Fort Klamath

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wood and children left Friday on a trip to Portland and Washington over the Fourth of July vacation. Accompanying them back to their home in Portland were Wood's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Montgomery, who have been here for a week at their grandson's home. The Woods spent the Fourth at Canas, Wash., at the home of his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wood, who will return here with them for a visit.

Ann Marie is the name which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orem have given their new baby daughter, born June 21 at Klamath Valley hospital in Klamath Falls.

Attending commencement exercises held recently at Stanford University at Palo Alto, Cal. was Mrs. Lucille Nicholson of Ashland and Fort Klamath, who made the trip south with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson of Ellensburg, Wash., whose daughter was among the year's graduates of the southern California university. On the return trip to Ellensburg, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were overnight guests here of Mrs. Nicholson and family at the Nicholson ranch home.

Don Holmes, well-known former Shell Oil company employe of Chiloquin, stopped here briefly last week to call on old friends while en route to Bly, where he is employed by Bob Clark, manager of the Standard Oil depot there, also a former Chiloquin employe of the Shell Oil company.

Mrs. Katherine Nichols of Susanville, Calif., is back in Fort Klamath for the summer, during which she will visit friends in the valley. At present she is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denton at the Denton ranch. On Wednesday, Mrs. Denton and Mrs. Nichols made a trip to Malin, where they visited two old-time friends and former local residents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. "Ben" Loosley. Friends will be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Loosley are planning on leaving soon for Santa Monica, Calif., to make their home with their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hackler made a combined business and pleasure trip to Cottage Grove and Salem over the past week-end.

Joan Loosley and Jackie Thomas were among those attending the 10-day summer school held recently for 4-H club members at Oregon State college at Corvallis.

Leon C. Bishop returned Thursday to his home at Pasco, Wash., after spending a week in Klamath Falls to be near his mother, Mrs. Nettie J. Bishop, who is a patient at Klamath Valley hospital, where she was taken 10 days ago in a serious condition. Her condition is reported as being slightly improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest W. Loosley left Sunday evening for their homes at Susanville and Pittville, Calif., respectively, after being visitors here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley and family. The Susanville visitors arrived here Friday evening, and on Saturday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley, daughter, Joan, and son, Clifford, attended the wedding at Malin of their niece, Dorothy Loosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Loosley, who on Saturday, June 25th became the bride of Irwin Wisenback. On returning to Fort Klamath, the group was accompanied by Claud Loosley, who had come to Malin for the wedding of his niece, the entire group attending the picnic at Union creek on Sunday for residents of Fort Klamath, before parting and presenting before returning to their homes in Fort Klamath, Susanville and Pittville on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hand and Ruby Sassaniet recently attended a church conference in Portland. They were gone for only a few days.

Little Nancy Strahan was two years old a couple of weeks ago, June 14, which was also Father's Day. Helping her to celebrate was another little girl who shares the same age and birthday, Judy Braniff of Klamath Falls, and Judy's brother, Clark, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Braniff.

Remo Minato son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Minato, is home on leave from the navy. He leaves next Friday to return to his base at San Diego but will be discharged from service in August, after which he plans to attend college, possibly in Ashland at Southern Oregon college. Remo was a member of the 1947 Chiloquin high school graduating class, and was president of the student body.

B. M. Potter is spending the Fourth of July holidays in Modesto, Calif. with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Potter, who moved from Chiloquin this spring. The Potters' older son, Donald Lyle, is now home from the Strahan's hospital in Portland and this time with out a cast on his leg. After undergoing several major operations, the little boy may now be assured that any future treatment will be listed as minor operations. Donald is five years old.

Mrs. Ben Murphy of Williamson river returned last week from driving to southern California to get her young grandson, Bruce Engle, who will spend the summer on the Murphy ranch as he did last summer.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met last Tuesday at the Methodist church for a combination work and business meeting with a sack lunch at noon.

The first week of the summer swimming program came to a successful close on Thursday afternoon with youngsters from the community signed up to go to the OTI pool once a week, either Monday or Thursday. Charles Steber, high school instructor, is driving the bus and Mrs. Earl Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Kellison are handling the registrations. The city of Chiloquin is paying the expense of the bus and driver for the benefit of the local children.

Rev. and Mrs. Gene Elliott, who for the past year have been living at the Methodist parsonage in Chiloquin, returned from Canyonville where they have been on vacation, in order to get their household belongings. The Elliotts leave for Seattle next week for Alaska where they will enter the missionary field. The Elliotts were presented with a going away gift by members of the Methodist congregation before they left to return to Canyonville.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Strahan have been Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jacobs, Mrs. Hal Palmer and son, Ronald, all of Redding, Calif.

Guests over the Fourth of July holidays at the Frank Parker home were Vernon Parker of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. John Parker of Hammond, Ore., brother and parents of the host.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale and two young children were in Chiloquin briefly last week to look at the local school, where Hale plans to teach the eighth grade next fall. They will make their home in the school owned property at the back of the grounds, a house in which Hale lived as a boy when his father, Glen Hale, now principal and superintendent, at Eagle Point, was the local grade school principal.

Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Wolf and sons of Medford were guests on Sunday at the Wolf ranch at Williamson river.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Fred and daughters, Candace and Lynda, left on Saturday evening to drive Mrs. Fred's younger sister, Eulene, back to her home in Clatskanie. Eulene has been in Chiloquin for the past month. The Freds returned after the Fourth of July holiday.

Chiloquin

Don B. Rice, M.D., has arrived from Portland this week and opened offices in Klamath Falls in the Boivin building at Sixth and Main, on Tuesday, July 5th, where he specializes in infants' and children's diseases. Rice, a Chiloquin high school, Oregon State college and University of Oregon Medical school graduate, has been a resident physician at Doernbecher hospital in Portland for the past two years. His wife will join him in August.

Mrs. Vernon Norval and son, Bill, returned on Monday from a 10-day trip to San Luis Obispo, Calif., where they visited with two of Mrs. Norval's brothers. On their way north they stopped in San Francisco and Bill attended a San Francisco Seals-Portland Beavers baseball game. The Norvals were fortunate in finding perfect traveling weather, neither too hot nor too cold.

An epidemic of mumps is under way in Chiloquin and nearby vicinity. Fortunately the majority of the cases, especially among the younger children, has been very light. Among those to be hit have been the Frank Mills, Charles Steber, Joe Ball, Clyde Leake, Dwight Souers, and Ernest Smith families.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hand and Ruby Sassaniet recently attended a church conference in Portland. They were gone for only a few days.

Little Nancy Strahan was two years old a couple of weeks ago, June 14, which was also Father's Day. Helping her to celebrate was another little girl who shares the same age and birthday, Judy Braniff of Klamath Falls, and Judy's brother, Clark, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Braniff.

Remo Minato son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Minato, is home on leave from the navy. He leaves next Friday to return to his base at San Diego but will be discharged from service in August, after which he plans to attend college, possibly in Ashland at Southern Oregon college. Remo was a member of the 1947 Chiloquin high school graduating class, and was president of the student body.

Klamath Day Slated At Medford Rodeo

July 16 will be "Klamath Day" at the Rogue River Roundup in Medford, and the Klamath county Sheriff's posse has been invited to participate as guests of the Jackson county mounted Sheriff's posse on that day. Mel Henry, captain of the Klamath Sheriff's posse, said this week that the posse will send about 30 men and horses to drill at the Medford rodeo on the night of July 16. The local posse will also lead the parade on Medford's streets that night just before the arena events. Part of the drill team will also ride to Medford to compete there, and plans are to camp at Lake of the Woods the night before arriving in Medford.
