ing" in the state department about the proposal has been "cleared up."

Encouraged by the fact the chamber was able to dispose of seven controversial civil rights amendments in yesterday's 11-hour and 19 minute session, acting Majority Leader Wherry of Nebraska said he will hold the senate into the night again.

Judge Rules Oil Contract To Be Illegal

LOS ANGELES, June 8 (AP)—Exclusive dealer contracts between Standard Oil Co. of California and independently owned service stations were ruled invalid Monday in federal court.

The far-reaching decision affects some 30,000 independently operated stations which have contracts with Standard to sell only products made or sponsored by the oil company. The suit was instituted by the anti-trust division of the department of justice.

William C. Dixon, chief of the anti-trust division, said he expected the decision to force a reorganization of the entire oil industry marketing structure nationally.

Standard Stations Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Standard Oil, which also markets the company's products exclusively, is not affected.

U. S. District Judge Leon R. Yankwich, who heard the case, issued an injunction to invalidate the contracts, but provided that it shall not be effective until six months after final determination of the case—probably by the U. S. supreme court.

The jurist explained that he incorporated the provisions into his order so that orderly marketing of oil industry products would not be interfered with during the time necessary for appeal. He said it also would permit time for Standard, and other companies, to adjust their marketing organizations in the event appeal is unsuccessful.

Youth Held For Kidnap

WICHITA, Kas., June 8 (AP)—A 17-year-old girl and a married salesman, charged with kidnaping her, were in police custody Monday.

The salesman is Arthur Deets Jr., 23, of Kingston, Pa. He is the father of two children. The girl, Mrs. Mary Kalinoski, York, Pa., is a bride of less than two months.

Police said they ran away May 28 shortly before the girl's high school graduation. They were arrested here yesterday.

Mrs. Kalinoski told officers she left willingly with Deets.

"We know we love each other," Deets said.

Thomas T. Kalinoski, 25, New Britain, Conn., who said he and the girl were wed secretly April 15, filed the kidnaping charge at York.

Mrs. Kalinoski said she respected her husband but loved Deets, Police Detective Frank Parsons reported.

"From the standpoint of law, I know we were way out of step," Deets said, "but from the standpoint of how we feel about each other, we were in step."

He said they both plan to obtain divorces and be married.

'Missing' Tar Held As AWOL

JOPLIN, Mo., June 8 (AP) — Thomas R. Fly, 32, Joplin sailor reported as missing in the swamping of a naval launch off Norfolk, Va., a week ago, is being held in jail as AWOL. He was arrested Sunday by naval officials and police.

Fly told officers he left his naval station the day before the launch was swamped, coming here by bus to be with his wife, who is ill. He undoubtedly would have been aboard the launch had he been at his station, he told police.

Hall Named Dean At Grays Harbor

ABERDEEN, June 8 (AP)—George L. Hall, acting dean of men at the University of Oregon for two years, has been elected dean of Grays Harbor Junior college. Hall, a former Myrtle Point, Ore., high school instructor, succeeds Dr. George Allen Odgers. Last week Odgers withdrew a formal protest against the failure of the Aberdeen school district to renew his contract.

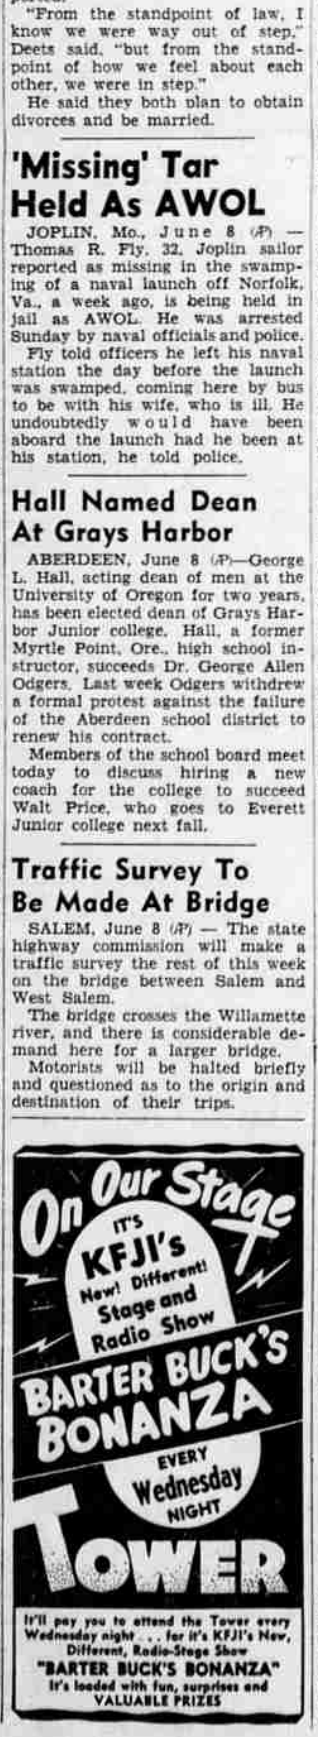
Members of the school board meet today to discuss hiring a new coach for the college to succeed Walt Price, who goes to Everett Junior college next fall.

