CARNIVAL

By Dick Turner

"I'm simply the victim of public carelessness—putting currency in their correspondence!"

There now are more wolves in northern Minnesota than in any other district of the United States. The United States makes and uses an average of 26 billion tin cans a year.

Rex Beach Said Much Improved

MIAMI, Fla., July 28 (AP)—Rex Beach, noted novelist who was hospitalized Sunday with a throat ailment, was reported "very much improved" today.

Beach, who will be 72 September 1, is still seriously ill but physicians at Doctors' hospital in suburban Coral Gables said he was better last night and even "walking around a little bit."

The author had been coming here periodically from his home in Sebring for treatment of the throat ailment. He was flown here Sunday in serious condition.

A native of Atwood, Mich., Beach attended Rollins college and has lived in Florida for more than 40 years.

He went to Alaska during the Klondike gold rush and his experiences there led to "The Spoilers." Among his other best-known novels are "The Iron Trial," "The Auction Block," "Rainbow's End" and "Winds of Chance."

BANQUET

Other state officials and a number of out-of-state guests will join association directors and others at the banquet.
