

School Appointments Made Monday; Business For Coming Year Outlined

Three appointments were made at the school board meeting Monday evening. E. S. Robinson was appointed chairman of district one and Nelson Reed was given the job as chairman of the Klamath Union high school district. Harold Ashley will serve another term as clerk and purchasing agent for both districts.

General business plans for the coming fiscal year were made as were appointments to the staffs of both districts. Mary Lou Monroe was chosen to teach music next year in the elementary school system. She is a graduate of Washington State college.

In the high school, Alma Davis was elected to a teaching position in the girls physical education department. Miss Davis is a graduate of Oregon State college and has been teaching in Grants Pass for the past two years.

Bids were submitted for the janitor's apartment at Mills school, and the contract was let to the Brothers Construction company for $8882. One other bid was received at $8187.

Another item of business was the classroom lighting report on Pelican school where re-wiring is being done. Fluorescent lights are also being installed. Plans were made for similar repairs on lighting facilities at Mills and Fairview schools.

Plans for the improvement of the foods laboratory at KUHS were also discussed. No formal action was taken.

Dr. John Francis Cramer gave a report on the staffing of the Community college, the junior college extension program planned for this area. The staff is now tentatively completed, and the names will be submitted at the next meeting of the high school board.

There will be four traveling instructors who will teach night and late afternoon classes in college freshman courses.

A special meeting of the board is planned for consideration of summer work projects this Friday. However, the projects have been incorporated in this year's budget.

BOMBAY

Opposite side of the 30-mile-long island from Santa Cruz.

Monsoon rains beating down on the scene of the crash hampered search parties. The first to reach the area said wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area along a slope 800 feet high.

The plane caught fire and charred trees on the rain drenched hilltop. One eye-witness said the bodies were so badly burned that identification was difficult.

The accident was said to be the worst in India's aviation history. The Indian government began an investigation and granted special authorization to KLM to send an aircraft and Dutch technicians to the scene.

Street Repair Program Well Along Here

Overhauling of the city streets from the winter's damage is going along at a rapid clip with patching of the major ruts and holes already completed. Councilman A. F. Condry, chairman of the street committee, announced today.

Patching of Spring street is due for completion today with work on Market and Walnut next on the docket.

Patching in residential districts will get under way the latter part of the month, Condry estimated.

The patching cost to the city to date is in the neighborhood of $10,000 which represents a sizeable saving because of the fact that this is the first year the city has done the work. In the past, city street patching has been contracted.

Also near completion, Condry said, is the filling of unpaved streets in many residential districts which cost the city about $9000.

This also marks the first time the city has furnished oil and equipment and has done its own oiling work.

City councilmen are eyeing the possibility of using concrete on the high school Wall street hill. Condry said concrete installation will cost only slightly more than asphalt but councilmen feel that concrete is far superior than an asphalt job and would be worth the small difference in cost.

Beer Sale To Minors Case Heard

Charles Lindsay, operator of Tiny tavern at the Merrill-Lakeview Junction, and a harem were on trial in justice court today on a charge of selling beer to a minor.

Specifically they are accused of selling beer to 17-year-old Tom Abner, KUHS football player, the night and early morning of May 13-14. Grace Darling Sharp, who was on duty back of the bar, was pointed out by Abner as the person whom he said sold himself and two other high school boys three glasses of draft beer each.

Abner's father, Thomas Abner, signed the complaint against Lindsay and Miss Sharp. Lindsay is a former employe of the state liquor commission and his attorney, Harry Boivin, pointed out to the six-man jury in his opening statement that Lindsay's investment in his tavern and his business is in stake in the trial.

Boivin is a former member of the state liquor commission.

Abner and the two other youths testified they purchased three glasses of draft beer each between midnight and 1 o'clock the night in question, and were never asked how old they were or for any identification.

Miss Sharp testified the boys were not in the tavern that late at night and that she had run out of draft beer shortly after midnight and was selling only bottle beer.

Lindsay and five young men who testified they were customers at the Tiny tavern the night in question recalled that the supply of draft beer was exhausted.

Miss Sharp testified that Abner had been in the place earlier in the evening and she had refused to serve him.

The trial was expected to end at mid-afternoon.

Jurors hearing the testimony are Warren C. Bennett, Bill Jones, Walter H. Beane, Edwin T. Bell, Ray L. Garrison and Howard H. Pernel.