Traffic Survey To Be Made At Bridge

SALEM, June 8 (AP) — The state highway commission will make a traffic survey the rest of this week on the bridge between Salem and West Salem.

The bridge crosses the Willamette river, and there is considerable demand here for a larger bridge.

Motorists will be halted briefly and questioned as to the origin and destination of their trips.



File For School Directorships

There were two jobs open on local school boards with one director to be named on both boards 1 and 2. Filing for the job as director of board 2, KUHS, are Jack Linman (upper left) and Paul Deller (upper right). Deller's petition is being challenged because he is a member of the KUHS faculty but the petition will remain on file until an opinion is handed down by the attorney general. Below, Sid Elliot seeks the post as director of board 1, elementary schools. He is unopposed thus far. —Kennell-Ellis

Klamathites Attend Rites

Mrs. Hugh Estes, Mrs. Larry Bergmann and Mrs. Dan Liskey have gone to Crestline, Calif., to attend the funeral of Hubert Barnes, father of Mrs. Estes and Mrs. Bergmann and brother-in-law of Mrs. Liskey.

Mr. Barnes died of a heart attack Friday. When he was in Klamath Falls in March on one of his frequent visits he suffered a heart attack then.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday in Riverside, Calif. Mrs. Barnes is the former Emma Anderson, whose father was the first agent for Klamath Indian agency. She will probably return to Klamath Falls with her daughter, Mrs. Estes.

Bay Area Youth Badly Cut Up

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8 (AP)—A 17-year-old high school boy was slashed 43 times with a razor blade last night. Police called it a senseless attack by two other teenagers.

Twelve cuts, on the abdomen, were six inches long. The others, on his face, chest and arms, were superficial.

Gerry McCarthy, the youth slashed, said he did not know his assailants.

He told police they approached him as he was about to enter his parked car and one asked "Do you want a beef?"

McCarthy answered "No."

"Well, you're going to get one whether you want it or not."

One youth grabbed him from the rear while the other slashed him, he said.

Former Jap POW To Be Missionary

SEATTLE, June 8 (AP)—Jacob de Shazer of Salem, Ore., former war prisoner who plans to return to Japan as a missionary, received his diploma from Seattle Pacific college yesterday.

De Shazer, 35, was captured by the Japanese when shot down in Gen. James H. Doolittle's raid on Nagoya in 1942. It was during the 40 months he spent in Japanese prison camps, de Shazer said, that he decided to return as a missionary.

De Shazer and his wife, Florence, 27, will continue college work until end of the summer session, although both received diplomas yesterday. They plan to leave for Japan in the fall as missionaries of the First Free Methodist church.

Langell Valley Men In On Road Work

Ray Brown and Lloyd Gift of Langell valley were in last week-end to call on the county court with respect to road work to be done in the valley as a result of the passage of the three-mill county road levy.

They said they were assured that a complete program will soon be announced by the court, and that improvements on roads in Langell valley will be included in plans.

At the primary election, people of the county approved a 3-mill levy for 3 years.

See English Derby

Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip arrive at Epsom Downs, England, to witness the 169th running of the English Derby. Buckingham palace has announced the princess would accept no public engagements after this month — the royal way of saying that a baby is on the way.

