Jordan Gains Win No. Nine Over Nuggets

Gems Open Series With Vallejo Team At Park Tonight

The Gems added a little plush to their Far West Baseball league lead last night by defeating the Medford Nuggets 9-7 in a solo series out at Gems stadium while the Pittsburg Diamonds, holding second place, were traveling and did not play.

The lead now is 16 percentage points, but on a won-lost basis just half a game.

Lefthander Niles Jordan gained his ninth win of the season against two losses as he outpitched four Medford twirlers. He had a good deal of luck and some good hitting behind him as the Gems stayed ahead of the Nuggets, but displayed some pure pitching skill to really win the game in the top of the ninth when Medford got two men on base and just one out. Another hit would have tied the score. Jordan fanned Chuck Cheshire and got Danny Reagan to bounce to the infield to end the game.

Previously Reagan had smacked two doubles in two times up, so the situation there in the ninth was pretty tight.

Jim Pendleton worked in the Klamath bullpen the full nine innings, at times pitching as hard out there as Jordan was on the hill.

SEVERAL SWITCHES

Reagan, Medford manager, pulled several mid-game switches in his lineup so that finally he had no less than five players having batted in the No. 5 position. Rookie Bill Francis, lefthander making his first professional start, was the loser as the Gems went in the lead on him in the third frame.

Singles by Pinky Hesse, Gordy Hernandez and Butch Faller and an outfield error counted for two runs in that frame to break a 3-3 tie and put Klamath Falls ahead.

The Gems scored again in the fifth and three times in the seventh—twice in the latter inning on very close cals at the plate in which Medford Catcher Gus Buono and Gems baserunners hit the dirt together as throws came in from the outfield.

Emery Petty, Medford centerfielder, homered with nobody on in the seventh and established what is probably a league record by making nine putouts in the center pasture. The speedy Petty covered not only his own territory but large chunks of right and left fields.

Hernandez and Jack Buick had three hits in five bats each for the Gems, while Milt Lindberg hit three for five for the Nuggets. The Gems continued their wild baserunning as Butch Faller swiped three sacks and Hernandez one.

Elsewhere around the league last night, Willows clubbed Santa Rosa 17-6 and Marysville topped Redding 7-6.

PITCHER INJURED

At Redding Al Lineberger, Brownie pitcher, was struck in the face by a batted ball and was taken to a hospital where his condition was reported serious. Umpire Joe Fleury was also hit in the face by a ball in that game but was able to continue.

Tonight the Gems open a three-game series with the Vallejo Chiefs here at the stadium. Game time is 7:45.

Lust With All-Stars

Jack Lust, Klamath Union high school end, will be the only player from last year's Pelican squad when the Oregon All-Stars tangle with the Portland All-Stars in the Portland Multnomah stadium the night of Saturday, August 27.

The two squads will carry the cream of last year's graduating seniors. The state team will be gunning for a repeat of last year when they larruped the Portland gridders, 32 to 13.

Pilot of the Oregon squad will be Mel Ingram, who coached the Grants Pass high school to the state prep title last year. Lee Ragsdale of Medford and Harry Thompson of Gresham will assist Ingram in the skippering department.

For the second year, Eric Waldorf whose Jefferson eleven copped the Portland crown last year, will skipper the Portland All-Stars. His assistants will be Ted Ogdahl of Grant and Harry Scarff of Central Catholic.

Managing director and serving as game committee head is James J. Richardson of Multnomah stadium.

Among the many awards to be given players participating in the all-star fray is the giant trophy, donated by Morris Rogoway, Portland jeweler, to go to the most valuable player on the field.

The choice will be made by vote of sports writers covering the contest.

Advance ticket sales for the August 27 grid classic are now in full swing at game headquarters, parlor B of the Portland hotel.

Players Cold On 'Dream Game' But Turning Point In Sight

AP NEWSFEATURES

NEW YORK — The all-star game — a contest reluctantly approved by club owners and occasionally shunned by the players—could blossom into an event second only to the world series.

A hit with the fans almost from the start, the "dream game" was considerably slower to capture the imagination of the owners. And the players never have taken the contest really to heart.