Mud Puppy Nothing But Trout Dinner

LEWISTOWN, Mont. (AP)—A gun club put a mud puppy—a young salamander—into a small aquarium with the idea that the creature's transformation into a salamander would be an interesting exhibition.

But they reckoned without a Loch Leven trout and a Rainbow trout in the same tank. The mud puppy turned into supper for the trout long before he could change into a salamander.

City Light Plan May Be Expanded

A move was under way today to add 18 lights on Esplanade from Main to Alameda to the citywide lighting project recently okayed in negotiations between the city council and Cupco, Councilman A. F. Condry announced today.

Efforts were being made to reach Sam Ritzhey, Cupco manager, to draw up plans for the additional lights. The ordinance authorizing the contract between the California Oregon Power company is being held up until details can be worked out.

The original area to be lighted took in Main from Second to Esplanade, Klamath from Fourth to Twelfth, and Pine from Fourth to Eleventh. Light 11 in the added stretch on Esplanade was felt necessary because of increased traffic with the recent opening of the new north entrance.

Expanding the district to be lighted will add in the neighborhood of $1800 to the over-all contract, Condry said.

The agreement approved after last week's meeting of the city dads and the city lighting committee called for a cost to the city of approximately $18,634.80 annually covering a 10-year span.

Ritzhey said 86 light units will be installed throughout the area to be lighted.

Condry has been interested in improved lighting of the city's business district for many years.

One of them identifying himself only as Brother Paul, said he heard the plane circling low over the hills, a few minutes before the crash. The engine seemed to be performing perfectly, he said.

Tule Council OK's Paving For Street

TULELAKE, July 12—A city council session last night jam-packed with business kept city fathers busy until the early morning hours today. The session culminated in plans for immediate work on the Main street paving program which is to include surfacing four blocks of Main street, installation of conduit for street lights, and laying of concrete for sidewalks.

Overall estimated cost of the improvement project will be $17,200. Of this amount an approximate $10,000 will be allocated by the state of California and the remainder will be drawn from the city's street budget.

The lighting program which calls for the installation of 18 lights by the California Oregon Power company will be paid for over a 10-year period at the rate of $10 per light per month. This sum to cover cost of installation and operation maintenance. At the end of the 10 years the city can purchase the system and maintain it at city expense or it can be retained by the power company.

Concrete forms for curbs and gutters will be started this week and actual pouring of concrete will get under way next week. It is planned to have this phase of the program completed in a month.

Siskiyou county road equipment will then be moved in for work on the surfacing. Operations will start at the east west road and progress the four blocks to the Southern Pacific railroad tracks.

Conferring during the session on the street work were Bob Haselwood, city engineer, John Burke Jr., Tulelake engineer, who will be in charge of the curb and gutter work, and R. F. McLaren, Klamath Falls, city attorney for Tulelake. Sitting in on the confab also was Siskiyou County Engineer Walther, here in the interest of improvement work on four miles of unfinished state line road.

The council drew up the budget for the coming fiscal year which will be read and approved next Monday night in regular session. Announcement of the total will be made following approval.

Development of methane gas which flows from the city's deep well came up again and Lefroy Coyner, councilman, was given the go sign by the council to try a development program at his own expense. If eventually successful, Coyner would be given a franchise for commercial use by the city.

It is reported that representatives of two oil companies are also to investigate the possibility of use of the gas on a commercial scale.

Official approval by the CAA for work on the city airport is expected in two weeks, word having been given the council the specifications are now in the regional office at Los Angeles. The city seeks approval for development of the air strip now in use at Newell. A grant is to be offered by the CAA which if accepted by the city will pave the way for a cash allocation for development.

Bids will be opened August 2 on six $1000 general obligation bonds to be retired over a six-year period. The bonds were approved for installation of a new pump in the deep well at a general election several weeks ago.

All the council except Lefroy Coyner were present.

Boy Suffers Bad Fall From Bike

The services of the city fire department were needed to extricate 4-year-old Willbur Ray Keen from his bicycle Monday afternoon.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keen of 221 Link, fell from his bicycle in the shipping area and apparently jammed his leg into the wheel of the bike. City firemen were called to the scene to free the child's leg from the spokes.

His mother took Willbur to Klamath Valley hospital where six stitches were taken to close the cut in his leg. He was released following treatment.
