Benes Quits As Head Of Czech State

PRAGUE, June 7 (AP)—President Benes resigned today.

Premier Klement Gottwald's office announced the resignation was accepted at a special cabinet meeting.

He resigned once before—in 1938 after the Munich conference brought the German invasion—but reassumed the presidency in London, July 21, 1940. He first became president in December, 1935, after Thomas G. Masaryk resigned because of age and illness. Benes had been Masaryk's foreign minister 17 years and helped him found the Czechoslovak republic.

Much Speculation

There has been speculation for two weeks that the president would resign and ill health would be given as the reason.

The ministry of information said it could give no official statement on his health, his official status or whether he has signed the new "peoole's democracy" constitution.

The constitution was adopted May 9 by a purged, communist-dominated parliament. If the president refused to sign it today, it would have to be adopted again by the new parliament.

Three months ago Masaryk's son Jan, Benes' foreign minister, was found dead—a suicide, the communist government said. That followed the communist coup in February which sharply reduced Benes' powers.

The resignation took out of the government the last strong link that this country, founded with American support, had with the West. Benes remained that, though his powers were shorn, even after he bowed to the communists in February.

Gottwald's office said Benes will receive the presidential country home at Lany, 24 miles from Prague, as a tribute to his work, and that his presidential salary will continue for life.

Under the new constitution, Gottwald will summon parliament and sign all bills.

John Welsh Held Here

John Earl Welsh, 37, of Bly, was back in circuit court Saturday for arraignment on habitual criminal charges placed against him several weeks ago when he was convicted of passing bad checks.

Welsh had begun serving a five-year sentence in the Oregon state prison and was brought back from Salem Friday to be faced with the habitual criminal act which may send him to prison for life.

On arraignment, Welsh said he had no attorney and Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg appointed Harry Boivin to represent him. Welsh has until next Saturday to enter a plea and meanwhile is being held in the county jail.

Former Basin Resident Dies

Word comes from Grants Pass that N. O. Hansen, 38, a former resident of Klamath Falls, died in that city Friday morning.

Death came in the Josephine county hospital after a three-week illness.

Hansen was employed as a lumber grader in Grants Pass and had lived in Klamath Falls for 10 years, leaving here in 1943.

He is survived by his wife, three sisters, Mrs. B. C. Wade of Klamath Falls, Mrs. Fred Belter of Longview, Wash., Miss Gertrude Hansen of Oakland, Calif., and two brothers, H. G. Hansen of this city and A. M. Hansen of Portland.

Funeral arrangements are being made in Grants Pass.

Deller Files For School Board Post---Legality Eyed

A test is seen here as to the legality of a school employe serving on a school board with the filing of nominating petition by Paul H. Deller, Klamath Union high school track coach and teacher, seeking the post of director on board 2, KUHS.

An informal opinion to the effect that a school employe is not legally eligible for such a job, has been received by Superintendent Harold M. Ashley, from the state board of education, but a legal opinion is now being sought from Attorney General George Neuner.

Until the legal opinion is handed down, Deller said he would keep the petition on file.

"I feel it is only fair that any resident in the district who is a qualified voter, should be able to run for a school office until such time as the attorney general hands down an opinion to the contrary," Deller said today.

In reference to the state law that no public employe can hold two offices, Deller had this to say:

"The state law says that no citizen can run for such an office (school board) with pecuniary intent in mind.

"I do not believe it has ever pointed to a case such as this where I would receive no remuneration from the office."

(The office of school director carries no pay.)

Deller said he was very interested in the local schools, had taught for 18 years, seven as superintendent of schools, and is now serving as coach and instructor. He is a student of American government.

If a ruling gives Deller the green light—or if no ruling is handed down by the time of election, June 28—the KUHS instructor will face Jack Linman, Klamath Falls businessman for the post. Linman filed several weeks ago.

A third candidate for a school post has also filed with C. S. "Sid" Elliot handing in petitions to School Clerk A. W. Heston this week-end for the job as director of board 1.

Girl Scout News

A full summer program for the Girl Scouts of Klamath area will swing into action now that school has closed, despite the fact that many troops do not meet in the summer. Girl Scouting will go into high gear with camping, day camping, special trips for troops and a full program of summer activities. It is Scouting moved out-of-doors.

The camp booklet has been sent out to Scouts and adult workers by the Girl Scout office and contains full instructions for day camping at Moore park and the regular camp at Lake o' the Woods. With this two-fold program, the local Girl Scout organization is reaching the Scouting ideal of out-door experiences for every girl.

