HERE FOR THE SUMMER to enjoy a vacation at the Lake o' the Woods are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Scott. The Scotts, who are spending the summer at their cabin, had as their guests last week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Murel Long of this city. Mr. Scott spent the last year at the University of Oregon where he took graduate work in physical education. He was basketball coach here several years ago. Seated from left to right are Mr. Scott and "Tuffy," Mrs. Scott, Lynn Long, Mrs. Long and Mr. Long.

Lake Setting Of Frolic - Work

One of the lovely spots in Klamath county is the 37-mile-away retreat at the Lake o' the Woods. On holidays the lake is swamped with vacationers off for a brief outing, but on almost any day at the lake, one will find the "lake dweller" at his cabin.

Someone said the other day the "novelty" of the lake is that the same people who are neighbors in town seem to also live next door at the lake—have to admit it seems to be true.

Life by the water side there is not all relaxation—as can be seen when one views the cabins and landscaping that has been done there. In some cases part of the hillside has been removed to form automobile turn-arounds, and horseshoe pits have been built. Several cabin owners have built rock docks, fireplaces and stone steps.

Probably the favorite outdoor sport—aside from the lazy life of sunbathing—is water skiing. Boating and fishing attract many followers too, and games from target practicing—with a BB gun, of course—to quiet games of rummy and bridge are always in play.

Although social life in town seems to dwindle during vacation months and one hears frequently that "they are at the lake," parties are always going there.

The E. P. Ivory cabin at the lake is always bustling with young guests. Recently Mrs. Ivory, who is there for a summer vacation, was hostess to 18 week-end guests.

Visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arupach of Bend, formerly of Bly, Dick Angel and David Elson of Medford, Clark Blunt, Portland, Ray Scott, Corvallis, E. P. Ivory, Dinuba, Calif., Lou Ann Chase, Dick Yates, Milton Thompson, Mary Lou Case, Lloyd, Hugh and Hiram Seligman, Dinuba, Ray

Taylor, Peter Field, Berkeley, Liz Farnum, Pasadena, Calif., Charlotte Ivory and Doris Ethridge.

A novel lake party was given Wednesday at the J. C. O'Neill cabin. The cabin, which is complete with a piano, was the scene of a musical.

Artists for the affair were Madelon Adler, Helen McPetridge, Newport, and Don Hodgman. The selections were from the works of Chopin, Brahms, Ravel and Schubert. Miss McPetridge played and sang her own compositions.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. George Adler and Sheila, Mrs. Claud Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenne's Hodeman, Mrs. Mat Fumigan, Mrs. V. J. Fortune, of Fresno, Calif., Mrs. Neal Stewart, Sara and Angus, Mrs. DeLoe Mills and Marsha, Mrs. Dick Reeder and Andrea, Madelon Adler, Helen McPetridge, Don Hodgman and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Neill.

Bride Feted Recently

Lois Landrum and Donna Tenoski were hostesses at a bridal shower for Mrs. Bill Ledbetter, the former Colleen Schroeder, at the Landrum home Wednesday night.

Games were played and prizes went to Georgianna Clark and Mrs. Leonard Putnam. During the evening refreshments were served to Dolores Rohatock, Georgianna Clark, Jean Lovell, Patty McMillan, Marcella Rand, Mrs. Dick Eastman, Mrs. Leonard Putnam, Collette Schroeder and Joyce Landrum.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. Al Schriber of Tulelake, Dolores Moon, Donna McVey and Cherie Mahan.

WATER BABIES are Charlotte Ivory, Mary Lou Case and Doris Ethridge. The girls spent all last Sunday in and out of the water, and when swimming was too great an exertion the little rubber boat provided a lazy girl's float. Charlotte and her mother are up from Dinuba, Calif., for an entire summer at the lake.

Art Classes Interesting

On a visit up to the OTI art institute the other day, several Klamath people were noted. Britta Lion was taking time out at the coke bar between classes. Britta and her mother returned recently from Carmel, San Francisco and Lake Tahoe. The two-week trip came to an end so that Britta could be back for the beginning of the art classes.

Can't think of a more enjoyable way to receive six college credits than that art course. Up on the old Marine Barracks rifle range Wednesday, the water color sketch class was busy painting views of the landscape. Among the artists seen sitting in the sun were Mrs. Sheldon Brumbaugh and Mrs. B. B. Blomquist.

About fifty host and hostesses gathered at a party Sunday in honor of Mrs. Carrie Brownne and Dean Mitchell. The two were feted with a pre-nuptial party. Engineers of the affair were Mrs. Byron Hardenbrook and Mrs. R. H. Tusdale.

Mrs. Brownne's sister, Mrs. Martha Grooley, was here for the party during her visit. Mrs. Grooley is from Portland.

Back for a visit with her mother, Mrs. H. E. Hauger, is Mrs. William J. Borchert and her daughter, Sandra. The Borcherts are now living in Coos Bay where Bill is a coach. Kay and Sandra plan to spend two more weeks with the Haugers.

