

Cotton Bag Fashions Seen

From kitchen drudge to fashion queen was the interpretation of cotton bag styles, presented in the fashion show, "Cinderella Slacks," at the meeting of the Midland Community club Thursday, July 21, at the home of Mrs. John Myster.

Twenty dresses were modeled and every dress was made from cotton feed and flour bags.

Local models who participated in the show wore daytime dresses, sportswear, evening, a little and children's clothes. Models as they appeared were Mary Andrieu and Jackie Myster in a brother and sister ensemble of polka dot print and blue-dyed cotton bags; Shirley Milligan in an orchid and grey and grey and tan dress and bolero; Joan Taylor in a red and white print casual; Nancy McPherson in a green and white junior dress.

Georgia Fiedler and Diana Casner modeled a "sister act" in companion jumpers of blue bordered cotton bags. A geometric print suit was shown by Nancy McPherson. A navy coat and navy and red print dress was modeled by Mrs. George Andrieu.

Mrs. John Myster modeled a green medallion junior dress of cotton bags. Shirley Milligan appeared in a white swim suit and striped beach coat, and Charles Grey and Thelma Houck showed a mix match ensemble of blue, clay and white striped skirt with a blue jacket and striped bolero with a blue skirt.

Marilyn McPherson modeled a two piece suit dress of calico cotton bags and Nancy McPherson wore an Empire styled junior frock of yellow and blue roses, and she appeared again in a striped afternoon frock of grey and tomato.

The show closed with Marilyn modeling a formal made from green cotton bags and Connie Matthews in a bouffant formal of yellow cotton bag fabric with decollete neckline and graceful matching stole.

This show was also shown at the Midland Grange July 20.

By Louise Reinhart

Klamath Falls, July 30 — All of us at Reinhart's, 519 Main, are glad to give you the latest addition to our china department. We have just received a long and eagerly awaited shipment of essential china made in the heart of Europe's great ceramic industry where delicate Dresden and fine Bavarian porcelains are fabricated. It is the world's oldest and finest china, with a long list of "command performances" from royalty among its exclusive patterns. In our window right now we are showing eight lovely patterns including plain formal designs, delicate florals, old fashioned bouquets, modern conventionalized decor, and lavish ornate richly colored patterns. The shapes of the cups vary and are strikingly beautiful, including the Chippendale, the Victoria, and the Sans Souci. The plates are either perfectly round or gently scalloped, and some are delicately embossed. Any of these patterns may be purchased by the piece or by the entire set.

In our upstairs display room, (just five steps up) we have a dinner table set complete with harmonizing china, crystal, and silver. You will enjoy seeing how lovely this is, and we cordially invite you to shop our windows and to see this table when you are in town. The prices on Rosenthal china start at $9.90 a place setting. Surprised? We surely were, so if you are thinking about getting a set, be sure to see Rosenthal, and remember: S & H Green Stamps on all purchases at Reinhart's.

P. S.—Tomorrow I will be boarding the streamliner for San Francisco to attend the annual Gift and Art show, and do some holiday buying. I'll write to you from there for next Saturday's column.