The sixteenth game, slated for July 12 at Ebbets field, should be the turning point. For the second straight year most of the proceeds will go to the player's pension fund. The fund is in bad shape. The players are looking for ways to fill the coffers.

They proved last season after Bob Feller was withdrawn from the game by his front office that they are tired of players pleading imaginary back aches to stay out of the game. The boys let Feller know they didn't like his sitting the game out.

In the past, too, the starting pitchers have been worked full games before the all-star contest, and secondary hurlers had to work the game.

All that should be over. Men selected for the game by the fans, who pick all but the pitchers, are going to compete, if physically able.

In addition, the National league is tired of lining up for what has become its annual lumps. The American stars have won six of the last seven games, three of them in a row.

The game that started that spring, the 1941 contest, was one that long will chafe National league memories.

The Nationals had won 4-0 in 1940 and seemed home in their bid for two straight. Leading by a score of 5-4 with two out in the ninth, Pitcher Claude Passeau had only to dispose of Ted Williams. Claude had fanned Ted the inning before.

But Williams instead drove a two and one pitch deep into the right field stands with two mates aboard. The slender slugger danced merrily around the bases and the junior leaguers held a real victory celebration in the Briggs stadium clubhouse.

Only in 1944 have the Nationals been able to win a game since. They captured that game, 7-1, in Pittsburgh. The 1945 game was cancelled because of war-time travel restrictions and the postwar history of the classic has been one of frustration for the senior group.

Blanked 12-0 in the horrible 1946 affair, they lost the 1947 contest 2-1 and dropped last year's game 5-2.

A home run by John Mize with nobody aboard and a two-run clout by Stan Musial accounted for all the scoring in the last three games for the men of Ford Frick.

DiMaggios Stage Hit Feud

Dom Wallops Homer, Triple; Sox Nip NY

By The Associated Press

The youngest of the great DiMaggio clan, Dom, although enjoying his best year in baseball, has been shoved into the background by the electrifying comback of big brother Joe.

Nearly all fans know that Joe has slammed five home runs since his return to active competition a week ago. But few are aware that Dom has made more hits than any other American leaguer and is second only to Detroit's George Kell in batting. And there is no better fielding center fielder in the majors.

Dom cracked a home run for the Boston Red Sox Sunday, but it went practically unnoticed because it so happened that his brother Joe also slammed a round tripper.

It was the other way around last night. It was Joe who faded into the background despite his double, single and two walks in four times at bat for the New York Yankees.

Dom walloped a home run and triple and scored two runs to lead the Red Sox to a 4-2 triumph over the Yankees. This helped the Red Sox snap an eight-game losing streak. In addition, Dom made the fielding play of the game, coming up with a brilliant running one-handed catch of leadoff batter Phil Rizzuto's bid for a triple in the eighth. Since two walks followed, Dom's catch definitely saved the game for Boston.

While Dom was supplying the fireworks, Maurice (Mickey) McDermott, a 20-year-old southpaw, limited the Yankees to four hits to win his third game since joining the Red Sox several weeks ago.

It was Boston's first victory in their last six games with the league leaders, and cut the Yankees' margin over the idle, runner-up Philadelphia Athletics to four games.

The third place Cleveland Indians advanced to within six games of the Yankees, drubbing the Tigers in Detroit, 8-1. Frank Papish, making his second start for Cleveland, gained his first victory with a seven-hitter. Joe Gordon led a 14-hit attack against three bengal hurlers with two singles and his 13th home run.

The St. Louis Browns came up with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9-5. Paul Lehner singled with the bases loaded to drive in two runs, and when Catcher Joe Tipton let the throw home get away from him, then threw wild to third, everybody scored.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals cut Brooklyn's National league lead to one game by winning in 10 innings, 2-1, from Chicago while the Philadelphia Phils whipped the Dodgers, 7-2.

Singles by Red Schoendienst and Marty Marion, and Stan Musial's fielder's choice accounted for the winning run in the 10th. Musial cut down the potential tying run in the last half of the 10th with a fine throw home.

