

City Dads Favor Starting Rezoning Study In Klamath Expected To Take Till '50

The citywide rezoning study, long in the discussion stage, became a certainty last night when the city councilmen decided unanimously to follow Planning Commission Chairman Bert Igl's proposal to "get away from one-street thinking."

The city will chip in $1000 from the emergency fund to aid in the job that Igl said would take "the best part of a year" and would call for a wealth of help from citizens.

Rezoning study — and eventually revamping the zoning ordinance which is now full to be outmoded — is considered important because of long-range proposals for city street changes.

The plan is to launch a "block by block" survey with an eye toward rezoning throughout the city so that future commercial advancement would not be blocked by inadequate zoning stipulations.

Igl said that the city's architects have agreed to help in the program "without pay" and the League of Oregon Cities will also aid in the survey.

It is necessary now to get a wider view than the Main street view," Igl said.

In reply to Igl's question regarding the recent proposal for north-side replanning, councilmen answered that the city "just didn't have the money."

The rezoning job was considered necessary also to take care of future street set-backs to meet the long-range plan of new arterial highways. The present zoning ordinance also does not adequately take care of fire zoning, it was brought out.

Councilman A. F. Conroy felt that rezoning is necessary to protect home-owners in residential sections that are being rapidly expanded.

Igl anticipates some objections from citizens but said he was sure that, with sufficient study and planning, all the details of rezoning could be worked out.

City councilmen agreed to contact the local area rent office to work out plans for the calling of a mass landlord-tenant meeting to ascertain the advisability of lifting rent ceilings in this area.

It was disclosed, however, that the final say-so on de-controlling is up to the governor.

The city dads agreed to contact the state highway commission in requesting it to disclose what lets it wants kept off-sale in the event the westside by-pass is given priority for highway construction in Klamath Falls.

Closure proceedings of part of Det More street and the alley between LeRoy and Painter were authorized during last night's council session in preparation for the establishment of the new north entrance park.

City councilmen concurred with Alfred Collier's request to keep lots in recreation park off-sale until the council can meet with the park and recreation committee to decide whether recreation park will be abandoned.

One bid was opened for seal-coating of roads in Klamath Memorial park. It was turned over to City Engineer E. A. Thomas and the cemetery committee for study.

The police judge was asked to advertise for bids for the purchase of a new pencil car for the police department.

Martin Bredel complained of the trucks "advertising their power" on Klamath avenue. The matter was referred to the police committee and police chief for study.

The way was paved for lighting of the city's business district when the ordinance was given first and second reading.

Seaman Gives Away $200 In Handouts

SEATTLE, July 19 (AP)—An unidentified seaman, who once was helped of Seattle's skidroad, returned here late yesterday and gave away more than $200 in small change to eager men and women of all ages.

A crowd gathered when he appeared on a street corner and began passing out money, mostly in quarters. Two policemen soon appeared and had them pass in file to receive their unexpected donations.

Patrolman J. A. Bergin estimated that more than 500 persons got a handout. He said the benefactor refused to give his name and told him the deed was in return for aid he had received when he was down and out.

After giving away the money, the seaman, about 38 years of age, jumped into an automobile and drove away.

County Salary Ruling Made

SALM, July 19 (AP)—County courts can't eliminate any employee whose salaries are fixed by law, Attorney General Neuner ruled today.

The opinion was for Gilliam County District Attorney William Bennett, who asked if Gilliam county could eliminate appropriations for the county health nurse and the county veterinarian.

Neuner said it was all right to eliminate the nurse's salary, because it isn't required by law. But the veterinarian's salary has to be restored because the law requires it.

Planes Offered For Polio Work

PORTLAND, July 19 (AP)—Transport of the 40th air force reserve troop carrier wing here have been made available for flying equipment of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation to stricken areas.

Lt. Col. J. W. Lewis, base commander, said the fast cargo planes can handle up to 10,000 pounds load. The base has 16 of the Curtiss Commando C-46 planes.

