

Nation's Governors Turn Attention To Highways Will Probably Support ECA

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 22 (AP)—Governors of the nation turned their attention to highways today as they neared the end of their four-day annual conference.

A round-table discussion on highway construction, regulation and safety was the morning's principal business.

Then, this afternoon, the chief executives will hold their only closed-door session of the conference.

At that time they will take up a series of resolutions.

They appeared ready, in one of these, to give indirect approval to the administration's $1,130,000,000 program to arm western Europe against the threat of communism.

At the same time, the 41st annual conference of state executives seemed likely to reject a proposal to cut federal grants-in-aid 20 per cent in exchange for the government's getting out of certain tax fields.

The conference, ending here to-

Basin Development Coordination Asked

SPOKANE, June 22 (AP)—A bureau of reclamation official urged yesterday a coordinated development of all river basins to meet an electrical power demand which he predicted will be doubled by 1960.

When asked if this constituted an endorsement of the proposed Columbia valley administration, however, W. L. Newmeyer, head of the bureau's resources and development division, replied in effect: "I favor coordinated development of each basin as a whole," he said. "I am not recommending how it should be done — just so it is coordinated."

Mayor Thompson Stresses Importance Of Safe Bike Riding In Klamath Falls

"I cannot stress too much the importance of and need for safe bicycle riding in Klamath Falls," said Mayor Robert Thompson today in urging boys and girls to join the Bicycle Safety parade to be held Saturday, June 25. Mayor Thompson stated that with the number of bicycle riders, young and old, steadily increasing, the need for safety is greater than ever.

Cecil Kollenborn, John Sandmeyer and Mac Epley will act as judges in the spectacular bicycle safety parade sponsored by Montgomery Ward and company, and the Klamath Falls safety council.

The judges' duties will be to select the winners of the contest for the best and most originally decorated bicycles, and to award the prizes.

In addition to the prizes donated by Montgomery Ward, Earl Baughman, district manager of the Klamath Falls theatres, is giving free movie passes to the first 25 riders in line for the parade, and Ray Lamb of the Coca-Cola Bottling company is giving free Cokes to all registered entrants.

Registrations are being taken every day by C. Smith, manager of the sporting goods department of Wards. All prizes now are on exhibition in Wards store.

The colorful spiral wheel discs seen on so many bicycles in Klamath Falls lately indicate that the rider of that bicycle will be in the parade. All parade entrants are given these discs and a set of rules for safe riding at the time they register.

Hitchcock To Sub For McKay At OTI Rites

Governor Douglas McKay will be officially represented by Senator Phil Hitchcock at Dedication Day ceremonies this Friday at Oregon Technical Institute.

Hitchcock has been named to give the dedicatory address on the program which begins at 1:30 p. m. on the steps of the Oregon Tech administration building. The invocation will be given by Rev. Martindale Woods, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dedicatory services will be held the same day of the first formal commencement exercises at OTI. Commencement will be at 8 p. m. Friday, in the campus theatre auditorium. Of the 223 graduates so far this year, about 80 will be present to personally receive their certificates.

Buildings to be dedicated include three which are named in memory of Oregon's former governor, secretary of state and senate president, all of whom were influential in establishment of OTI. Earl Snell Memorial hall (administration building); Robert S. Farrell Jr. Memorial hall (medical ward building); and Marshall Cornett Memorial hall, main shop building.

Three others are D. E. Nickerson Memorial hall, Ben T. Osborne Memorial hall and Ray Sinner Memorial hall. Nickerson and Osborne were executive secretaries of the state federation of labor, and Sinner was a member of the state board of education, all vitally interested in vocational education.

The public is cordially invited to the ceremony and commencement exercises as well as to inspect any or all classes on the campus during the day.

Chamber Eyes Forest Act At Meeting

The proposed forest practices act, Senate Bill 1620, came before the Klamath chamber of commerce directors Monday noon and was referred to the industrial development committee for consideration of its possible effects on this community.

An analysis of the bill by the California State chamber of commerce was presented by the chamber here and shows that it would place control of virtually all forest lands in the United States in the hands of the federal government and the department of agriculture.

Senator Clint Anderson of New Mexico, former secretary of agriculture, introduced the bill. The effects of tighter government control on the availability of timber to the operations of this community will be considered by the chamber committee.

Featuring Klamath potatoes in the new Shasta Daylight dinner has been suggested to the Southern Pacific through the chamber. A letter from Harry Fee, district freight and passenger agent, said the matter had been taken up with SP headquarters. The idea was originally suggested by Nick Long of Klamath Falls.

Chamber directors voted to pay May and June commitments of between $600 and $700 immediately to the Midland Empire Traffic association so it could carry on its rate investigations and other work in behalf of shippers and industry in this area.

Accident Case Suit Filed

Elmer Lee (Penny) Payne and James M. Baker Jr. are jointly named defendants in a $15,000 damage suit brought by the father of a grade school youngster struck by an automobile below Merrill March 18.

Payne allegedly was driving the automobile owned by Baker, and the latter was a passenger.