Ken Heintzelman, veteran Philly southpaw, allowed seven hits in racking up his 10th victory and his fourth straight over the Dodgers.

All games were played at night except the Cubs-Cards game. All other teams enjoyed an off day.

HANEY IRKED

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (AP)—Manager Fred Haney of the Hollywood Stars in the Pacific Coast league has had his telephone number changed and made private.

"I didn't mind getting advice up to midnight," he explained, "but I finally got fed up with those 4 a. m. calls from drunks and insomnia sufferers. It got so that all the sheep I was counting wore baseball caps and kept running in and out of telephone booths."

As if Mr. Haney didn't have enough worries with the opening of a six game home stand with seventh place San Francisco on tap tonight (Wednesday).

Five of his players are on the injury list, which might account for the Fourth of July drubbing the league leading Twinks took from Oakland.

The Stars will start Pinky Woods (11-6) tonight against either Al Lien (9-9) or Elmer Singleton (4-10).

Second place Seattle entertains Sacramento for a seven game whirl. The Rainiers will pitch Jack McCall (0-4) against Frankie Dasso (12-5) in the opener.

At Oakland, it's Frank Nelson (7-8) vs. Don Carlsen (6-7) for last place Los Angeles.

The San Diego Padres invade Portland with Lyman Linde (8-8) slated to chuck against Hal Saltzman (10-5).

Depression Hits Famous Tennis Club

AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK, July 6—The West side Tennis club probably has seen the last of professional tennis.

The stadium in swank Forest Hills played to only 7000 cash customers and a gate of approximately $10,000 during the recent week-long pro championships.

This was hardly enough to meet expenses. In 1948 the gross take was $25,000. Jack Kramer won the title and picked up $2500. This year Kramer thought he could do much better in England, and he was right.

Bobby Riggs, who turned back Don Budge in the final, 9-7, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, drew only $468 for his victory, a rather pathetic return in view of the fact that he left engagements in England for the tournament.

Runnerup Budge got only $312 for his efforts in the singles part of the tournament, about $900 less than he received last year as a semi-finalist.

Despite statements from a few optimistic tournament officials, the tennis players themselves feel that it will be many years before the event will return to Forest Hills. They think they should explore other cities.

The West Side club backs the tournament at a reported cost of $8000. Last year the tourney cost the club a $2000 loss. With less than half of the 1948 gross take at the gate this time the future of the tournament here looks anything but bright.

New blood is not the solution, say the experts. Last year when Kramer came into the pro business the tourney figured to reach sellout proportions.

New York is stricly a baseball and racing town when it comes to pro sports. It would rather take its tennis in amateur form like the national championships and the Davis Cup matches. It seems they have put pro tennis in a class with wrestling, horrible as it sounds.

George Kell Tops Dom

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — George Knell, Detroit third baseman who got off the injury list last week-end heads American League batters by 12 percentage points with a .348.

Kell slipped five points but Dom DiMaggio of Boston, his nearest rival, skidded nine to .330.

Unchanged in third spot with .319 was Boston's Ted Williams. He was followed by Detroit's Vic Wertz with .311; Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, .310; Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .309; Gerry Priddy, St. Louis, .306; Eddie Joost, Philadelphia, .304; Hank Majeski, Philadelphia, .302, and Vern Stephens, Boston, .301.

Williams continued as the runs-batted-in leader with 80, but was tied by Stephens in the home-run division, each with 19. Wertz gained the lead in hits with 92. Other specialized leaders were unchanged. Joost had the most runs, 76; Majeski the most doubles, 22; Mitchell the most triples, 11, and Dillinger the most base thefts, nine.

All averages are computed through Monday's Fourth of July games.

New York's Allie Reynolds had the best pitching percentage with 8-1 for .889. His teammate, Vic Raschi, has the most wins with a 13-2 record for .867. Detroit's Virgil (Fire) Trucks continued as the strikeout pacesetter with 92.

Broken Club Keeps Sarge From Golf Play

British Label Putter Illegal; Three Yanks Left

By The Associated Press

SANDWICH, England, July 6 (AP) An ugly looking old golf club with a broken nose kept the United States army from having a representative in the British Open championship play opening today.

