

Highbrow Producer Raps Blondell

PRINCETON, N. J., July 20 (AP)—The producer of the high-brow Princeton drama festival says he has asked Actors Equity to suspend Joan Blondell as a result of a "violent backstage brawl" growing out of the actress' alleged use of "vile and abusive" language.

But Joan says all she did was throw some face tissue at the producer, Harold J. Kennedy.

Miss Blondell's husband, Broadway Producer Mike Todd, also got into the act. Kennedy charged, and was ejected by Princeton police from McCarter theatre here after an altercation.

Kennedy said the whole thing happened last Wednesday, but he kept quiet about it until Miss Blondell's show, "Happy Birthday," closed over the week-end. Now he says he wants Actors Equity to suspend the Hollywood star.

Kennedy described events leading up to the free-for-all this way in a statement issued last night through his attorney, Hugh D. Wise:

"Miss Blondell was vicious and so constant in her use of profanity and so brutally insulting to the rest of the cast that she was jeopardizing our production."

This Driver Had A Busy, Busy Time

CINCINNATI, July 20 (AP)—Nathan Judge, 44, had a lot of things to explain in court Tuesday.

For almost four hours yesterday police were busy answering telephone accident calls and in each instance the license number or other identification was the same—it was Mr. Judge, police said.

At 3:50 p. m. the automobile of Raymond Stephenson was hit but the offender didn't stop. At 4:13 there was another accident report and it was Judge's license number that was involved. At 5:30 Edward Strohmeier's car was hit and Judge's license number was the one reported. There was another accident at 7:25 but Judge had gotten away by the time police arrived. At 7:28 Judge's car was reported as having hit one belonging to George Ruff. Police finally caught up with the elusive driver at 7:35.

The list of charges against Judge read like this: Reckless driving, two instances of leaving the scene of an accident, driving while under the influence of liquor and failure to have a driver's license.

Employment Figure Down

Klamath county employment is showing generally a gradual downward trend, but not alarmingly so, Jack Almeter, manager of the Oregon state employment service, said today.

The most pressing problem seems to be women box factory workers where shutdown of Big Lakes, Ewsuna and Pelican Bay has thrown many out of work.

The agriculture picture is as yet indefinite, with employment hinging on the extent of the recent frost damage.

There is a small pickup in construction circles, Almeter said, but not as much as the net two years.

The uncertainty in the lumber industry with timber prices varying, seems to be the main factor for the temporary shaky employment condition.

In the neighborhood of 1300 persons are unemployed in Klamath county at the present time, Almeter said.

Not Good Enough For Skunks

SMITH FALLS, Ont., July 20 (AP)—Two out of three is not a good batting average as far as skunks are concerned.

William Fowle, riding in a car which came on three skunks, leaped to the attack. He got one by stomping on it and another by nailing it behind the ear with a bottle.

The third fought back as only a skunk can. Fowle came home sitting out on the front fender of the car.

Fell By Wayside

He closed his letter with—Greetings by one fallen by the wayside. This man is more than good to his employed people and in street meet' us he used to tell his joy at being saved. And now he says he is fallen by the wayside. Let the Apostle John speak to this man. In his youth John went about with Jesus and later he spent many years as pastor and leader. In his 90's John wrote his Gospel and the three pastoral letters. And speaking to such as this man who says he has fallen by the wayside, John affirms that the saved do sin and if they deny it they lie. But, adds John—If we confess our sins, God forgives us and cleanses us wholly. See 1st John 1: 8-9.

SUM IT UP—You don't throw the baby out the window when he is naughty; nor does God cast away His saved ones when they sin. Instead, God waits for them to lay their sins before Him. Tell Him all and accept His complete forgiveness.

And why do we busy American Christians so lack in victorious Christian power? And why do we live such listless Christian lives and run with the world and fall by the wayside? Is it not our neglect of Bible reading and prayer?

Alaska Supply Ships Sail

SEATTLE, July 20 (AP)—The army navy five-ship Point Barrow resupply expedition sailed Tuesday for Alaskan waters.

The ice breaker Burton Island and four landing ships, tank (LST) made up the first group. They will rendezvous August 3 off Point Lay with the six other ships of the expedition. These will sail next Tuesday.

Some 45,000 tons of cargo, mostly petroleum products, are being taken north by the expedition. Army troops aboard the LSTs will unload supplies in amphibious assault boats at Barrier Island, 280 miles east of Point Barrow on the Arctic coast.

Most of the cargo goes to the navy's exploratory oil project on the far northern coast. Supplies also are being carried for the coast and geodetic survey, the air force, civil aeronautics administration and the weather bureau.

Governor Asks Conservation

CORVALLIS, July 20 (AP)—Oregon can expand industrially and still preserve its cherished recreational resources, Governor Douglas McKay said here Tuesday at the opening of the Institute of Northwest Resources.

He told the 60 delegates attending the institute that the important thing is to get the people to understand their resources and conservation—not to lock them up, but to put them to wise use.

McKay said he would have the heads of Oregon state departments meet at least quarterly in conferences on Oregon's resources so that a unified program may be followed. Dr. W. L. Powers, soil scientist in charge at the Oregon State college experiment station, reviewed soil resources of the region.

The institute, which will continue two weeks, may be made an annual event if support and attendance justifies it, Dr. J. Granville Jensen, institute co-ordinator, said.

Writer Hit By Japanese Reds

TOKYO, July 20 (AP)—Lindsay Parrott, New York Times correspondent, said Tuesday Japanese communists had accused him of "malicious slander and abuse" in an article hinting the reds were behind labor violence in Japan.

Parrott said Shoji Nomoto, of the secretariat bureau of Japan's communist party central committee, handed him a statement from the secretariat demanding that he withdraw portions of the article in the Times of July 10.

Parrott said he was not intimidated by Nomoto nor threatened. The article stated there was "a strong suspicion" the reds were implicated in recent Japanese labor unrest.

Maj. Daniel Imboden, head of the allied press unit, said he would have those responsible arrested for attempted intimidation if Parrott would supply their names.