Day Camp

The day camp will be held at Moore park in two sessions: July 13, 14, 15, 16, 20 and 21 composing the first, and July 22, 23, 27, 28, 29 and 30 composing the last. The fee for this is $2 per session, which includes milk, transportation and program materials. Girls should register for this as soon as possible.

Camp Esther Applegate

Registrations, for which a form is provided in the camp booklet, are also being taken now for Camp Esther Applegate at Lake o' the Woods. The fee for one week is $13, of which $2 must be paid at the time of registration. Out-of-county girls must pay $15 for registration. Registration must be paid at the Girl Scout office, 412 Main, in person or by mail before July 1 and will be open to Senior Scouts, Intermediate Scouts and Fly-Up Brownie Scouts.

The Girl Scout camping period has been divided into four one-week sessions: August 1-8, August 8-15, August 15-22 and August 22-29. Girls who want to go for more than one period will register for as many as they wish, with the understanding that one or more periods may be subject to cancellation if accommodation are not available.

Camp Prepared

The camp is getting a thorough house-cleaning and repairing during June, because fathers and mothers and Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are taking every Sunday to do camp "chores." One project for June is building a shower house, and anyone interested in helping with Sunday work for the Girl Scouts is asked to call the Girl Scout office, 4541. A hot mid-day meal will be furnished.

Archery Meet Set Monday

Archery enthusiasts are invited to gather at Altamont school grounds at 6 p. m. Monday to exhibit their skill with bows and arrows.

Formation of an archery club here is under consideration and several archers met Wednesday night to talk plans. Roy Ruge is temporary chairman.

If enough interest is shown in forming such a club, Ruge said, a deer hunting trip into the Deschutes area will be planned. A roving range in Moore park will be available also for club use, members of the park board advise.

Ever Try a MOVIE VACATION?

The cost is counted in pennies, not dollars. It's apt to take you to the farthest corners of the earth. It's bound to show you unusual scenes and interesting people. And you can have it not far away from your own home—at the movies.

You'll find that short vacations at the movies will rest and relax you in mind and body . . . and tide you and your family over until you can get away for your long vacation.

Why not try a movie vacation today? There's everything you could ask for at your Klamath Falls Theatres.

More Poll Costs Filed

Several more expenditure reports were filed Friday morinng but several candidates for nomination in the recent primary elections apparently are going to be late in officially telling how much they spent on campaigns.

The deadline was noon today.

Ed Gowen, successful GOP candidate for party nomination as county commissioner, reported expenses of $142.15. Frank Steele, victorious democratic candidate in the sheriff race, reported $177.90. Guy Bellant, unopposed for the democratic nomination as county commissioner, said his campaign cost nothing.

All the other reports made this morning were by sheriff candidates. J. P. Matthews, chairman of the "Karl Dehlinger for sheriff" committee, reported $137.80; Dean Hall, $142.87; W. F. Swigart, $107.80; Fenton Mahrt, $102.70.

County Agent Visits Here

County Agent George M. Delany of Grant county, Washington, was in Klamath Falls Saturday discussing potato raising with County Agent Charles A Henderson, Assistant Agent Walt Jendrzejewski and Ernie Lndsay, former assistant county agent and present Tulelake homesteader.

Delany said about 6000 acres are in spuds in his county, half russets and half White Rose. The crop is marketed in Washington and in the East, the early White Roses being ready to harvest July 15-21 the time harvesting of the Bakersfield, Calif., crop is completed.

Firecracker Warning Out

Police Chief Orville Hamilton Friday warned against shooting firecrackers in town, which is against municipal ordinance and one of the problems police have to contend with every year as the Fourth of July approaches.

Sale of firecrackers is forbidden inside the city limits but the noisemakers can be purchased outside the city, Dealers, Hamilton said, are selling firecrackers to youngsters and telling them they can shoot them in town on their own property.

That is not correct. The crackers are outlawed by city ordinance on personal property or any other property in town, Hamilton said.

Bill To Rebuild Vanport Stalled

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) — A house public works subcommittee Saturday postponed until next week action on a bill to authorize emergency federal aid in restoring public property at Vanport, Ore., and other flood-damaged areas in the Northwest.

Rep. Angell (R-Ore.), author of the bill, said the committee expects George H. Field of the federal works agency to return from Oregon Monday with first hand information on the needs of the area.

The bill would authorize an appropriation of $75,000,000 to rebuild federal works and to grant money to local subdivisions for rebuilding of public facilities.

