betty Ree Martin was married at St. Paul's to James Waldon Akerill of Grants Pass. She had the traditional "something old" and wore a blue garter. The lucky piece in her shoe was given by her godmother, Mrs. Oscar Shive, and the handkerchief she carried was one brought from Lucerne, Switzerland by the late Mrs. Rufus Moore as a gift to Betty Ree's mother, Mrs. Charles Joseph Martin. The something borrowed was a strand of lovely pearls owned by Mrs. Martin.

Betty Ree's maid-of-honor was Marcelyn Wiggins who came up from San Francisco for the wedding. Marcelyn has just completed her work at Patricia Stevens' school of modeling and is now a full-fledged professional model, card and all. She was one of eight in the graduating class to model at Macy's millinery show just recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Banister, 2035 Auburn, are receiving congratulations from their many friends over the arrival of a son—Robert Michael—who reached Klamath Falls Monday morning. Robert Michael is a six-month-old charmer with blue eyes and brown curly hair. Robert Michael tips scales at 17 pounds and, needless to say, the Banisters are walking on air.

Visitors here this past week include Mr. and Mrs. Mahr Reymers of Menlo Park, Calif., who have been here as guests of the Charles Mack's. The Reymers started out by plane but bad weather grounded them in Redding for a couple of days and they came on up by motor, leaving their plane there. Mahr flew down Wednesday and brought it back here.

Betty Ree Martin Is Spring Bride

Wearing traditional white satin with a long, sweeping train, Betty Ree Martin walked down the aisle of St. Paul's Episcopal church at 11 o'clock this morning on the arm of her father, Charles Joseph Martin, to exchange vows with James Waldon Akerill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hardy Akerill of Grants Pass.

The altar was decked with pink and white snapdragons and large arrangements of the same flowers, with many palms, completed the background. White satin bows marked each pew.

The Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach officiated.

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt played the wedding marches, and just before the ceremony Carl Hagel sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Betty Ree's fingertip veil of illusion net fell from a seed pearl tiara and she carried a white prayer book which had belonged to her great-grandmother, Mrs. John Mills. The prayer book was topped with a single white orchid from which fell a cascade of satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, owned by her mother, Mrs. Charles Joseph Martin.

Marcelyn Wiggins was the bride's attendant, and she wore a floor-length frock of delphinium blue marquisette with a sheer picture hat and blue mitts. She carried an heirloom point lace fan which belonged to Mrs. John Martin's mother. A shower of ribbons, caught with blue blossoms, fell from the lovely fan.

Kent Goeckner was the ring bearer and carried a white satin pillow edged in lace. His sister, Thirza, was the flower girl and wore pale pink marquisette, and she plucked flowers from an old-fashioned bouquet as she walked down the aisle. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Goeckner, of Salem and cousin of the bride.

The best man was John E. Voorhies of San Francisco and Grants Pass, and ushers included Charles Franklin Martin, brother of the bride; James Grimes and Alfred Peterstener, all of Klamath Falls, and Steve Dipple, Medford.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, 228 N. 7th street. The young couple cut the first piece of their beautifully decorated cake, and serving were Mrs. Delos Mills and Mrs. E. B. Goeckner.

Mrs. E. M. Bubb presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Ruth Voorhies of San Francisco, mother of the best man, served punch.

The guest book was in charge of Mrs. DeCew, and others who assisted about the rooms were Mrs. Maud Hosley, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Samuel E. Martin of Piedmont, Calif.; Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood and Mrs. James B. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Akerill left this afternoon for a wedding trip south. For traveling the bride wore a pale wheat cardboard suit with a summer straw, a Kelly green bag and shoes and the orchid from her prayer book at her shoulder.

On their return the young couple will be at home in Ashland where they have taken an apartment. Mrs. Akerill will teach in the Phoenix schools next year and Mr. Akerill will continue his studies at Southern Oregon college.
