Young Riders Plan Summer

The Cadet Trail Blazers, a group of young horse lovers, have been quite active during the past few years. The group, which is composed of teen-age girls, are busy now planning their summer activities.

The Blazers all own and maintain their own horses. They were first organized in 1948 and since then the members have appeared in parades and have taken several trips.

When they appear in a display group, the girls all wear jeans, bright green satin shirts and western hats. Last year they won first prize as the best mounted group in the Fourth of July parade and they took the same prize in the Roy Rogers parade on July 2 this year. They also mounted for the Potato festival, the Elks parade and the Queen's try-outs. Summer outings last year included a four day saddle trip to the Lake of the Woods.

Officers this year are Sylvia Hillis, president; Helen Bertram, vice president; Shirley Rogers, secretary-treasurer.

Members are Deniece Kenyon, Frances Stearns, Marilyn Johnson, Marilyn Miller, Beverly Eells, Elnora Raymond, Sue Sessler, Merle Theroux, Alice Geary, Carol Adams and Shirley Mattoon. Their advisor is Mrs. Guy Barton.

Vows Read In Nebraska

At a ceremony read by her father, Rev. G. J. Anderson, Phyllis Jean Anderson became the bride of Frederick David Reinoldson in Omaha, Nebraska on June 25 in the First Covenant church.

Phyllis is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Anderson. Rev. Anderson was formerly pastor of the First Covenant church in this city. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Reinoldson, 310 Lincoln street.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, John Soderstrom of Lake Hamilton, Fla., wore a lace gown featuring seed pearls on the Peter Pan collar and the cap sleeves. A fitted bodice topped the bouffant skirt and train.

The fingertip veil of illusion net was inserted with lace and held by a braided crown. Upon her Bible the bride carried an orchid with ribbon streamers.

Marian V. Anderson, maid of honor for her sister, was gowned in yellow lace and marquisette. She carried lavender flowers. The bridesmaids, Marilyn Swanson and Mrs. J. Warren Nelson, both of Oakland, Neb., wore similar gowns in orchid and green, respectively, soloist accompanied by Mrs. Walter Grant.

Wilbur Anderson, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were J. Warren Nelson of Oakland, Neb., and Vincent Peterson, Donald Holmer and Leroy Eckstrom, all of Omaha.

The Rev. Anderson was assisted by the Rev. William Freeman at the four o'clock ceremony. Rev. Eugene Hagberg of Essex, Ia., was soloist accompanied by Mrs. Walter Grant.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Reinoldson will live in Corvallis where Frederick attends Oregon State college.

Lillian Redkey Recent Bride

Members of the immediate family were present when Lillian Redkey became the bride of Clarence Hill at Saint Paul's Episcopal church on June 19.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Frank Redkey of Quincy, Calif., wore a beige suit with an orchid pinned to her shoulder. A beige Panama hat and beige and brown accessories completed her costume.

Ella Redkey, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Ralph Hill, was best man for his brother. Ella wore a pink suit with a rosebud and gardenia corsage pinned at her shoulder.

The wedding marches were played by Marie Obenchain. Catherine Blanas sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg.

Rev. Frederick Wissenbach officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip to Union Creek.

Mrs. Hill has resigned her position on the Klamath Union high school staff. The two are at home at Mt. Laki.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Redkey, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Dowling and family from Etna, Calif.

ON THE TOP RAIL of the old corral, three young Blazers, Shirley Mattoon, Carol Adams and Deniece Kenyon, relax after a ride. Their mounts, Honey Girl, Flicka and Deuce, wait patiently for the return jaunt.

Juanita Stevenson Recent Bride

TULELAKE—Against massed white gladioli, white stock and larkspur and tall lighted white tapers in candelabra, Juanita Mae Stevenson became the bride on Saturday, June 25, of Merle Dale Goode. Both young people are of well known families of Macdoel and the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, is of a pioneer Siskiyou county family. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Goode.

The single ring ceremony was read at two thirty o'clock in the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church by Rev. Hugh Brotnon in the presence of more than 200 relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride walked on the arm of her father through sprays of white blooms tied with white satin ribbon upon the pews.

Incidental music preceding the ceremony was by Mrs. E. Webb Staunton on the harp. Mrs. Staunton also played the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Donovan Griffin was soloist with Barbara Anderson at the piano.

Juanita wore a white satin bridal gown made with full train. Beading outlined the sheer yoke, the moulded hip line and the long sleeves at the wrist.

Her full length Brazil net veil trimmed with Britain embroidery and edged with Houbon braid, imported from Belgium, was caught with a ruffle across the top of her head.

She carried a lovely arrangement of stephanotis and white satin ribbon centered with an orchid.

