

Playtime Activities

When July turns to August, vacationers from school are just beginning to settle down to their summer routine—whether it is "just loafing" or "working for Dad" or one of the hard-to-find summer jobs.

Looking about at the "college kids" this summer, one finds a composite of summer vacations.

Shirley Dalton and Jeanne Hilton have just returned from a trip to the east coast where they were attending the Alpha Omicron Pi convention. Both girls are juniors at the University of Oregon.

Over for the week-end from Medford were Dean Earhart and Bill Jones. Dean is attending the University of Oregon, and Bill will be a sophomore at Southern Oregon college. Last year Bill was president of his freshman class for two terms at SOC.

Other students from SOC home for the summer are George Bell, Mark Matten, Jack Anker, Andy Moore and Arnie Ellis.

Between fretting and cajoling the mailman about the grades (which never seemed to come) from the University of Oregon, the students are finding time to work. Busy this summer are Kelly Farris, a junior in law, Katherine Newman, Jim Boyd, Jim Crismon, Dick Pope, Rex Young and Don Biggers.

Jim Crismon, after all of his yell leading experience in high school, is planning some more antics since he was elected last spring as cheer leader for the university.

From the University of Portland for the summer is Dean Abbott. Bill Colbert is also going to the University of Portland where he is vice president of the student body. He was here recently from Medford where he and his parents now live.

Another boy in Portland for his schooling, and here for the summer, is Ben Lemire. Ben is going to dental college, which is affiliated with the University of Oregon.

Of course, there are always a few for whom school does not end with the beginning of summer. Among those attending summer sessions are Ruth Merrill and Dick Vaillancour, who are attending OSC. Glen Lorenz at Oregon, and Marilyn O'Neill, Mills college, who is taking summer work at Colorado college. Jim Bocchi and Maurice O'Callaghan also remained at

(Continued on page six)

Oregon Attracts Guests

Summer time seems the time for visitors from all over the western and eastern states to find that Oregon is the garden spot to visit. Many Klamath people have been playing host and hostesses to visitors. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Noggle who have Mrs. Noggle's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Mosier of Lewiston, Ida., visiting here.

The Mosiers are also visiting another daughter and her family who have recently moved to Klamath Falls. Mrs. Rollen Wilkin and children, Ann and Joe, came to this city recently to join Mr. Wilkin and to make their home here.

Mr. Wilkin is production manager for Fluhrer's bakery here. Ann will return to the University of Oregon next fall and Joe will be in high school here.

The wedding of Beverly Zamsky is planned for this coming month on August 27. Bev will marry Richard K. Smart of Glendale, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Smart of that city. Bev is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cisek of this city.

Both plan to return to the University of Oregon next fall where Dick will begin his fifth year in architecture and Bev will be a senior in art. Last year Dick was president of his fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, and Bev was social chairman of Alpha Phi.

The rites will be read at 8 p. m. at the Episcopal church in this city.

Three weeks spent in Yellowstone park and the Canadian Rockies have just ended for Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Nerseth, and Marvin and Gail. The Nerseths particularly enjoyed visits to Banff and Lake Louise while they were on their motor trip. They also visited relatives in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Biggers and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Loney are leaving Monday for a week's vacation at Dorchester house near Ocean Lake on the Oregon coast.

Dorchester house is a nineteenth century styled country inn which has some of the glamor reminiscent of that picturesque era. It should be a lovely vacation.

Mrs. Charlotte Martin has been having guests also. Her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faus, are here from Cheyenne, Wyo. This is the first visit that Mrs. Martin and her brother have had for 13 years.

Society

By Joan Foulon

A TYPICAL VACATION pastime supplies part Mary O'Brien's summer job, above left. Mary, who is a junior in education at Oregon State college, has worked for several summers driving the book van for the Klamath County library. For her summer vacation she takes the van to various spots in the basin area so that residents may have reading material without a trek to the city.

NOTHING LIKE a threesome for bridge on a hot afternoon. Mary Ann Mills, Jody Bennet and Dorothy Collier, above right, relax during their noon hour at the Bennet home on Crescent avenue. Jody, who attends Vassar, and Dorothy, University of Oregon, have been helping their fathers this summer, and Mary Ann, Stanford, has just recently returned from a trip to Canada. All three girls will be juniors next year.

BOATING ON THE LAKE has attracted many fans this summer and Donna McVey and Pat McMillan, center, have discovered it, too. Both girls have spent most of the heat-filled days at the McVeys' Lakeshore drive home or out on Upper Klamath lake. Pat and Donna, who will both be sophomores at Oregon State college, were roommates this past year at school.

TENNIS TIME for Dolores Steele this summer, who is shown at the left. Dolores, a sophomore in liberal arts at the University of Oregon, is entered in the women's division of the city tennis tournament. She has been spending most of her time with racket in hand serving aces.

PLAYING ON ANOTHER NOTE occupies the days of Madelon Adler, who is a sophomore at the University of Oregon. Madelon, right, is majoring in music at the university and she is teaching the ways of the keyboard to her pupils here this summer.

—All pictures by Guderian.