Home Vows

In a wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ustick, Carolyn Ustick became the bride of Robert H. Cline, Saturday, June 25. Carolyn was given in marriage by her father and for the ceremony she wore a light tweed suit with white accessories, with a white gladioli corsage pinned to her shoulder.

Carolyn's maid of honor was Wilma Massey. Boyd Karrer was best man for Robert. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ustick chose a grey crepe afternoon dress. Mrs. Thompson wore a pink gown. The wedding was held only before the two families, however, friends were present at the reception which was held at the home. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Claude Williams, Bob's sister, Mrs. W. L. Carter, Mrs. Edward Boothby, Mrs. Carl Neely handled the guest book.

After the reception the couple left for a trip to Yellowstone park. They will live in Portland.

Meetings Postponed

The Klamath Garden club has postponed its meeting from July 4 to July 11.

The Eastern Star social club has postponed its group meeting until July 8.

Sacred Heart Scene Of Mid-June Rites

A pretty summer wedding was an event at Sacred Heart Catholic church Saturday, June 18, when Mavis Kathleen Patterson became Mrs. Bruce Turner Davis.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen Patterson of this city, and the bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Dorothy Davis of Portland and George P. Davis of Klamath Falls.

Tall tapers, gladioli and delphinium decorated the church, and pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows.

Ellen O'Keefe sang "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria," accompanied by Lovetta McTaggart, who also played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bride walked down the aisle. She was escorted by her uncle, John K. McAndrews.

Rev. Father Timothy P. Casey officiated.

Mavis' gown was of white eyelet embroidery over white taffeta, made with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, with a flange collar.

Her long white gloves and the headpiece which held her short veil were of the same material. Two white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley formed her bouquet. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard Stannard of Palo Alto, California, was matron of honor for her sister. Her gown, of white pique, was of a similar fashion, as were those of the bridesmaids. Her flowers were a red and white colonial arrangement, with a small cluster of matching red and white carnations at the side of her half hat.

Bridesmaids were Ellen O'Keefe, Barbara Wood, Jean Silliman and Peggy McAndrews, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns of red candy-striped pique with flange collars. Half hats and short white mitts completed their costumes. The color theme of red and white was carried out in their colonial bouquets and the flower clusters on their hats.

Mrs. Patterson chose a gown of blue lace with a hat of blue with pink trim for her daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Davis, wore a gold dress and natural straw picture hat. Each wore a corsage of gardenias and roses.

Best man was Robert Burke, long-time friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Tony Molatore Jr., Richard Stannard of Palo Alto, California, William Burness and Dr. Orton Mann.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Pelican party room. Presiding at the punch bowl and serving were Mrs. Faye Silliman, Mrs. W. Gauley, Mrs. John K. McAndrews, Irma Wauchope, Marilyn Brandt, Pat Gauley and Mrs. James Perkins.

For going-away, the new Mrs. Davis wore a balenciaga suit of travel crepe with a single orchid pinned at the shoulder. Her accessories were white.

On their return from a two-week wedding trip which will take them into Nevada and as far south as Los Angeles, California, the newlyweds will be at home at the Hunt apartments in Klamath Falls.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Dorothy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Alexander and daughters, Roxanne and Mabelle; Patty Brown, Jean Silliman, all of Portland; Mrs. W. Gauley and Patricia of Aberdeen, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh A. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Cal Matheson of Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wood of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. Rex Olsen and Mary Glenn Olsen of Madeline, California, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stannard and son, Michael of Palo Alto, California.

Weddings, Holidays Nevada Rites Fill Calendar

What a bevy of lovely brides last month! June has followed in traditional fashion.

A forthcoming wedding of interest to Klamath Falls people is that of James Denison to Nancy Newbury of Medford. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Denison of this city.

The engagement of the two was first announced at Oregon State college where they are in school, but the date of the wedding was announced at a luncheon given in Medford recently.

After the early fall wedding, the couple plans to return to Corvallis where both will enter college again. Miss Newbury is the granddaughter of Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones of this city.

Madelon Adler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Adler, returned a few weeks ago from the University of Oregon. She has been studying piano for several years as a special student of the university.

She entered as a regular student last fall and she has just completed her freshman year. She is spending the summer keeping her piano technique in form and teaching music lessons to members of the younger set here.

Major Jennings D. Lowman and wife recently left for Vancouver, Washington. They have leased their home to Dr. and Mrs. A. Ivan Thompson for a year. The Lowmans plan to travel extensively for some time accompanied by their daughter.

Several of Klamath's prominent musicians are leaving for other points. Mrs. Pat Hunt, who has been teaching piano here for several years, left recently for the University of Washington at Seattle. Losing Pat is quite a loss to this community.

John O'Connor and Mrs. O'Connor will be leaving soon also. John has accepted a position with the music faculty at Oregon State college. He has been with the Klamath Union high school group.

The teachers at Fremont gathered recently to give a farewell party for Edna Russell. Edna was feted at a tea in her honor since she just resigned from the elementary system after teaching here for many years.

Here for her sister's wedding was Mrs. Richard Stannard (Lenore Patterson), who also visited with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Patterson, and friends in Klamath Falls. With her were her husband and small son, Michael. They have returned home to Palo Alto where Dick is a senior student at Stanford.

An interesting note to Klamath people concerns Don Belding, a former resident and son of Molly Belding, Molly, who passed away last year in Long Beach, taught school here for many years at both Fremont and Roosevelt.

Don, who was principal speaker at the Grants Pass graduation, organized a reunion of his class for the occasion, to which almost all of the living members attended. Mr. Belding is affiliated with Foote-Cone and Belding Advertising company in Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. E. Peitz Sr., a long-time friend of Molly Belding, attended the graduation of her grandson, Gerald Egger, and reported the incident.

Teachers off for their summer vacations are taking trips this week. Olive Wilson is on a two-week trip to visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clum, in Eugene. While she is there she plans to attend the wedding of her niece, Jean Wilcox, in Junction City.

May Phinney has gone on a July trip, too. At present she is in Moses Lake, Washington, visiting her sister, Mrs. F. K. Saunders. She will be present at the wedding of her niece also, Margaret Saunders. Margaret has visited here several times.

After the wedding Miss Phinney plans to travel to Missoula, Montana, to see another sister, Mrs. V. C. Whitehead.

Among those leaving for the week-end are Mr. and Mrs. George Hillis. They are going to their cabin at Union creek where they will be joined by Mrs. Hillis' sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gill and their granddaughters, Pamela, of Portland, and Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Moore and Sandra. Sylvia will remain in town to participate in the rodeo festivities.

The H. C. Hemingsens are heading for Diamond lake and the Walter Lassettas are going to Crescent lake for the holidays.

The A-nold Gralapps have been hosts this week to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Gralapp. After a visit here the young couple plans to go to Lake Wabana in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ivory are coming back to Klamath for the Fourth of July holidays. They will spend a few days at their Lake o' the Woods cabin. The Ivories moved earlier this year to Dinuba, California, where Mr. Ivory is in business.

A DOUBLE RING ceremony was the scene of the nuptials of Dorothy Ann Loosley and Erwin Wissenbock at the Malin Presbyterian church. The young bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Loosley. —Ferebee-Kessler.