Student Pays School Back--- What A Mess

School was out last Friday and Saturday afternoon and someone—apparently a Roosevelt student—was enthusiastic.

The place was a mess.

Someone, believed to be of the age to wear a boy's size 4 shoe, broke into Roosevelt school Saturday afternoon, smashed the glass in a locker room door, exchanged tennis shoes in the athletic room, mixed condiments et cetera freely in the kitchen, started a paper fire in the kitchen floor (it went out) took hinges off doors and generally rearranged things in almost every room of the building.

Chalked on a blackboard in one room was the decidely superfluous remark:

"Boy, what a mess you have to clean up."

City police and Darrell Potter, Roosevelt principal, are investigating.

Local Residence Burgled Saturday

The George Thorn residence, 1516 Mitchell, was burglarized Saturday night, city police reported, and a variety of electrical appliances and clothing taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorn were absent from home at the time and the door was left open. The prowler got away with an alarm clock, toaster, desk lamp, slack suit, ladies' coat and part of a ladies' suit.

Daylight Saving Time Proves Baffling To Many On 1st Day

Not everything was smooth and simple Monday as Klamath people trooped to work on daylight saving time. At midnight, Sunday, clocks were set ahead one hour in accord with a city council resolution adopting daylight time.

The city council got caught in its own tangle, and instead of meeting at the usual time, 7:30 p. m., will convene tonight at 8:30 daylight time.

Mayor Ed Ostendorf explained that a formal ordinance must be read tonight enabling the council to meet at 7:30 Daylight time, and in order to conform with the city charter, councilmen will have to meet at 7:30 standard time for this week only.

Main difficulty was with the railroads. At Southern Pacific, employes were deep in a confusing time mix-up. Freight and warehouse offices made the change to daylight time with the rest of Klamath Falls, but the ticket, yard, telegraph, car department and roundhouse offices and plants remained on Pacific standard time.

Employes who work in those offices are on daylight time at home, but on standard time when they are at work.

Harvey Teal, SP trainmaster, said today that there is a good chance that all local offices will soon go daylight to simplify the situation for Klamath railroaders.

The split time in offices is necessary because SP's southbound runs are on daylight saving time, but northbound trains still operate on standard.

A similar situation prevails at Great Northern where the main office, station office and roundhouse are on daylight time, but the dispatchers and yard office are on standard. All Great Northern runs are on standard.

The CAA weather station at the airport was having its troubles too. While employes and the local station are on daylight time to conform with the city, all weather equipment is set on standard time and all weather bulletins, broadcasts and other facilities are standard.

Dominican Asks Duel To Soothe Honor

OTTAWA, June 8 (AP)—The consul general of the Dominican Republic wants the Argentine ambassador to Canada to meet him on the field of honor or apologize for what the Dominican insists is a double insult.

Julio Riccart, the Dominican, sent a challenge to Dr. Juan-Carlos Rodriguez, the Argentine, suggesting the duel be held in the Argentine embassy, technically outside Canada, and urging the ambassador to choose his weapons.

The Argentine will send a reply—to Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Dominican Republic.

Here is how it started, according to Riccart: The Argentine embassy recently was visited by the humane society after it was reported two dogs at the embassy had been beaten to death. At an embassy reception, Riccart said he made "some pleasantry" about dogs, not meaning to be nasty. The ambassador's wife "made what I thought was an offensive answer," Riccart said.

Then, the final straw: Riccart said the ambassador had a party celebrating the Argentine revolution, and did not invite the Dominican consul. This, he said "meant a double offense—one to me personally and one to my country."

Kalinas Write From Europe

Gasoline is plentiful in Czechoslovakia according to Mayor A. Kalina who wis Mrs. Kalina and several other Malin residents is spending the summer in Europe. While it is necessary to arrange for gas coupons to travel, more are allowed than are needed, he writes.

Food is plentiful on the farms but those living in town unless they buy black market are finding the going pretty rugged. Crops are good and the countryside looks prosperous.

About 60 visitors from the United States including friends of the Kalina's from Chicago, Portland and Malin gather each Thursday night for a fun-fest.