Another summer visitor in Klamath Falls is Rosalie Hazard, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Foster. Rosalie has been visiting for some time and will return after a visit after a trip to Portland with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Elbert Stiles and Steve. Rosalie has been having a round of parties during her visit here. She has spent several week-ends at the Lake o' the Woods with young friends, had numerous theater parties, and attended a variety of other gatherings.

The Ellingson families in Klamath have all been playing host and hostess recently. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellingson had as their guest recently Mrs. Ellingson's grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Chamlee, Mrs. Chamlee, who will be eighty on her next birthday, left a few days ago after a three-week visit for Salem. From Salem she will fly home to Los Angeles.

The R. F. Ellingsons have as their guests Mrs. E. O. Ellingson, Mrs. Ellingson's sister, and two children Roberta and David from Lady Smith, Wis., and Miss Luella Ellingson, Mr. Ellingson's sister, from Sheboygan, Wis., where she teaches high school.

Gets rather confusing after while but the final outcome of the relationship above is that the two Mrs. Ellingsons are sisters as well as sisters-in-law.

Sig Ellingson was down for a few days too. Sig and his wife are living in Unity, Ore., where one of the mills is located.

The Don Ellingsons have been entertaining too. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Childs of Hawaii. The Ellingsons took their guests to the lake for a few days. The Childs left Monday for other Oregon spots.

Friends of the L. K. Johnsons are happy to know that they are in town for a short visit. Mr. Johnson was formerly pastor of the Klamath Lutheran church here.

The Johnsons are staying with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murdock. They left for a few days at the Lake o' the Woods during the middle of the week, but they have returned so that Rev. Johnson may be guest speaker at church tomorrow.

Rev. Johnson is pastor of the Lutheran church in La Jolla, Calif., now.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Odell returned Tuesday from Portland where they have been for several weeks. While there the two met several other Klamathites, among them were John Houston, and Mrs. George Ulrich, who was visiting her son, Roland, there.

The Odells were visiting with Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Hamilton while they were in Portland.

Lots of Klamath people have been traveling the Shasta Daylight since its maiden run July 10. Mrs. W. D. Miller and daughter, Marilyn, returned Monday on the Daylight from San Francisco where they spent the week-end visiting Don (Dee) Miller, who is a summer school student at Stanford. Don is a sophomore at the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Pat Moses is visiting this summer with her mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Moses. Pat is still in Eugene where he is attending the University of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Oralapp are on their vacation from Klamath Union high school now. They are spending a week on the Oregon coast near Walport.

Mr. Oralapp is extremely busy in his duties as superintendent of schools where the summer months are just as busy as winter, and he finds it difficult to even find time for a vacation.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cleghorn were their daughter, Elizabeth Cleghorn and three friends, all nurses at Barnes Veteran's hospital, Vancouver, Washington. The visitors are on the last lap of a two-week vacation trip to Glacier and Yellowstone national parks. They came to Klamath Falls Saturday evening, spent Sunday at Crater lake, and left for Vancouver Monday morning.

Another visitor at the Cleghorn home is their grandson, Billy Janz, Portland, who came down by plane to spend several weeks with his grandparents. He will be joined by his family next week. (Continued on Page 6)

MAKING A LANDING in Flitcraft's speedboat are George Flitcraft at the wheel, Skipper Crapo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crapo of San Bernardino, Mrs. Flitcraft, Bill Van Buskirk, the cocker spaniel, Terry, and George Jr.

Vows Read At Merrill

MERRILL—Joan Edith Gersten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gersten of Portland, and Robert Trotman, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Trotman of Merrill, exchanged vows in a simple wedding ceremony Sunday afternoon, July 31, at the Trotman residence.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Hugh Bronson of Tulelake before an improvised altar, which was lighted with tall white tapers, and banked with bouquets of white gladioli and roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white eyellet-embroidered dress over pink taffeta, with a pink sash and a picture hat, also in pink. Her bouquet was of tulipman roses. The bride's only attendant was her sister Nancy, who wore a blue nylon dress, and carried American beauty roses. Mrs. Harman C. Sater, long-time friend of the Trotmans sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Gersten wore a frock of blue crepe for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Trotman, wore blue also. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds. Ronald Trotman was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn, with the newly-weds cutting the first slice of their three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Cliff Shuck, Mrs. Sater, and Dolores Steele presided at the punch bowl. Nancy Gersten passed the guest book, and accordion selections were presented by Ronald Trotman.

For a honeymoon to Banff and Lake Louise in Canada, the new Mrs. Trotman wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories. On their return the young couple will be at home in Merrill.

In addition to the bride's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gersten and Nancy, out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ruth Carson of Portland, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Harman Sater of Seattle.

The young people met at Oregon State college where both were studying pharmacy. Robert was graduated in June, and Joan will return to the university this fall to complete her final year.

Activities To Resume

The Library club will resume its activities in September. The program committee of the organization has been meeting this summer making plans for the fall.

Any woman of this area may join for the year and attend the monthly meetings held on the second Monday of each month at 2 p. m. at the city library.

Some of the highlights of last year's programs were the address by Theodore Kratt, dean of the University of Oregon school of music, the South American program featuring color slides, and the annual Children's Benefit Tea with its Mardi Gras theme.
