

Firecracker Causes Fire In Bly Area

BLY—A near cloudburst followed by a pelting hail storm probably saved a string of cabins owned by Lewis Cobb as flames destroyed one of the structures occupied by the Harold Graves family early Wednesday afternoon.

Children playing with firecrackers in the woodshed back of the Graves' cabin are thought to have caused the fire which completely leveled the shed and house. All personal belongings were lost. Graves is a Weyerhaeuser Timber company employe.

A water truck from Gary and Fouts, contractors, employes of the Spangler Lumber company, the city fire department and neighbors joined forces to fight the fire but all received a sound drenching as one of the heaviest rains of the year fell suddenly as the fire reached its peak.

Kiwanis Change

Food Refugees "Too Near Water"

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10 (AP)—Some 1200 refugees from flood-smashed Yamport were quartered temporarily on Swan island Wednesday — and none too happy about it.

Swan island, an ex-shipyard with empty barracks, is safely above the river level. But the refugees don't like all that water around it.

"I'm glad of having a place to live," said Mrs. Claudia Taylor, "but I don't want to see any more water. I want to get away from water. Water makes me almost sick; I don't even like to drink it."

Youth Drowns In Flooded Canal

RICHLAND, Wash., June 10 (AP)—Kenneth Pachen, 10, slipped from an inflated inner tube Wednesday and drowned in the backwater of a flood swollen drainage ditch, police reported.

Hospital attendants applied artificial respiration for two hours in a futile attempt to revive the youngster.

Police said two officers made re-

Teen-Agers Find Jobs Not So Plentiful As In Past

By RON BROWN

Noticed any teen-agers on the streets lately with that haggard but determined look?

No, the juvenile authorities haven't caught up with them (they hope) and it isn't girl trouble—they're looking for summer jobs.

Most of the youngsters dolefully report that it seems to be a question of hit-or-miss. One discouraged job-hunter, cooling his heels at a local teen hangout after a hard day of pavement-pounding, sadly reported that either "someone's been there before you, or you are handed a waiting list to sign, usually with anywhere from 10 to 30 names ahead."

Most graduates seem to be making out somewhat better than their juniors, since the majority of the high school alumni are eighteen years or older. Those fortunate have a wider variety of jobs to apply for, since they are not restricted by the child-labor laws and are legally allowed more jobs, especially in the industrial field.

Another marked difficulty voiced by many teen-agers is the drop in wages and working conditions as compared to the war years, when the scarcity of labor offered a bonanza of summer occupations.

Forestry and fire-prevention work are claiming many of the boys. That line of work is apparently attractive because of the muscle-building and tan-acquiring qualities that wow 'em back home come the fall of the year and school.

Many of the wiser high schoolers lined up jobs before school was dismissed, and are sitting pretty in the eyes of their less-fortunate contemporaries, who disdainfully cross it off to "suction."

They're still trying, however, spurred on by the absence of that jingly stuff in the pocket.

Mixed sliced cucumbers with a finely-cut onion and green pepper; add a dash of sugar, tarragon, vinegar and some sour cream. Serve on salad greens with cold meat or broiled fish.

Dixie Creek Out Of Bounds

BAKER, June 10 (AP)—Dixie creek, a tributary of Burnt river, overflowed Wednesday, cutting the one road into the Rye valley area of Baker county and isolating the community.

County officials reported equipment would be rushed to the flooded area immediately to open the transportation route.

Pickets Back At Wilson Plant

ALBERT LEA, Minn., June 10 (AP)—Picketing was resumed early Wednesday morning at the Wilson & Co. plant here after CIO United Packing House Workers voted last night to renew their strike which ended just five days ago.

Gas In Stomach and Bowels

RELIEVED OR NO COST

Every person who is troubled with excessive gas in stomach and bowels should get a package of BAALMANN'S GAS TABLETS and try them for quick relief of the distress.

Sharp pains in the abdomen are often due entirely to gas pressure. Many sufferers occasionally have a burning pain at the pit of the stomach, called heartburn. Others complain at times of palpitation, labored breathing, sour risings, nausea, bloating, headache or dizziness, any of which may result from gas pressure.

BAALMANN'S GAS TABLETS are made especially for the relief of excess gas and discomfort resulting from gas pressure. They contain no poisons. Sold by leading druggists. Return bottle to manufacturer for refund if not completely satisfied. Caution: Use only as directed.

Before 6 a.m. more than 50 automobiles and about 100 pickets were lined up at the main gate of the plant. Lesser numbers of pickets were stationed about the other two entrances. There was no disorder. Robert Hayes, president of the local, said the strike renewal won a majority vote from 900 members. He added that "our union ended its strike last Saturday, but apparently the company hasn't."