Labor Office Asks For Farm Workers

PORTLAND, June 8 (AP)—An appeal for out-of-state crop workers to help in the harvest of Oregon's strawberries has been issued by the state farm labor office.

Blaine T. Christian, Oregon farm labor supervisor, said the flood reports apparently have scared away many of those who move north from California annually. He said 25,000 berry pickers are needed for the peak harvest, due in a week.

Country Club Blast Kills 2

LOS ANGELES, June 8 (AP) — At least two persons were killed today when an explosion, apparently touched off during installation of a new gas line, blasted the fashionable Hillcrest Country club.

One ambulance driver said he had picked up two bodies. Police said several others, believed to be cooks and chefs in the club, were in the burning wreckage.

A policeman at 20th Century-Fox studio, across Pico boulevard from the club, said the blast "almost blew the buttons off my uniform."

The main roof was lifted into the air and deposited many feet away in a stand of trees.

The club is a favorite among motion picture actors and producers and its member roles list many of Hollywood's biggest names.

The main clubhouse burned down two years ago in a spectacular fire and since then the club had been quartered in a rambling frame structure. Construction is under way on a new building.

It is located near the boundaries of Los Angeles, Beverly Hills and Culver City.

Home Ec Club—The Shasta View Home Economics club will meet at the home of Mrs. Deola Wran, 3121 LaVerne, Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. There will be a potluck luncheon.

For years all kinds of foods and many beverages have been preserved in cans. Strangely enough the prime necessity of life, water, has only recently been canned with success, despite a long-standing need for such a product.

REV. HAROLD VAN DUKER

Baker Pastor Dies Here

The Rev. Charles Harold Van Duker, 36-year-old pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Baker, Ore., and for 21 years a resident of Klamath Falls, died at Hillside hospital Sunday at 10:45 p. m. of a heart ailment for which he had been treated for several weeks.

The Rev. Van Duker, whose widow is the former Gretta Hurn, member of a prominent Klamath county pioneer family, had been moved here for treatment last May 29.

Born in Curranville, Kas., Mr. Van Duker moved to Klamath Falls from Enterprise with his parents Mr. and Mrs. William Van Duker of this city, in 1927. He was graduated from Klamath Union high school, later attended Southern Oregon college at Ashland and then completed his studies for the church at Westmont Bible college in Los Angeles.

For two years the young minister served the Rogue River Presbyterian church as pastor and later went to Marshfield as assistant pastor of the Baptist church there. He next held the pulpit of the Empire, Ore., church and three years ago accepted a call to the Baker Calvary Baptist church where he was the pastor at the time of his death.

In addition to his widow and his parents, Mr. Van Duker is survived by two young children, Billy and Elizabeth; one sister, Agnes E. Keffer of Fort Klamath, and two brothers, C. J. Van Duker of Burlingame, Calif., and R. W. Van Duker of Klamath Falls.

Final rites will be announced by Whitlock's.

DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP) — Aluminum Goods Manufacturing company directors have declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share and a dividend of 20 cents, both payable July 1 to holders of record June 16. The company paid 20 cents on April 1.

Tule Council Has Routine Meet Monday

TULELAKE, June 8 — Routine procedure occupied the attention of the city council Monday night when City Attorney R. F. McLaren, Klamath Falls, was present.

McLaren will prepare a fire ordinance empowering the city to impose penalties on owners of property who fail to meet city requirements on fire hazards and to remove such hazard.

He was also instructed by the council to prepare a document in preparation for an improvement district bond issue for installation of curbs and gutters on Main street, the proposal to be presented to the voters at a special election later this year.

No estimate on the improvement project has been made recently, since changing prices of materials has outmoded an estimate made many months ago.

All old zoning ordinances are to be thrown out and the new ordinance now being drawn up will cover all sections of the city including the new addition to be annexed in the near future. The new ruling will be in effect by August, it is expected and will limit commercial construction in residential areas as well as regulate the type of homes to be built.

The council agreed to allocate the city's contribution to the summer recreation fund which is slightly more than $600 in three monthly installments during June, July and August.

Don Webster, of the Tulelake Latter Day Saints church, asked that the city pave an alley adjacent to the new church building which is being completed. Sidewalks have been put in around the block of church property. The city council agreed to the paving.