The "iron lungs" and other polio foundation gear can thus be relayed to emergency areas with a minimum of lost time, said Felix A. Montes, Oregon aide of the foundation.

Montes noted the mounting incidence of polio through Oregon, 45 cases compared with 23 at the same time last year. He said rapid transportation of equipment from the Portland pool could be a vital factor in disease control.

Physiologists say that the conscious experience of appetite is quite different from that of hunger.

"Vampire" Slayer To Get Gallows

LEWES, Eng., July 19 (AP)—John George Haigh, self-confessed vampire slayer of nine, was condemned tonight to death on the gallows.

A jury of 11 men and a woman deliberated only 15 minutes before convicting the handsome, 39-year-old businessman of killing wealthy Mrs. Olive Durand-Deacon last February 18, drinking a glass of her blood and destroying her body in a barrel of acid.

Haigh had pleaded for "a special verdict in the form of guilty of the acts charged but insane at the time they were committed."

Called as a defense witness, Dr. Henry Yellowlees, noted London and Glasgow psychiatrist, testified that Haigh was suffering from paranoid insanity.

This was the second day of the trial. In two statements read in court yesterday Haigh was quoted as telling police he had killed eight others besides Mrs. Durand-Deacon in the past five years, had drunk a glass of the blood of each and then destroyed their bodies in cauldrons of acid.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Flat Feet Hurt Legs Most

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
 Written for NEA Service

One of the common causes for pains in the legs is foot trouble, particularly flat feet. When the arches have collapsed and are flat new strains appear. These strains are sometimes felt in the feet, but sometimes also they act on the muscles or joints of the legs and cause pain in these areas more than in the feet themselves.

Pain of such origin should, of course, be treated by correcting the foot trouble. This usually involves more than just wearing a pad or support. Physicians or chiropodists are often called to correct the difficulty so that the pains in the legs will disappear.

Another type of pain in the legs is one which comes on in the calf muscles after walking a few blocks rapidly or climbing stairs. This condition goes under the name of intermittent claudication. It is caused by insufficient supply of blood to the muscles usually because of hardening of the arteries in the legs.

Avoid Too Much Exercise During the heat the circulation is adequate but exercise increases the need for blood. This condition always requires the advice of a doctor as it may be a sign of hardening of the arteries. A person with this kind of pain should avoid taking so much exercise that it brings on the pain.

Quite a lot of people complain of pains in the legs which occur at night only and which may even wake them up from a sound sleep. This is a puzzling condition but it is probably connected somehow with the circulation of the blood in the legs.

People with this symptom often say that if they get up and walk around for a short time the pain or cramp will disappear.

Neuritis or sciatica can also cause leg pains. Other diseases of the circulation, such as Buerger's disease, are possibilities.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Doctor Answers QUESTION: What causes dryness around the ears? Is it lack of some vitamin?
ANSWER: This condition is unlikely to be caused by a vitamin lack and something else is much more probable, such as an irritant with which the skin comes in contact.

Sea Scouts Plan Hunt

Plans for the Upper Klamath lake treasure hunt scheduled by Klamath Sea Scouts for late August are proceeding with the Scout ship at Bend already signed on.

According to Skipper Marion Risley of Scout Ship 100, it is reasonably safe to assume that Scout ships from Salem and Eugene will also STOPS LAXATIVES—FEELS BETTER!

"Have been eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN 3 years and it's wonderful! Now I don't ever need a laxative, feel so much better. I've told plenty of other too!" Mrs. Jerry Russell, Route 8, Marysville, Tenn. Many other grateful ALL-BRAN users write the same.

You may be helped, too, if constipated due to lack of bulk in the diet; start eating an ounce of crisp, toasty ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send empty box to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

be present, and letters are out to other ships throughout Southern Oregon and Northern California inviting them to attend.

The local unit held a hunt two weeks ago, but due to various difficulties the treasure was never picked up.

However, Skipper Risley contends, those kinks that held up the last hunt will be ironed out and the course should prove a little smoother for the seagoing Scouts on the next venture.