New Record Set For Bill Action

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP) — A Pennsylvania congressman was claiming a legislative speed record Saturday: He had a bill approved by a house committee three hours before he introduced it.

Committees usually don't consider any legislation that has not been laid formally before congress. But the house judiciary group looked over a measure prepared by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) and gave it an okay before Walter could get it to the floor.

The bill would allow military personnel or civilian employes of the war department five years in which to file claims for property lost or captured during the war. Present law allows only one year.

SA To Hold Bible School

The Salvation Army daily vacation Bible school will open for its first session on Monday, June 7 at 10 a. m. Classes will continue each morning from 10 to 12 through Saturday, June 12. A picnic at Moore park on Sunday, June 13 will complete the events of the week.

Classes in Bible study, crafts, inspirational and educational films, story-telling and singspiration will be included. Any child from four years of age through sophomore year in high school is eligible to attend.

The Sunday school bus will pick children up along the regular Sunday school route. Others who are not familiar with this schedule may call Major W. Roswall at 6961 for information.

CITY BRIEFS

Visitors—Relatives of Mrs. Frank Webster of Salt Lake City, who is in Hillside hospital following an accident on May 4, have come from Utah and California. Mrs. Grant B. Bryan and daughter Patricia of Salt Lake City, are here on their second visit to see Mrs. Bryan's mother, Mrs. Webster. Another daughter, Mrs. J. A. Checketts, her husband and daughter Carol of Santa Maria, Calif., are also here and all are staying at the Winema. A son, Lyle D. Webster was here last week from Salt Lake City with his wife and will return again in another week.

Junior Golf—Youngsters under 18 years of age who wish to participate in the city junior golf tournament must turn in medal scores for 36 holes over the Reames Country club next week, Recreation Director Sam Smith said today. The rounds may be played any day next week.

Tulelake Club — Members of the Tulelake Garden club will meet Tuesday, June 8, at the home of Mrs. H. T. Street. There will be a program and a lecture on "Pest Control" given by Ed Greene. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Olney Rudd and Mrs. Roland Ward.

Winnemucca Trip Slated

A trek over bad roads to Winnemucca, Nev., is planned for some of the more hardy members of the Klamath county chamber of commerce next Saturday.

The trip will be made to demonstrate the need for a highway from Alturas, Cedarville, through Vya, Nev., to Winnemucca and east.

Such a road would cut several hours off auto traveling time to the midwest and east by eliminating the travel down through Susanville and Reno necessary to get on an East-West highway.

Wife Electrocuted By Guard Fence

BOLTON, England, June 7 (AP) — Thomas Mann strung wires around his garden to scare off night-prowling cats. The device electrocuted his wife.

Mann, 38, told the coroner he plugged the wires into a light socket at night and unhooked them each morning, to keep his seven children from harm when they frolicked in the backyard.

His 33-year-old wife, Annie, fell among the wires. Neighbors found her crumpled over dead.

Don't Let 'Em Tell You You Can't

By EARL WHITLOCK

Just a few items here, gleaned from the records, which show that the wisest men are often wrong when they advise others against a choice of action. It may encourage some of my readers who have had what seemed to them pretty good ideas, only to have some older person knock the wind out of their hopes by saying "It can't be done."

Earl Whitlock

A youngster named Scott sent in a manuscript to an editor and was told that he couldn't write and would never be able to. The youngster? "Sir Walter Scott. About the same time a girl named Bronte showed a story to Marlowe. Quit trying to write, said the great authority. Go to dressmaking. Jane Eyre was the story he criticized.

The greatest music teacher in Italy told a young singer he would never be able to sing in public. His voice simply was not good enough. It should be used for selling fish, not for hitting high Cs. The ambitious kid was Enrico Caruso. Thomas Edison—and you'd think he had done enough impossible things so he wouldn't have said it—declared that a young inventor's idea for light-house lanterns which would automatically turn on at sunset and off at sunrise was ridiculous. Most of the world uses that invention today.

So, don't let anybody discourage you by saying "You cannot do it. It won't work." That's a challenge. Not a decree. "Visit Memory Garden."

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "You Never Know."

STORE HEAD

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 7 (AP)—John A. Roosevelt, son of the late president, will head a chain of department stores in California.

This was disclosed Friday with filing of articles of incorporation for the Roosevelt-Good corporation. The firm's headquarters and first store will be located in Beverly Hills.

Lee Good, formerly with Marshall Field & Company, will be vice president.
