Governor Of Texas Dies Aboard Train

HOUSTON, Tex., July 11 (AP) Governor Beauford Jester was found dead today in his Pullman berth on a train at the Southern Pacific depot. He was 56.

First word of the governor's death was received when someone at the station telephoned Homicide Lieutenant W. P. Brown of the Houston police department about 7:35 a. m. (CST).

The lieutenant immediately dispatched three homicide detectives, Lloyd Barrett, L. L. Watts and Frank Murray, to the station to begin an investigation.

However, Brown said that as far as he knows the governor died a natural death. Justice Tom Maes hurried to the station to begin an inquest.

Jester was serving his second term as governor. He took office in 1946.

The lieutenant governor who will take over as governor is Allan Shivers, also serving his second term.

Salem Rent Curb End To Be Asked

SALEM, July 11 (AP)—Foes of rent control will make another try at tonight's city council meeting to get rents decontrolled.

The council vote two weeks ago on the question was 3 to 3, with two councilmen absent.

If the council votes for decontrol tonight, then it would be up to Governor Douglas McKay to decide. Only the governor can determine whether rents control shall end in any area.