The club in question is responsible for Sgt. Charlie Rotaghof, Canton, Ohio, a professional stationed in Frankfurt, Germany, being sidelined as 96 challengers tee off at the Royal St. George's course in the 72-hole medal play tournament.

Charlie brought the club with him from Frankfurt. It was his favorite putter—a handmade, goosenecked type with an aluminum head. Rotar used it when he stroked a respectable 74-76—150 to land among the qualifiers yesterday.

Two hours later he had smashed it against the clubhouse wall. Beside him, his attractive wife was in tears. That was just after the Royal and Ancient Golf club of St. Andrews tournament sponsors informed him he was disqualified for using an illegal club.

FATHERS OBJECT

The British golf fathers objected to the implement because if the shaft were extended down from the gooseneck it would hit the middle of the head instead of the heel.

The Royal and Ancient Golf association banned such clubs after Walter Travis, an American, used one to win the amateur championship over this same course in 1904.

"I've been here eight day," moaned Rotar, "and I've used this putter every day. But nobody ever said anything to me about it. Why did they wait until I had qualified and then give me the boot?"

The Rotar ouster left only three Americans in the chase for the crown vacated by Britisher Henry Cotton.

BULLA LEADS

The leading Yank is big Johnny Bulla, professional from the Westmoreland C. C. in Pittsburgh, who carded 69-72—141 in the two-day qualifying round.

Frank Stranahan, the amateur from Toledo, Ohio, finished five strokes behind Bulla, with 71-75—146. The last American representative is the 57-year-old transplanted Englishman, Willie Hunter, now a pro in Los Angeles, with 73-78—151.

The best score of the qualifiers was posted by Irishman Harry Bradshaw, whose 67-72—139 made him the medalist.

Bobby Locke, the South African favorite, finished only one stroke behind with 69-71—140. A 154 was needed to qualify.

Soft Play In Fourth Week

Kalpine will try to play the role of the giant-killer and the KC nine will be gunning for their first taste of victory when the county softball loop swings into its fourth week of play tonight on the Merrill lighted field.

The Lumbermen mix with the Merrill Billiards in the opener. The Bills have won two games against no defeats, while Kalpine hold a one-out-of-three record. Game time is 7:30 p. m.

In the nightcap tilt, the Knights of Columbus trade hits with the Merrill VFW. The Vets have a 2-3 record thus far this year while KC has dropped two and has failed to dent the win column.

Los Angeles — Leonard Morrow, 181, Oakland, Calif., outpointed Jimmy Bivins, 182½, Cleveland, 10.

Chicago — Lou Joyce, 140, Philadelphia, stopped Gerald Labroi, 134½, Gary, Ind., 4.

Champ Fights Gus; Beats Joe's Record

Ezzard Puts Crown On Block Against Lesnevich Aug. 10

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — Maybe Ezzard Charles can't carry Joe Louis' gloves but he's beating the brown bomber's track record for a first title defense.

The lean young Negro from Cincinnati who won the NBA share of Louis' vacated heavyweight championship at Chicago June 22, has agreed to defend his crown August 10 against Gus Lesnevich, the former world light heavyweight king.

New York's Yankee stadium will be the site of the 15-round bout to be held only 49 days after Charles won the crown by outpointing old Jersey Joe Walcott.

Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York state athletic commission which insists on a "tournament" to determine the heavyweight champion, said he would not recognize it as a title fight. Thus Charles will be making the first defense of his NBA crown in a non-NBA state that doesn't recognize his right to the throne.

You can expect Jake Mintz, Ezzy's voluble manager, to carry a stiff vocal attack to Eagan's ears. Jake says he'll ask for an open hearing from Eagan to prove his "tiger's" right to the title.

There are other complications, too. The British will tab the winner of the Lee Savold - Bruce Woodcock fight September 6 as their world champ.

Also, a protest was raised in Cincinnati where Promoter Sam Becker said Lesnevich had signed for a return bout with Joey Maxim September 19.

The contract, Becker said, specifically prohibits Lesnevich from engaging even in exhibition bouts before the fight with Maxim, who beat Gus May 23 in a scrap billed as for the "American light heavyweight title."