For something old, she carried a handkerchief, which belonged to her maternal grandmother. Something borrowed was an antique diamond stick pin, loaned by Mrs. George Frey, long time friend of the family, which was pinned to the satin bandeau holding her veil. She wore a blue satin garter made by a school friend from Carson City, Nevada.

Matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Mary Elton Noakes, wore a frock of orchid marquisette over taffeta, made with drop shoulder and lace trimmed bertha. She wore an antique pendant of oriental pearls centered with a diamond and a bandeau of yellow rose buds in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Beverly Forward and Shirley Jeffcoat of Red Bluff, Iris Goode, Macdoel, sister of the groom and Lorraine Skinner, Albany, Oregon. Frocks of all the bridesmaids were made with tiered skirts, dropped shoulders with ruffled berthas and tiny puffed sleeves. Miss Goode and Miss Jeffcoat were in green, Miss Skinner and Miss Forward in yellow. All wore bandeaus of pink sweet peas in their hair.

Swimming Pool Draws Youngsters

Swimming parties galore have been keeping OTI swimming pool busy and the young visitors tanned and happy. It is certainly a gift to the younger set, and for the older as well, to have a "swimming hole" like this one.

Speaking of OTI and the art school slated for August there, someone mentioned the other day that Klamath practically has a Carmel on its doorstep with the wooded campus and the artist atmosphere.

Visitors here over the Fourth of July holidays were Webb and Goldie Kennet. They stopped for a few days to see their parents, Mr. W. B. Barnes, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kennet. They have returned to their home in Redding, Calif.

Also visiting with the Marion Barnes for the roundup days were Mrs. William Garriott and children, Averil and Billy, of Dunsmuir.

Oh, to have anniversary presents like this every year! On July 7, Ivan Kesterson was celebrating his thirtieth wedding anniversary. That morning he attended the breakfast at the Winema hotel before viewing the Shasta Daylight and he won a trip on the train as a prize.

Now he and Mrs. Kesterson plan to celebrate with a trip either to Portland or San Francisco within the next two weeks. Besides the trip on the new train, the prize entitled him to $25 in incidental spending money.

Back at the University of Oregon for the summer is Johnny Noggle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Noggle. Johnny is doing graduate work there.

Guests at the home of the Andrew Colliers this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker of Whittier, Calif. The Walkers were visiting Mr. Walker's sisters, Mrs. Ernest Heiken, Mrs. Andrew Collier, her brother, Lloyd Porter, and the Walkers' two sons, Stephen and Robert Walker.

Returning to Klamath Falls for a brief visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Wright, was Mrs. Robert H. Thayer. Mrs. Thayer, the former Henrietta Wright, was accompanied by her husband and small daughter, Annette Susan.

The Thayers live in Chicago and they have taken this trip to the West coast to visit here. Another young daughter remained in Chicago. Henrietta graduated from Klamath Union high school in 1930, and Northwestern in 1934.

On their trip here the couple stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brissenden (Margaret Fairclie) in Twin Falls, Idaho. The Brissendens recently received some land there in the homestead drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Banister and son, Mike, have returned to their home on Auburn street after a 3500-mile motor tour.

During their vacation through four states and Canada, Mr. Banister, art supervisor in the city schools, stopped at points of interest to paint and make sketches of the landscape.

On his "artist's holiday" he made 125 sketches and he plans to reproduce many of them in oil later.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bakken and daughter, Audrey, of Bismark, North Dakota, have been visiting with the Clarence Humbles. Mrs. Bakken is Mrs. Humble's sister.

Mrs. Bakken and Audrey have been visiting here for two weeks and Mr. Bakken recently joined them. The family has been spending part of the vacation at Lake of the Woods.

Britta Lion has just returned from a two-week trip to Merced, Calif., and Portland, Britta, who has been attending Stanford, finished her junior year in June. She took her trip while her parents were in New York.

The Warren, Ravizza and Rogers families spent a day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Warren of Algona, over the Fourth for a picnic. Thirty guests were there to enjoy the festivities and the display of fireworks in the evening.

Many parties have been given lately for Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hanke and their daughter and son, Mary Lou and Johnny. The Hanks, who are from Stevens Point, Wis., are visiting here with Mrs. Hanke's sister, Mrs. L. D. Gass.

Dinners, picnics and luncheons have been given for them by friends of Dr. and Mrs. Gass. The Hanks are making their first trip to the West and they are quite impressed with Western hospitality. They also have been visiting with a brother in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Earl of Tacoma, a cousin, arrived yesterday for a short visit with them.

RIDING DOWN A DUSTY TRAIL is all in a day's outing for the Cadet Trail Blazers. Frances Stearns and Beverly Eells are shown on their mounts, Shadow and Beauty.