The little boy, Bernie Wolfgram, was struck as he started across the highway after getting out of a school bus. His father, Ben O. Wolfgram, has brought the suit charging Payne with negligent driving. He is represented by Merrill Attorney Wilbur O. Bricker of the Chaburn and Bricker law office.

The suit contends that the boy received permanent injuries and that his health is permanently impaired.

Eagles To Meet In Pendleton

PENDLETON, June 22 (AP)—Some 2000 Oregon Eagles are expected to swarm into Pendleton Thursday for the opening of the state series' fourth annual convention.

Principal out-of-state speaker scheduled is A. A. Scott, Los Angeles juvenile judge, who will represent the grand series. He will outline the Eagles' program on youth guidance as well as discuss child health, aid for the handicapped and a possible extension of social security.

A parade is set for Saturday afternoon with the 1949 Pendleton round-up court joining Eagles units from across the state. The convention will adjourn Saturday night.

Marriage Figure High In June

June, the traditional month of weddings, seems to be living up to its advance billing here.

The first three weeks of the month saw a total of 22 marriage licenses issued at the county clerk's office. Only 12 were issued during the entire month of May, 21 in April, 19 in March, 22 in February and 13 in January.

Indians OK $327,505 Budget Total

A budget totaling $327,505 has been approved by the Klamath Indians for reservation operations and administration in the next fiscal year.

Original estimates submitted to the tribe totaled $433,630, but the Klamaths in general council at the agency this week took healthy whacks at two items.

An item of $10,000 for attorney fee and expense was voted by the tribe by a vote of 48-39. An estimate for health purposes was cut from $140,000 to $51,275.

The budget, as passed, allows $33,297 for law and order, $22,500 for extension and lands, $10,033 for cattle repayment, $75,000 for general administration, $120,000 for forestry and related activities, and $15,000 for social welfare.

The $149,000 estimate for health purposes which was substantially reduced by continued action, was proposed on the basis of financial requirements for operating the hospital at the agency, providing ambulance, automobiles for field doctor and nurse, and other phases of a full-fledged health program. Reduction of the budget to a little more than $50,000 may make it impossible to operate the hospital, it was indicated.

The forestry program of $120,000 includes general forest administration, fire suppression and pre-suppression, operation of an airplane when necessary in fire work, and administration of grazing affairs.

In the past, the government has been deducting 10 per cent from stumpage values for financing forestry administration. This deduction will be eliminated in the coming year, so far as tribal land stumpage is concerned, and the program will be carried out under the $120,000 budget item. There will be an administrative allocation of 10 per cent from stumpage values on allotted lands, but this amount will be credited to the tribe.

The extension and lands item was cut from a proposed $30,000 to $22,500, eliminating a plan to establish a credit agent for administration of the revolving loan fund, and eliminating a provision for a land clerk.

The budget as recommended by the Indians now goes to the Indian department and then to the secretary of the interior. It will be incorporated in the interior department bill, be surveyed by the bureau of the budget, and will then go to congress for enactment.

Revision somewhere along the line is possible, although traditional policy has been to accept the budget as the tribal members recommend.

Fire Damages Potomac Wharves

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Eight firemen were injured or over-come by smoke today in a pre-dawn fire that swept through roof sections of municipal fish wharves along the Potomac river.

Fire Marshal Roy Warfield tentatively set the damage at between $25,000 and $50,000, most of it from water that firemen poured into a row of waterfront restaurants.

Warfield said the blaze apparently was caused by spontaneous ignition. The blaze was fought by a fire boat, 20 engine companies and six truck companies. Two rescue squads and ambulances also responded to the alarms.

PORTLAND, June 22 (AP)—The low bid on a bank protection project on the Willamette river near Independence yesterday came from the McKinnon Construction company of Sandy.

The firm bid $11,131, which was $1689 under the estimate of army engineers. The project is at Catlin location, five miles southeast of Independence.

the fair and workable solution of the problem of race mingling that all fair-minded people hope for.

IN Washington these days, we're watching another attempt to settle by law a problem that in the long run can be settled satisfactorily only by intelligent co-operation and fair-minded recognition of each other's rights. I'm referring, of course, to the labor law. With a reasonable degree of tolerance and understanding on both sides, employers and workers can get along with each other with much mutual profit. Without tolerance and understanding on both sides, no law that we are likely to get will help much.

Concealed Weapon Fine Levied Here

Carl Daniel Shaver, route 1, box 299-A, was jailed by city police early Wednesday morning after he was found sleeping in a car at 7th and Klamath.

Shaver was arrested on a drunk charge, but when a fully-loaded 32 caliber automatic pistol was found in his hip pocket an additional charge of carrying a concealed weapon was placed against him.

He pleaded guilty to both counts in municipal court and was fined a total of $35, with the option of 7 1/2 days in jail.

Chiloquin Swim Program Boosted

CHILOQUIN, June 21—The swimming program for Chiloquin children was expanded today to handle the increased demand for transportation to the OTI pool at Klamath Falls.

Originally, it was planned to handle one bus load of children a week, going to Klamath on Mondays.