Before Louis came along, heavyweight champs used to wait at least a year before risking their crown. Joe came back after knocking out Jimmy Braddock on June 22, 1937, to whip Tommy Farr, August 30, 1937. Charles beats Louis by 20 days.

Robinson Shoo-In?

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Unless he goes into a sudden tailspin, Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson looks like a shoo-in to win the National league's batting title.

Under no pressure at all from any of his rivals, Robinson enjoys a 24-point lead at the halfway mark, with a batting average of .362.

A week ago, Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's slugging outfielder, gave indication that he might give Robby a battle as he vaulted from fifth to second place with a 24-point gain. However, Kiner slowed up during the past week and fell to third with his .336.

Al (Red) Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals regained second place by two points with a .338 figure. Willard Marshall of the New York Giants made the biggest gain of the week, advancing from 10th to fourth with 12 hits in 21 trips to the plate. He boosted his mark to .330.

Bobby Thompson, a teammate of Marshall, is fifth at .321. Then comes Gil Hodges of Brooklyn, .318; Enos Slaughter of St. Louis, .313, and Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn, .312.

Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh, at .310, and Sid Gordon of New York at .309, round out the Big Ten. Westlake replaced Eddie Kazak, Rookie third baseman of the Cards, who earlier this year was the league's leading batter.

New Duck Plan

Duck stamps, which annually become void after June 30, will give double aid to wildfowl conservation under a plan advanced by Ducks Unlimited.

Duck hunters are asked to donate their old stamps for sale to philatelists. Proceeds will be used for duck production projects on the Canadian breeding grounds.

Just leave the stamps attached to state hunting licenses and mail to Ducks Unlimited, 342 Madison avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Gardella's Damage Suit Hearing Set

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — The court test of baseball's legal structure is now scheduled for November.

Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard announced yesterday he was giving Danny Gardella's $300,000 damage suit against the game's officials a priority fall hearing.

Gardella, the one-time New York Giant outfielder who was banished from organized baseball in 1946 for jumping to the Mexican league, is challenging the sport's reserve clause.

He contends the clause, which binds a player to a club for life or until the club disposes of him, violates the anti-trust laws.

A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, recently lifted the suspensions of the Mexican league jumpers. Gardella chose not to come back. He is playing semi-pro ball in Canada.

Two former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers, Max Lanier and Fred Martin, who have similar $2,500,000 damage suits pending, have returned to their old jobs.

This Gob Likes His Swimming

MANILA, July 6 (AP) — Guess this U. S. sailor is just nuts about swimming.

He walked a little unsteadily into the exclusive Manila hotel Monday and made for the swimming pool. Fully clothed, he climbed to the high board and made a graceful dive to the water 30 feet below.

He popped out of the water, climbed over the railing of the nearby sea wall, dropped to the rocks below, and plunged into Manila bay.

Watchers at the hotel saw him pause at a float, then head on out to sea. A navy boat picked him up. He was brought back to a landing pontoon. He dived off the pontoon before the navy hauled him away to dry.

3 NEW COACHES

Jim Conroy Takes Malin Job

Three of the seven high schools in the Klamath county B circuit will have new head coaches next fall and two of the more successful county athletic leaders are turning to administration.

The new coaches are:

Mervin Whipple, at Bonanza, a graduate and former football player of Pacific U. He replaces Hal McAbee, who will become principal at the elementary school at Keno.

Jim Conroy at Malin. Conroy is a former Chiloquin and KUHS athlete, played varsity football at Oregon State. He will teach agriculture at Malin and become head coach, replacing Jack Minkler, resigned.

James L. Porter at Henley, former Willamette football player who finished at the University of Oregon and was a track man there. Porter is a science teacher and will replace Max Marvin as athletic coach. Marvin will become principal at Malin.

Harold Hendrickson at Merrill will get an assistant in the coaching line, Loren Humpal, who will teach shop and help out in athletics.

The three other county high schools are not scheduled for any changes in the coaching line. Frank DiUlio at Chiloquin, Earl Graham at Bly and Vern Rochek at Gilchrist are all returning to the system.
