Church To Present Play On Wednesday

The religious play, "If the Light Be Darkness" by Phyllis Benbow Beardsley, will be presented in the Zion Lutheran church, 11th and High, on Wednesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The play is an adaptation to the modern church of the old 17th century morality plays in which the church becomes the setting for the presentation. "If the Light Be Darkness" was presented nine times in this community earlier in the spring. The presentation on Wednesday evening in the Zion Lutheran church will give the community an opportunity to see the play before it goes on summer tour. To date 25 presentations have been arranged for the tour.

The cast of players for Wednesday evening includes: Jack Power as Leon, the choir director; John Hamble as John the Agnostic; Paula Foley as Elaine, the organist; Robert Stevens as Dr. Lewis, the minister; Constance Hunt as soloist, assisted by the Zion Lutheran choir. There is no admission charge. A free will offering will be taken. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Savings Possible In School Aid

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Former President Hoover estimates that $100,000,000—half the amount voted by the senate for annual federal aid to schools—can be saved by helping only the "real backward states."

He suggested: (1) Don't help states that don't need it; (2) Watch out for government "dictatorship" over education; (3) Be wary of the "grave dangers" in federal "grants-in-aid" which cover projects like hospitals, roads and social security.

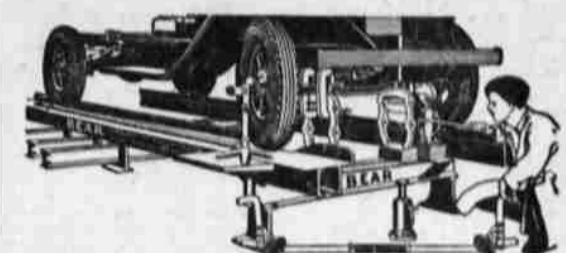

He gave his views in a letter made public by Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.), senior republican on the house education and labor committee.

SWITCH

SEATTLE, June 28 (AP)—Seth B. Thompson, Oregon state insurance commissioner, announced Sunday he would resign his post to become agency vice president of the West Coast Life Insurance company of San Francisco.
